Representative Greg Barreto Begins Legislative Career
Cove Legislator Sworn In For First Oregon House Term

Salem, OR – In a ceremony administered by the Chief Justice of the Oregon Supreme Court, Thomas A. Balmer, Representative Greg Barreto (R-Cove) today was officially sworn in as the state legislator for House District 58.

“I’m honored and ready to get to work for the families and businesses of District 58,” said Rep. Barreto. “I’m looking forward to advocating for the communities in my district and using my committee assignments to support our state’s small businesses, protect our farmers and ranchers, and improve education outcomes for our students and families.”

As a member of the 78th Assembly of the Oregon Legislature, Rep. Barreto will serve on the following committees:

- Agriculture and Natural Resources Committee
- Business and Labor Committee
- Education Committee

Rep. Barreto has owned and operated his own business for more than thirty years and plans to use his private sector experience to advocate for the small businesses and communities that make up Oregon’s rural workforce.

Rep. Barreto and his wife Chris reside in Cove and have eight children and four grandchildren. Derry Breden will serve as Rep. Barreto’s Legislative Aide during the 2015 session. House District 58 includes portions of Umatilla County and all of Wallowa and Union Counties.
