There is Still Time to Comment on Sage Grouse Plan
(and corrected BLM email address)

SALEM—Rep. Cliff Bentz (R-Ontario) would like to remind everyone there is still time to send in comments regarding the Oregon Sub-Regional Greater Sage-Grouse Draft Resource Management Plan (RMP).

Last month, the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) held a series of meetings throughout Eastern Oregon regarding the BLM's proposed response to the possible Endangered Species Act listing of the sage grouse. Rep. Bentz strongly encourages those concerned about the future of Eastern Oregon to send their comments and concerns to the BLM.

The draft Environmental Impact Statement is open for public comment through February 20, 2014. Comments can be sent via email at: blm_or_so_gsg_planning_comments@blm.gov, or mailed to:

BLM—Greater Sage-Grouse EIS
1220 SW 3rd Ave.
Portland, OR 97204

The BLM's email address set out above was incorrectly shown on the two previous press releases concerning this issue, so if you submitted your comments by email, please immediately resend those comments to the BLM using the above address.

The full Oregon Sub-Regional Greater Sage-Grouse Draft RMP Amendment/EIS can be found at: <http://www.blm.gov/or/energy/opportunity/sagebrush.php>.
