(2) If, prior to September 1 of each year, an employer has failed to file all required reports and pay all contributions due in that year under section 16 of this 2019 Act, the employer shall pay a penalty equal to one percent of the wages of the employer's employees in the preceding calendar year.

(3)(a) On or before October 20 of each year, the director shall assess the penalty provided in subsection (2) of this section and send written notification of the assessment to the employer's last known address.

The request must contain the specific reasons for the failure to file the required reports or payments prior to September 1.

(5)(a) If the request for waiver of the penalty is denied, the director shall send written notification of the denial to the employer at the employer's last known address. (2)(a) In lieu of a deposit required under subsection (1) of this section, the director may accept a bond or an irrevocable letter of credit issued by an insured institution as defined in ORS 706.008 in a form acceptable to the director to secure payment of contributions to become due to the fund.

(b) The deposit or posting of a bond or letter of credit under paragraph (a) of this subsection shall not relieve the employer of the obligation to make contributions to the fund as provided under section 16 of this 2019 Act.

(c) The director may at any time apply any portion of the deposit, payment on the bond or the proceeds of the letter of credit to the payment of any amounts due from the employer under any provisions of sections 1 to 51 of this 2019 Act.

(3)(a) Except as provided in subsection (4) of this section, any deposit, bond or letter of credit shall be deemed for all purposes to become the sole property of the director and shall be deposited in the fund and held for the sole benefit of the fund.

(b) The deposit, bond or letter of credit shall be prior to all other liens, claims or encumbrances and shall be exempt from any process, attachment, garnishment or execution whatsoever and shall be for the sole benefit of the fund.

(4)(a) If an employer ceases to be an employer subject to sections 1 to 51 of this 2019 Act, such sums as are on deposit in the fund shall first be applied to any amounts due from the employer to the fund under any provisions of sections 1 to 51 of this 2019 Act.

(b) Only upon receipt of all payments due to the fund from an employer described in paragraph (a) of this subsection, the director shall refund to the employer all deposits remaining to the employer's credit in the fund and shall cancel any bond or letter of credit given under this section.

(c) An employer described in paragraph (a) of this subsection shall have no interest in a deposit, bond or letter of credit prior to full compliance with this section and all provisions of sections 1 to 51 of this 2019 Act.

(3)(a) Interest upon any amounts due from an employer shall be paid and collected at the rate of one and one-half percent per month from the date prescribed for the payment to the fund. In computing the interest, a fraction of a month shall be counted as a full month.

(b) Interest shall be paid at the same time contributions are required to be paid by the employer to the fund.

(4) If an employer fails to pay contributions required by section 16 of this 2019 Act at the time prescribed by the director, the employer shall be in default.

(5) If an employer that is in default with respect to payment of contributions fails to make payment within 10 days after written demand has been made by the director, the employer shall be subject to a penalty of 10 percent of the amount of the contributions. A demand for payment shall be deemed to have been made when deposited in the mail addressed to the employer at the employer's last known address of record with the director.

(6) If any part of a deficiency is due to fraud with intent to avoid payment of contributions to the fund, then 50 percent of the total amount of the deficiency, in addition to the deficiency, shall be assessed, collected and paid, in the same manner as if it were a deficiency, and deposited in the fund.

(7) Civil actions brought in the name of the director under this section to collect contributions, interest or penalties from an employer shall be entitled to preference upon the calendar over all civil cases that involve only private parties.

(8)(a) Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, the director may agree to accept from an employer or former employer with a delinquent account any amount the director finds reasonable under the circumstances as consideration in settlement of the full amount of contributions, interest or penalties due if the director finds that:

(9) The director shall file a full and true copy of the record of each settlement agreement with the Secretary of State as a public record.

(10) Any amount agreed to in settlement of the director's claims on behalf of the fund pursuant to subsection (8)(a) of this section shall be first credited to the contributions due from the employer or former employer until the principal amount of contributions due has been satisfied and shall be deposited in the fund.

(2) If an employer, without good cause, fails to file a timely report within the three-year period immediately following a written warning sent pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, the employer may be assessed a late filing penalty in addition to other amounts due.

(3) Except as provided in subsection (4) of this section, a penalty assessed under subsection (2) of this section shall be 0.02 percent of the wages of the employer's employees rounded to the nearest $100.

(b) If the director determines that the employer had good cause for filing the report late, the penalty shall be deleted. If it is determined there was not good cause for filing the report late, the request for deletion shall be denied.

(6)(a) A determination denying the request for deletion is final unless, within 20 days after the date the determination is mailed to the last known address of the employer, the employer files a request for hearing. Written notice of the assessment to the employer shall be mailed to the employer's last known address of record with the director.

Written notice of a deficiency assessment to the employer shall be mailed to the employer's last known address of record with the director.

(4)(a) If the director has reason to believe that an employer or an individual liable under section 25 of this 2019 Act is insolvent, or that the collection of any contributions will be jeopardized by delaying collection, the director may make an immediate assessment of the estimated amount of accrued contributions, noting upon the assessment that it is a jeopardy assessment levied under this subsection, and may proceed to enforce collection immediately.

(b)(A) Interest shall not begin to accrue on contributions collected under paragraph (a) of this subsection until the due date.

(B) Court costs may not be charged against an employer or an individual liable under section 25 of this 2019 Act on any action to enforce collection commenced prior to the due date.

(b) Based on the review, the director shall determine whether the approved plan provides benefits that are equal to or greater than the benefits that would be available to eligible employees under the family and medical leave insurance program established under section 33 of this 2019 Act.

(2) If the director determines that the approved plan does not provide benefits in compliance with requirements under section 43 (2) of this 2019 Act, the director shall terminate the plan and the employer shall be required to make employer contributions and deduct employee contributions in accordance with section 16 of this 2019 Act.

(c) A covered employer may not require an eligible employee to take multiple periods of leave described in ORS 659A.159 (1)(e) concurrently if more than one family member of the employee dies during the one-year period.

Rules adopted by the commissioner under this paragraph shall allow taking of family leave on an intermittent basis or by use of a reduced workweek to the extent permitted by federal law and to the extent that taking family leave on an intermittent basis or by use of a reduced workweek does not result in the loss of an eligible employee's exempt status under the federal Fair Labor Standards Act.

(b) The commissioner shall adopt rules governing when family leave for the purposes described in ORS 659A.159 (1)(e) may be taken to the extent permitted by federal law and to the extent that taking family leave on an intermittent basis does not result in the loss of an eligible employee's exempt status under the federal Fair Labor Standards Act.
