

Citizens Guide V2

Constitutional, Statutory & Rules Complaint Processes

Attorney General Complaints

Attorney General Rosenblum is a statewide elected official answerable to the citizens. Citizens may question why she is unconstitutionally interfering with legislative activities in violation of Or Const Art III Section I separation of powers:

“The powers of the Government shall be divided into three separate branches, the Legislative, the Executive, including the administrative, and the Judicial; and no person charged with official duties under one of these branches, shall exercise any of the functions of another, except as in this Constitution expressly provided.”

How is Ms. Rosenbaum representing Democrat senators in court in violation of ORS 173.135 and the Or Const Art III Sec 1 separation of powers?

Citizens can file an Oregon State Bar complaint against the AG at the links below for violating the separation of powers, representing the Democrats in violation of ORS 173.135, and attempting to representing multiple sides in the same legal matter.

President Wagner Complaints

Per Legislative Counsel, the Senate President is supposed to receive constitutional, statutory and rules complaints from citizens than assign them to the conduct committee or form another special committee. Copies of many complaints are required to be sent to the Secretary of the Senate as well who by rule should distribute the complaint. But rules are not being followed. The Co – Chair for the minority on the conduct committee is Senator Anderson.

Chief Justice Complaints

Chief Justice Meagan Flynn is an elected judge answerable to the citizens. Questions on why the Judge unconstitutionally swore in Floyd Prozanski, or why the courts allow the Attorney General to violate the separation of powers may be addressed to Chief Justice Flynn.

Floyd Prozanski unconstitutionally serving in the Senate while holding and serving as a prosecuting attorney for three cities in deferent branches of government while attempting to be a state senator. Oregon Supreme Court has ruled cannot hold more than one position, and the single position is the first position meaning municipal prosecuting attorney.

District Attorney Complaints

District Attorneys are supposed to uphold the law. DAs were quick to prosecute a state representative for official misconduct. Citizens can email misconduct complaints to their District Attorneys. Citizens should copy their legislators so the DA complaint is known. Providing to the media is an option as well. Elected district attorneys have refused to uphold laws against Democrat legislators to date.
