Speaker in Chair.

The Honorable Tina Kotek, Speaker of the House, delivered the following address:

“Good morning, colleagues. Good to see you. Thank you for placing your trust in me. I take the privilege of being the Speaker of the House very seriously, and I ask for your support and your prayers to help me be a worthy steward of this chamber. I look forward to working with each of you to tackle the responsibilities ahead of us.

“I’ll start briefly with a few thank yous. I want to thank Representative Meek for his wonderful sharing of ‘The Star-Spangled Banner’ this morning. He did it without hesitation in a mask and I really appreciate him doing that, and we are blessed to have his wonderful voice in this chamber.

“I would like to thank Representative Sanchez for the nomination. I’m so honored by it. Thank you, my friend. Thank you.

“I’d also like to thank, specifically, all of the nonpartisan staff who have worked so hard to get the Capitol ready for today. I don’t think any of you will fully understand the work that goes into getting ready for this organizational day, this organizational week. And we are so fortunate to have so many wonderful professionals in this building helping us make today a success. So I want to thank them publicly for all to hear.

“To our new members, I know this isn’t the day you anticipated, but we are so glad that you are here. You should have received your honorary monogrammed journals and business card holders. That has been the tradition for our incoming members. And for all members, I am still working on opening day gifts, so that is coming.

“And I think really most importantly in all the thanks, I want to thank our family and friends who are watching us this morning from afar. While this is a very important day for those of us who are here and taking the oath of office, we know that you are so important to the work we do, and we do not forget you on this important day. For the people that love us and support us day in and day out, thank you. You are part of our public service every day, and we can’t do this work without you. And we are so sad that you’re not here today, but we know you are watching and know you’re with us in spirit. So, thank you to our family and friends.

“This is the fifth time I’m honored to have this job and I am going to go to the opening remarks I’ve made since 2013. I know that Oregonians are listening and expecting a lot from us. They are expecting us to listen well, listen to everyone, and find solutions through respectful debate. And I know we are all up to that task. So to be successful, I have four things to ask of all of you, both our returning members and new members. These are really four important points.

“First, it’s important that we not be afraid to listen to each other. Active listening is an integral part of good policy making.

Second, please don't be afraid to listen to different perspectives because all voices need to be heard in this process. Third, please don't be afraid to engage in robust debates. We must not, we must never, shy away from difficult conversations. And fourth, please don't be afraid to be kind to each other and have respectful conversations, even when the outside world is pushing us to be less than kind to each other.

"The last 10 months have challenged and inspired us in ways we could never have imagined a year ago or in 2019, the last time we were here for organizing. The outbreak of COVID-19; the death of George Floyd and the reinvigorated fight to end systemic racism in our country; the September wildfires that devastated so many of our communities; and, more recently, the events at the U.S. Capitol last week.

"The gravity and intensity of all these moments and all these events really require us to serve this body and our state with as much gratitude, authenticity, vision and perseverance that we can muster. Oregonians are depending on us for our service and our success this legislative session. The challenges we must address are monumental.

"Let's start with the fires. The destruction from the Labor Day wildfires have left so many Oregonians in need of housing and other services and will create ongoing challenges. We must not leave those communities behind. That is why the House will have a specific Wildfire Recovery Committee to make sure that no one is left behind from those fires.

"And of course, there's a pandemic. It is continuing and will continue to claim the lives of too many Oregonians and continue to devastate our economy. The toll this pandemic has caused has fallen disproportionately on our communities of color, only widening the existing public health and economic inequities in our state and our country. I know and have complete faith that the health care champions on this floor and in this body are going to make sure our ongoing response to the pandemic is solid and effective. And we will also have a special subcommittee of our Health Care Committee dedicated to COVID-19. We cannot let up in our fight against the pandemic and to keep each other safe until the emergency has been lifted.

"And for me, and for many of us most importantly, we're in a moment of history where we need to address our racist past in our country, and focus on creating an equitable future for everyone. We must never forget that racism is threaded throughout the state's history and continues to undermine our present. Black people were banned from the state of Oregon. It was in our constitution, and the Oregon Territory itself is land stolen from the Native tribes who had made this region home for centuries. And in more recent times, deliberate policies passed in governments across the state – both at the local and state level – to disinvest and to disaffect families. From red-lining and forced displacement of our Black families, robbed of their assets, it has been very difficult for our Black, Indigenous, and People of Color communities to maintain and thrive in this state. We have done good things here, but it is certainly on the beginning and certainly not enough, and we must never forget and acknowledge that we have much further to go.

"And my friends, it's not just about policing. It's about health care. It's about education. It's about economic development. It's about a state that lifts all to their fullest success, and we have a very specific role in moving forward on an equitable future. And we also must look at this institution. Who sits here, who makes the laws, how we do our process is dependent upon systems that are based in ways to exclude others. That's why we will be having a special committee on Modernizing the People's Legislature, to look at things that have created barriers for the type of representation and type of process that we need to have in the state, if we are to move forward in an equitable fashion. I ask all of you to be engaged in all of these things because I think we have a moral obligation to do so.

"We're here because we want to serve and we're here to solve immense challenges that are facing Oregonians. We're here to support the individuals and families who are hurting so greatly following a year that has tested all of us. And while our divisions are sadly so often on display for the world to see, the common humanity that we have witnessed through these crises, that common humanity that we saw in the wake of tragedy last year, is still here among us. It exists. We must hold onto it and let that guide us.

"And as we strive for true justice and equality in our society, and strive to bridge our existing divisions, I believe each one of us is called to lead with a profound spirit of service that puts people first, their needs first and true justice as our north star as we do our work.

"So, I thank you for your attention this morning. Congratulations on being here today. It is our duty to serve Oregon to the best of our ability and I look forward to taking this journey with you. Thank you very much."

2.20 Rules of the House. Except as modified or rescinded under Rule 2.05, these rules shall be in effect for the entire term of the Eighty-first Legislative Assembly, whether the House is in session or has adjourned sine die.

CONVENING

3.01 Quorum. (1) A quorum of the House is forty members.

(2) If a quorum is present, the House shall proceed to transact its business. If there is no quorum present, a lesser number of members may adjourn from day to day and compel the attendance of absent members.

3.03 Attendance. (1) Except for emergencies, a member shall attend all sessions of the House unless an Excused Absence Request is filed with the Chief Clerk forty-eight (48) hours in advance. All requests for an excused absence will be presumed approved unless the member is otherwise notified by the presiding officer.

(2) A member shall attend all meetings of the committees of the House of which he or she is a member unless excused by a chair.

(3) No member shall be considered excused, however, unless the presiding officer or a chair has announced the excuse at the opening of the House session or committee meeting, or at the earliest possible time thereafter. No excuse may be announced while the House is under a Call of the House.

(4) If the unexcused absence of members prevents the establishment of a quorum, and the House seeks to compel the attendance of absent members as authorized by Article IV, Section 12, of the Oregon Constitution through a Call of the House and a quorum is not established, then a financial penalty of $500.00 for each session day of unexcused absence may be imposed by the Speaker upon any absent member. When issuing a financial penalty to a member under this rule, the Speaker shall announce the member's unexcused absence and articulate their reasoning for that determination.

3.05 Session Hour. Unless otherwise ordered by the presiding officer or a majority of the members present, the regular hour of meeting shall be 11:00 a.m. on the session day as set by an adopted motion. Pursuant to the provisions of House Concurrent Resolution 21 (2021), for the period of time before April 5, 2021, the Speaker may convene a floor session with at least 48 hours' notice if the House adjourns subject to the Call of the Speaker.

3.07 Open Sessions. All deliberations and meetings of the House shall be open to the press and public. The House recognizes that this legislative session is being conducted during a global pandemic in which a novel corona virus has sickened millions of people and taken the lives of at least 300,000 Americans. Because the virus spreads through close personal contact and through the air, the House finds that routine procedures must be modified to preserve health and safety while continuing to satisfy the obligations placed on the Legislative assembly by the Oregon Constitution, including obligations to conduct open deliberations. Accordingly, for this session until circumstances allow a return to historical customs of operation:

(1) All floor sessions and committee meetings must be contemporaneously streamed on the Internet and broadcast on one or more television monitors at a location proximate to the Capitol that is accessible by members of the public, so that the public is able to observe all legislative deliberations.

(2) Any vote cast in a floor or committee vote must be conducted so that the public is able to visually observe and hear, through the means described in subsection (1) of this section, the member casting the vote.

(3) (a) Entry to the Capitol shall be limited to authorized personnel. Accredited representatives of the news media may be physically present in the Capitol during hours that legislative proceedings are taking place. The Speaker of the House and President of the Senate shall prescribe a process for determining if entry to the Capitol should be expanded dependent upon public health conditions. Any changes to chamber rules necessary to implement new entry determinations will follow procedures under House Rule 2.05.

(b) For the purposes of this rule and subject to public health guidance and metrics for Capitol entry and operations, authorized personnel includes: accredited news media, workers contracted with or subcontracted with the Legislature, legislative staff and employees, legislators, Oregon State Police and other law enforcement and safety personnel, officials necessary for the organizing of the legislative session, staff and employees of non-legislative government offices who are tenants of the Capitol.

3.08 Daily Session Length. (1) A session day begins with the initial convening of the House that calendar day and ends with the adjournment of that session. The House shall not meet for more than twelve hours on any session day, excluding time used in recess, unless a majority of those members present vote to suspend this provision.

(2) The convening of a new House floor session after adjournment of a floor session constitutes the beginning of a new session day.

VOTING

3.12 Electronic Roll Call System. The electronic voting system shall be under the control of the presiding officer and shall be operated by the Chief Clerk. The names of the members shall be listed on the electronic roll call board in alphabetical order, except that the name of the Speaker shall be last.

3.15 Roll Call. (1) The electronic voting system shall be used as the roll call to determine the presence of a quorum and/or the presence of members under a Call of the House. Members shall press the "yea" button on their desk or be recognized by the Chief Clerk to record their attendance.

(2) A roll call vote of "yeas" and "nays" shall be taken and recorded on the final passage or adoption of all measures. Except as otherwise provided in these rules, the vote shall be recorded by the electronic voting system.

(3) Upon demand of two members, an oral roll call shall be taken and recorded on any measure that requires more than 31 affirmative votes. The Clerk shall call the roll of the membership, alternating between alphabetical order and reverse alphabetical order. The Speaker's name shall be called last.

(4) If the presiding officer is in doubt on any motion or a division is called for on a motion, a roll call shall be taken and recorded by the electronic voting system on the motion. On all other questions to be voted upon, unless otherwise provided in these rules, the presiding officer may order the "yeas" and "nays" taken by the electronic voting system.

(5) The electronic voting system shall not be used for election of officers.

(6) In the event the electronic voting system is not in operating order when voting on any question, the presiding officer shall order all "yea" and "nay" votes be taken by oral roll call. The Clerk shall call the roll of the membership in alphabetical order. The Speaker's name shall be called last.

(7) The vote of any member that has not been recorded because of malfunction of the electronic voting system shall be entered into the record if that member was within the bar of the House chamber at the time of the vote and attempted to cast their vote at the appropriate time, and the fact of such malfunction is reported to the presiding officer prior to the announcement of the result of the vote.

3.20 Requirements for Voting. (1) Each member within the House chamber as defined in House Rule 1.01(9) when the question is pending, and the member's name is called, shall vote. No member shall be allowed to abstain from voting.

(2) If a member refuses to vote when the member's name is called, the presiding officer shall immediately call for the member's vote a second time. If the member again refuses to vote, the presiding officer shall read subsection (3) of this rule. The presiding officer shall then call for the member to announce the member's vote immediately. If the member fails to vote immediately after this third request, the presiding officer shall state for the record: "The member's failure to vote constitutes an intentional violation of House Rule 3.20, subsection (1) and a high breach of decorum. The Journal shall show that the Representative is censured for the violation; the clerk shall record the Representative's vote on the measure or motion on which the member refused to vote as a 'yea,' and the member may also be subject to other penalties as the House may order."

(3) Any member's refusal to vote, as required by House rules, shall be recorded in the Journal as an intentional violation of Rule 3.20 (1) and a high breach of decorum. The Representative shall be censured; the Clerk shall record the Representative's vote on the measure or motion on which the member refused to vote as a "yea," and the member may also be subject to other penalties as the House may order.

(4) No member, except by unanimous consent, shall be permitted to vote upon any question unless he or she is within the chamber before the electronic voting system is closed. No member shall vote or be allowed to change their vote after the presiding officer announces the result of the roll call by declaring the question has passed or failed to pass.

3.21 Announcement of Conflict of Interest. (1) When involved in an actual or potential conflict of interest, as defined by ORS 244.020, a member shall announce, on the floor or in the committee meeting, the nature of the actual or potential conflict prior to voting on the issue giving rise to the conflict.

(2) The member shall file in writing a statement of the nature of the actual or potential conflict with the Chief Clerk or the committee assistant by 5:00 p.m. the next business day following the vote on the measure. The statement shall be limited to the substance of the oral explanation given on the floor or in committee. The member's announcement of an actual or potential conflict of interest shall be recorded in the Journal or in the committee recording log.

3.26 Electronic Roll Call; Time, Changes. When a vote is taken using the electronic voting system, the presiding officer shall call all of the absent member names before determining that a vote shall be closed and the result declared. After the individual votes have been displayed, and before the result is declared, any member desiring to change his or her vote may request that of the presiding officer. The presiding officer shall direct the Chief Clerk to make the proper entry into the electronic voting system.

3.28 Electronic Roll Call; Misuse, Penalties. No member shall vote for another member using the electronic voting system. No member shall tamper with, alter or attempt to alter the electronic voting system, or cause the electronic voting system to register a vote without the member personally depressing a voting button during each roll call vote. Any member who violates this rule may be punished as determined by the vote of at least 31 members. If a person not a member votes or attempts to vote for any member or violates a provision of this rule, he or she shall be barred from the floor of the House for the remainder of the session, and he or she may be punished further as determined by the vote of at least 31 members.

3.30 Voting by Presiding officer. The Speaker shall vote whenever a roll call is required. The Speaker's name shall be called last on an oral roll call vote.

3.35 Explanation of Vote. (1) Any member who wishes to explain his or her vote shall file the written explanation with the Chief Clerk by 5:00 p.m. the next business day following the vote on the measure. The vote explanation filed under this subsection must comply with subsection (2) of this rule. If the explanation does not meet those requirements in the determination of the Chief Clerk, the Speaker may refuse to cause the explanation to be printed in the Journal. An appeal of the presiding officer's ruling may be taken to the full body at the next floor session pursuant to House Rule 6.35.

(2) The vote explanation shall be germane to the subject and shall not reflect on the honor or integrity of any other member.

3.45 Written Measures Required for Voting. No measure or amendment to a measure shall be finally voted on until it has been made available electronically or printed and placed on the desks of the members.

3.50 Third Reading Requirement. (1) No bill shall pass the House until after third reading and no measure shall be read more than once in any one day.

(2) A bill may be referred or re-referred to committee on third reading.

3.55 Call of the House. (1) Six members may demand a Call of the House at any time before a roll call has begun.

(2) Upon a Call of the House, no other business shall be transacted until the proceedings are so terminated.

(3) Upon a Call of the House, the Sergeant at Arms shall cause all members who are not excused to come to the House chamber. If the Sergeant at Arms cannot locate any unexcused member, the Sergeant at Arms shall so report to the presiding officer, who shall announce the fact to the members.

(4) All members must remain within the House chamber until the vote is taken for which the Call was made. However, when the House is waiting for an unexcused member to return to the floor, or in order to access the facilities, or the presiding officer has announced that the House is "at ease," the members may have access to the area behind the rostrum. Members must then return to within the House chamber.

(5) A Call of the House shall be considered terminated when the question for which the Call was invoked has been voted upon or when a motion to terminate the Call is approved by at least forty members. The motion to terminate the Call shall be in order when the Sergeant at Arms has reported that unexcused members cannot be returned within a reasonable time. Termination of the Call under this subsection terminates the requirement that the Sergeant at Arms search for unexcused members. In the absence of a quorum after the report of the Sergeant at Arms is received, the House may terminate the Call by the unanimous consent of the members present.

(2) A motion to recall a measure shall be acted upon immediately, with debate on the motion but not on the merits of the measure.

(2) The Legislative Counsel shall provide legal advice and opinions to members without approval of the Speaker, or either caucus leader.

Holvey moved adoption of the report by the Special Committee on Rules. On adoption of the report, the vote was: Yeas, 35; Nays, 25 – Bonham, Boshart Davis, Breese-Iverson, Cate, Drazan, Hayden, Hernandez, Leif, Levy, Lewis, Moore-Green, Morgan, Nearman, Noble, Owens, Post, Reschke, Smith DB, Smith G, Stark, Wallan, Weber, Wilde, Wright, Zika. Rules of the House of Representatives for the Eighty-First Legislative Assembly and House Concurrent Resolution 21 adopted.

HCR 21 – Wilde requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“Please accept this vote explanation regarding my ‘no’ vote on the House Rules. My objections are not meant to imply criticism of any member of the leadership personally or of anyone who participated in the Rules discussion. I support the Speaker and appreciate the Speaker Pro Tem’s work on these Rules. My objections to them relate more to how they need to change to accommodate a growing, diverse Oregon by allocating power more broadly to ensure we represent the viewpoints of all Oregonians. In particular -

“1. The proposed Rules appear to allow the complete closure of the Capitol Building. I believe a wiser path, consistent with the Oregon Constitution, would be to allow access to floor debates and votes by a lottery, with the number of observers permitted to be determined by the current public health situation and building capacity.

“2. The Speaker’s authority to reassign members from committees without limitation invites abuse. I believe that a requirement of cause for removal of a member, with the requirement of a written explanation, would be more appropriate.

“3. The Rules continue to allow for the exclusion of member bills from Special Sessions and limitations on the number of bills introduced in the 2022 Regular Session. As I expressed during the Second Special Session, I believe this prevents the exercise of the constitutional duties of a legislator.

“In 26 years of military service, I have seen the problems caused by centralized control. Without sufficient room for diverse viewpoints, the plans and policies developed will only reflect the needs of those privileged voices ‘in the room’. As Oregon becomes more populous and diverse, we must examine the ways in which ‘the way we’ve always done things’ must change to address the needs of all Oregonians.”

The House recessed until 1:30 p.m. on motion of Smith Warner.

Monday, January 11, 2021 -- Afternoon Session

House reconvened at 3:43 p.m. without objection. Speaker in Chair.

Upon verification of quorum: All present except: Absent, 18 – Boshart Davis, Breese-Iverson, Cate, Clem, Drazan, Fahey, Helm, Hernandez, Levy, Morgan, Noble, Reschke, Smith DB, Smith G, Wallan, Wilde, Wright, Zika; Excused, 1 – Witt.

Speaker declared that it was in order to constitute the House Conduct Committee in accordance with Enrolled House Concurrent Resolution 221 from the Second Special Session of the Eightieth Legislative Assembly.

Smith Warner nominated Fahey, Co-Chair, Sanchez and, as Alternates, Lively, Rayfield, and Sollman to represent the Democratic Caucus on the House Committee on Conduct.

Drazan nominated Noble, Co-Chair, Moore-Green and, as Alternates, Stark, Hayden, and Owens to represent the Republican Caucus on the House Committee on Conduct.

Smith Warner moved the nominations be closed for the House Committee on Conduct and the House consider the nominations en bloc immediately. Motion carried, the vote being: Yeas, 54; Nays, 2 – Smith DB, Wilde; Excused, 4 – Clem, Hernandez, Smith G, Witt. Nominations approved en bloc.

Smith DB requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“I work very hard to represent the interest and broad diversity of my constituents within my District. To do this, I continue to learn other points of view, try to understand differing opinions and am committed to a bipartisan effort which I feel provides the best legislation for my constituents and all Oregonians.

“Although extremely difficult for me to vote no on the nominations to the conduct committee, I felt it was the only option. Having the nominations to fill the Conduct Committee ‘en-bloc’ did not allow me to offer a no vote towards Rep. Julie Fahey’s nomination and therefor I was forced to vote no for all members. It is critically important that the Conduct Committee not allow any biases to influence their decisions on matters that come before them. This is the main reason why the Conduct Committee is one of the only Legislative Committees that has equal political party representation. Unfortunately, Rep. Fahey has shown extreme partisanship towards me and fellow Republicans in recent social media posts as well as during a floor speech earlier today while speaking on the motion to adopt the House Rules for the 2021 Session of the 81st Legislative Assembly. Unfortunately, Rep. Fahey’s recent extreme partisanship causing great alarm and concern to be a member of the Conduct Committee, especially holding the position of Co-Chair of the Conduct Committee as her recent actions clearly present her inability to be unbiased during the Conduct Committee process.”

“Nurses and essential workers have been the backbone of the community response to the COVID-19 epidemic. No one can thank them enough for their hard work and sacrifices, even before this life-changing event.

“The issue of staffing levels at facilities around Oregon, however, is one of marketplace forces. We as a state have not invested enough in growing the number of nurses needed to adequately meet our needs. Nor have we adjusted our reciprocal licensure arrangements to attract nurses from other markets. To me, this is the essence of the issues we face.

“Staffing shortages need to be addressed by adding programs at community colleges and growing the number of BIPOC providers, adding incentives to practice in rural areas, and ensuring our workforce in prisons allows for enough time off to rest and be with their families.

“Simply, my no vote is a call to action for the state to step up and be more aggressive about marketplace issues.”

HB 2030 – Reschke requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“I wanted to clarify my NO Vote on HB 2030, held on Oregon’s House Floor (April 9, 2021). HB 2030 states the intent of the legislature is to provide ‘political equity’ to several groups of people in Oregon, but not for all. HB 2030 replaces the term ‘political equality’, found in current statutes, with the term with ‘political equity’.

“There is a fundamental difference between political equality and political equity; it is not a distinction without a difference. During the debate on the House Floor, equity was described as ‘treating people fairly based on their needs and requirements.’ The carrier of the bill stated the goal of HB 2030 was to provide equity in outcomes. The only way a government achieve these ends is to use its power. In other words, the groups mentioned in the bill must be granted an additional privilege or privileges not available to all citizens of Oregon.

“This new privilege of political equity violates Article I, Section 20 of the Oregon Constitution which states:

“Equality of privileges and immunities of citizens. No law shall be passed granting to any citizen or class of citizens privileges, or immunities, which, upon the same terms, shall not equally belong to all citizens.

“In my view, this bill violates the Oregon Constitution. That is the reason for my NO vote.”

“I work very hard to represent the interest and broad diversity of my constituents within my District 9. To do this, I continue to try and understand opinions and am committed to a bipartisan effort which I feel provides the best legislation for my constituents and all Oregonians.

“The intent HB 2155 was to clarify the definition of public and private official relating to organizations providing child-related services and activities. Permits mandatory reporting exemption of victim services providers. I voted no on this bill.

“I firmly believe that no person, public, private or as a provider should have the option to not report child abuse. Child abuse is a severe problem in Oregon and in our country. If we are to protect our children, if are to accept the responsibility to end child abuse, no one, absolutely, no one should be exempt from the mandatory requirement to report child abuse. Any other option is an excuse, and there is no excuse for child abuse, thus no excuse for not reporting the abuse to our children.”

Saturday, April 10, 2021 -- Morning Session

Motion carried on viva voce vote.

HB 2519 – Read third time. Carried by Helm. On passage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 34; Nays, 14 – Boshart Davis, Breese-Iverson, Cate, Drazan, Lewis, Moore-Green, Noble, Owens, Post, Reschke, Sanchez, Stark, Weber, Wright; Excused, 12 – Bonham, Bynum, Clem, Evans, Hayden, Levy, Nearman, Pham, Reynolds, Wallan, Williams, Zika. Bill passed.

HB 2519 – Morgan requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“HB 2519 expands the delivery of cannabis to neighboring jurisdictions. I found myself weighing both sides to a topic that has impacted my community greatly. As a matter of fact, Measure 91 did not pass in Josephine County. My community is almost 50%/50% divided on this topic.

“Of great concern to me was the amount of value that can be delivered: $10,000 to one recipient. In Josephine County, $10,000 can be 4 pounds of marijuana. That is well beyond the consumption of one person. It could easily be traded for 4 pounds of methamphetamine. But it could also be the small amount of processed cannabis for a bed ridden medical patient.

“Why I voted in favor of the bill came down to four reasons. First, I believe strongly in the ability to keep these decisions in the local control of a community. Each city/County must opt in to allow the delivers of marijuana to consumers. Second, I have said I will follow the law and the law currently has a regulated delivery system that counters the black-market delivery that is going unregulated. Third, local pharmacies deliver medicine to patients. There is medicinal cannabis that is delivered to medical patients who are unable to get to the dispensary. And fourth and finally, because the recipient is verified for the lawful ability to purchase.

“These are the reasons I voted in support of HB 2519.”

On parliamentary inquiry, Stark questioned whether increasing speed of the electronically synthesized voice from a speed setting of 2/10 to a speed setting of 3/10 meets the constitutional standards for bills to be read aloud.

Speaker ruled that a 3/10 speed setting does meet the constitutional standard.

Stark, joined by Wallan, appealed the ruling of the Chair.

The decision of the Chair was sustained, the vote being: Yeas, 36; Nays, 19 – Bonham, Boshart Davis, Breese-Iverson, Cate, Hayden, Lewis, Moore-Green, Morgan, Nearman, Noble, Owens, Post, Reschke, Smith DB, Stark, Wallan, Weber, Wright, Zika; Excused, 5 – Drazan, Leif, Levy, Rayfield, Ruiz.

On parliamentary inquiry, Stark questioned whether it is appropriate for an electronic reading device to read the bills as opposed to a person.

Speaker ruled that an electronic reading device is appropriate, citing an opinion received from Legislative Counsel dated March 24, 2021 and distributing that opinion to members:

“... We believe it likely that use of computer technology to have an electronically synthesized voice read bills to members in the legislative chamber is sufficient to satisfy constitutional reading requirements, provided the computer technology ‘reads’ a legislative measure at a speed that would be a normal pace for a human reader and the enunciation and accuracy of the computer technology is sufficient for an ordinary listener in the legislative chamber to comprehend what is being read.”

Based on the above opinion, Speaker ruled that an electronic reading device is sufficient to satisfy the constitutional reading requirements.

HB 2954 – Smith DB requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“It was a difficult decision to vote no on HB 2954. I joined my four other colleagues in this no vote with the hope that it flags the issues discussed for the Senate, so that the needed change can occur there, and the amended bill can come back for concurrence. I would encourage everyone to look at the Minority Report filed by the Minority Party and the very simple change from 3% to 4%.

“If this Covid Pandemic has taught us anything within the learning spectrum is that our kids need to have the choice. Our students need to have the ability to learn virtually. Currently, virtual charter students are 3.9% of the total. The Minority Report would allow that level of access to remain at 4%. The base bill will take it down to and set it at 3%.

“Finally and for more information, I would encourage individuals to watch the House Floor debate on the Minority Report and base bill.”

HB 2965 – Kotek requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“I support funding public health modernization. Our public health infrastructure has been tested during the ongoing pandemic and now, more than ever, the legislature has a moment to fully recognize the importance of the often unseen and essential public health system in this state. After careful consideration of HB 2965, I decided to vote no for two reasons:

- First, the planning requirements are due by 2023. The legislature still has time to act and therefore, passage of HB 2965 is not urgent and broad authority is given to the Oregon Health Authority in statute to modify planning requirements.
- Second, pushing back planning dates by two full years hinders the momentum gained over this past year to push for the funding needed to fully implement these plans.”

HB 2969 (A-Engrossed) – Williams requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

"I am writing to create a record of my hesitation with regard to supporting House Bill 2969. I am in total agreement with the goals of the bill -- to improve oral health education and care for Oregon students -- and I feel that my vote in favor of the measure was correct. However, I urge my colleagues to remember their willingness to support this policy when the time comes to fund the implementation of this policy.

"This legislative body has a rich history of passing policies that would improve the lives of Oregonians, but then never providing the funding needed to fully and effectively implement those policies. House Bill 2969 presents another opportunity for such an unfunded mandate: because the oral health education it calls for would not be required in schools until the 2025-26 school year, there is no fiscal impact on the Oregon Department of Education in the current biennium, and the impacts on school districts were not reflected in the fiscal impact statement for the bill.

"As a long-time advocate for public schools, I have promised my friends and family members who work in public schools that I will push back against unfunded mandates whenever I come across them in my role as a state legislator. In this spirit, I would like to highlight that school districts already face significant standards, performance indicators, and curriculum mandates, and can't simply take on additional educational responsibilities without incurring some cost. When the Oregon legislature hands down policy mandates, we must commit to funding them concurrently, or expect that these policy changes may never be effectively implemented. Delayed implementation dates and a two-year budget cycle allow us to claim political victories while deferring financial challenges, and create an unfunded mandate which most districts can't fulfill. Not only school districts, but also local governments, and other public providers of important services suffer as a result of this frustrating dynamic.

"I am proud to have supported the policy goals in HB 2969, but I call on all legislators -- my colleagues currently in office, my future colleagues who have not yet been elected, and my eventual successor -- to support concurrent funding of these mandates with the same enthusiasm that they supported the policy itself."

HJM 6 – Williams requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“I am writing to explain my vote against House Joint Memorial 6, following my earlier vote in favor of the measure in the House Committee on Agriculture and Natural Resources. I made that earlier vote despite some reservations I had about the measure, as a courtesy to a colleague who encouraged me to allow for the Memorial to have a floor debate.

“On the floor, I could not support the measure. It is my understanding that this body’s Joint Memorials, when sent to Congress for consideration in federal lawmaking, rarely get much attention from those federal legislators. If we hope to influence Congress’s decision-making around a complex area of policy such as wildfire management, we should share a more comprehensive vision of potential areas of reform than what this Joint Memorial provides. This measure focuses exclusively on logging – ‘cooperative fuel load management’ -- as a solution to the challenges around fire preparation and management. While managing the fuel load is certainly part of a comprehensive response, plenty more should be included if we want Congress to heed our call to action. I am hesitant to support any Memorial that doesn’t talk about Good Neighbor Agreements, sheriff stewardships, coordination of different management strategies across diverse properties, and others among the myriad ideas needed for a real solution to this ongoing crisis.

“I remain committed to addressing the threat that wildfires pose to our communities, and will happily urge our federal delegation to do the same on a national level. This Memorial, though, did not provide the means to address that threat, and I voted against it.”

Bill passed.

SB 554 (B-Engrossed) – Evans requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“Senate Bill 554B is a well-intentioned but unfortunately inherently flawed measure. I believe the Supreme Court of the United States of America will determine that a part, parts, and/or the whole of this measure as sent to us today, to be offensive to the Oregon Constitution and, perhaps, the US Constitution.

“As we all know, the language of another measure, House Bill 2510, has now been ‘stuffed’ into Senate Bill 554B. That bill sought to implement a thoughtful approach for firearms safety and storage. I had intended to support House Bill 2510 as it was originally sent to the Floor of the Oregon House of Representatives because it met the three tests I apply for all firearms violence reduction measures: 1) Is it rational? 2) Is it reasonable? And 3) Is it responsible?

“At some point, for some unknown reasons, a decision was made to merge HB 2510 and SB 554. While this decision may be deemed a strategic necessity for some reason, all I know for sure is that the language inserted made my support inconceivable.

“My record of taking hard but necessary votes is well-known. Over the past four Legislative Sessions, I have supported many firearms violence reduction measures, including a few that passed the Oregon House of Representatives only to promptly die upon arrival in the Oregon State Senate.

“However, I believe in a traditional understanding of the hierarchy of law. Our Oregon and US Constitutions are the foundation for the statutory frameworks we build to fulfill our duties as stewards of the public trust. Administrative rules are then fashioned onto statutes to provide agencies with the necessary details to implement policies.

“The Oregon Constitution clearly outlines a specific individual right to bear arms for self-defense separate and distinct from traditional ‘militia’ associations. It states (Article I. Section 27 Right to bear arms; military subordinate to civil power), ‘The people shall have the right to bear arms for the defense [sic] of themselves, and the State, but the Military should be kept in strict subordination of the civil power[.]’

“Senate Bill 554B fails the reasonableness test. As drafted, it effectively prohibits a reasonable expectation and/or opportunity for self-defense from use of a firearm for citizens holding a Concealed Handgun License (CHL) a license that requires both a demonstration of legitimate possession/ownership above the standard for citizens without a CHL, and a demonstrated knowledge/mastery of a firearm.

“As drafted, SB 554B now denies the exercise of a right of citizens writ large when inside buildings identified through the statutory authorities outlined in the measure’s language.

“Instead of prohibiting people who may or may not have a legitimate right to a firearm when in buildings outlined by the measure (as demonstrated by an absence of an on-the-spot demonstration of holding a current CHL), this bill denies rights to all citizens regardless of background, experience, and/or legal standing. This bill expressly grants the authority to disregard CHL possession.

“While the safety and storage sections of the bill could help prevent accidental discharges (especially among children), and the intentions by the sponsors of HB 2510 are admirable, this measure knowingly denies firearms access to people who have a demonstrated right to self-defense.

“Accordingly, this measure does not warrant passage in its current form. We can do better, and we must insist upon it.”

“I voted in favor of SB 282A because it was a compromise. I believe we must begin to prepare for the end of the COVID-19 Pandemic realities. I believe we must do our best over the coming months to accelerate individual resilience in a world beyond this extraordinary time.

“There will be an end to rent stabilization and subsidies based upon COVID-19 impacts. I do not believe I could, or would, support an extension of the ‘grace period’ (moratorium) beyond the February 28, 2022, sunset included in the text of SB 282A. However, for now, we must continue targeted assistance through measures such as this.”

SB 712 – Sollman requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“The Higher Education Coordinating Commission has, for years, been a high-functioning body with broad experience. As stated in testimony, and in many letters provided for the record, the group of voting and non-voting members have a history of consensus-building and a record of extremely high-quality, collaborative work. Non-voting members have taken part in subcommittee work and added value to the conversation and decision-making of the HECC for many years now. This change was not brought forward to address upheaval or disagreement. I was concerned with adding six voting members to the commission, making it a fifteen-member board. I am supportive of adding the graduate student to the Higher Education Coordinating Commission as a non-voting member.

“According to the Association of Governing Board of Universities and Colleges State Policy Brief, adding key internal stakeholders, namely faculty, staff and alumni is not recommended at this level. It states that by doing so, it can fail to fully meet the test of true-citizen-based governance. Staff and student representation can be found at the Board of Trustees level of governance at each of the public colleges and universities.

“As I reflect on my time as a school board member in the Hillsboro School District, I know we were prohibited from having employees, classified and certified, from serving as school board members due to state policy. Staff does have the ability to serve on councils at the school level and are part of many committees to provide perspective, knowledge and voice as vested stakeholders.

“I appreciate the intent of this bill, have had multiple conversations with the advocates and have been clear with my position on this bill. I continue to share the value that the interested parties mentioned in this bill have a seat at the table. Their voice and perspective must continue to be heard as part of the larger body of work being done by HECC.”

SB 39 (B-Engrossed) – Read third time. Carried by Schouten. On passage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 59; Excused for Business of the House, 1 – Morgan. Bill passed.

SB 59 (A-Engrossed) – Read third time. Carried by Reardon. On passage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 43; Nays, 17 – Bonham, Hayden, Leif, Levy, Lewis, Moore-Green, Morgan, Noble, Owens, Reschke, Smith DB, Smith G, Wallan, Weber, Witt, Wright, Zika. Bill passed.

“Today I voted in support of HB 2001A because I believe Oregon must make structural adjustments to ensure we become a more open, thoughtful, and understanding community. As a career educator, I believe this bill can be used for positive outcomes.

“I want to clarify that I support this bill, knowing it pushes the boundaries of collectively bargained agreements. And while I will stand for this bill today, I am not supportive of any further reduction of earned security for career educators who have spent their lifetimes serving students, families, and our larger community of interests.

“The negotiated compromise may yield a better Oregon, and it is for that reason only that I voted for HB 2001A.”

SB 317 (A-Engrossed) – Sollman requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“The hospitality industry, and our restaurants more directly, have suffered greatly through the effects of this pandemic. Open. Close. Indoor. Outdoor. Take-out. I’ve heard from restaurant owners in House District 30 about their difficulties navigating the myriad of restrictions and options available to try and survive through this pandemic. I appreciate the efforts of my colleagues to look for ways to provide relief to the restaurant industry, especially hit hardest in their district, I just don’t think that Senate Bill 317 will move the dial as much as needed. I voted no for several reasons. I was concerned over the possible unintended consequences and bill's reliance on cocktails-to-go being the answer to a restaurant's financial distress.

"The COVID-19 pandemic and the resulting economic recession have negatively affected many people's mental health. 53% of adults in the United States have reported that the pandemic has negatively affected their mental health. Symptoms of anxiety disorder, depression and thoughts of suicide have increased considerably. I voted no because making alcohol more easily available to Oregonians already suffering through isolation and job losses is not the right move. According to the Oregon Alcohol and Drug Policy Commission, Oregon has some of the highest substance use disorder rates in the country, and the most common disorder in our State is an alcohol use disorder. Alcohol use is the third leading cause of preventable deaths in Oregon—about 2,000 of our neighbors, colleagues, friends, and family members die each year from alcohol-related causes. Also, OHA and ECO Northwest recently released a report that found the cost to Oregon in 2019 of excessive drinking was $4.8 billion. That's an amount that is equivalent to the annual revenue in 2019 of corporations such as American Express, Best Buy, and Delta Airlines.

"I held a restaurant roundtable in my district and restaurant owners in House District 30 have told me this is not what they needed to keep their business open. They desperately needed support from the state in the form of unemployment insurance relief. They said they needed help with fast, reliable testing and PPE to cover their business and employees. They said they needed access to grants and loans to help them get by. Cocktails-to-go was not the answer to them financially, especially when third party delivery charges continue to eat into their profits with every delivery made.

"We must consider with each of these bills that we pass, the full impact that more access to alcohol can bring to the issue of substance use disorder in a state that has a poor record on dealing with it now. Oregonians need help now and our economy will be better for it too."

SB 101 (A-Engrossed) – Dexter requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“I voted ‘aye’ on Senate Bill 101 because I was assured that the change in grant distribution would not affect our middle class National Guards. However, I have concerns on this front. Grant eligibility and awarded amount will be decided before, and without consideration of, federal Pell grants. From my understanding, Pell grants are not available to middle class folks because they are for those with exceptional financial need. Our middle class service members do not qualify for need based grants, nor can they afford the tuition of higher education out of pocket. While I wholeheartedly support making education affordable for those who seek it, I am concerned about the equity of this formula. Although I voted ‘aye’ on SB 101, I am concerned about the equity of grant distribution for the middle class.

“Another aspect of this legislation that gives me pause is giving the Higher Education Coordinating Commission the ability to change eligibility requirements and grant amounts based on the availability of funding. They say this is to achieve more equitable distribution. I am concerned that the grant program, critical to the education of our guardsmen and women, will be on the front line of budget cuts.”

Bill passed.

SB 5514 (A-Engrossed) – Smith DB requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“I voted no on SB 5514, the State Education Budget Bill, because as a member of the House Education Committee I signed a bipartisan letter on June 1st advocating to fully fund Education at $9.6 Billion dollars rather than the $9.3 Billion in this bill. During the debate of SB 5514, Rep. Greg Smith motioned to move the bill back to the Joint Committee on Ways & Means to fully fund education with an additional $300 Million. Unfortunately, the Democrat members that signed the letter with me, did not support the motioned to re-refer.

“With record revenues, the former passage of the Student Success Act, CARES Act and ARPA relief, we have the resources to invest in our students, as they finally return to in person instruction. I have and will continue to advocate for fully funding our education in Oregon. With my no vote, I hope the Senate has a better opportunity to move the bill back to Ways & Means, so that we can add the additional $300 million and fully fund education for our youth.”

SB 5514 (A-Engrossed) – Weber requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“As I said on the House Floor, when I was asking the people of rural Northwest Oregon to choose me as their representatives, I promised to fight to ensure that public education was fully funded. This bill does not fully fund public education.

“As a board member for the Tillamook Education Foundation, I have watched as teachers have had to ask our foundation to help them provide basic supply needs. Just this last year we were asked for $671 for white boards and books, $800 for art supplies, $840 for chairs, $189 for math supplies. That’s only a few of the requests. The fact that our teachers still need to come to a private foundation to ask for basic supplies shows us that, despite a shocking amount of revenue in state coffers, the State of Oregon seems comfortable underfunding public schools.

“This past year, teachers were asked to do more than they should ever be asked to do, and the 2021/2022 school year will still require a large amount of investments to ensure student safety and success. Given the record revenue available to us, and the immense need to help students and teachers make up for lost educational opportunity, there is absolutely no reason why we should not be fully funding education at the rate that teachers, school districts and administrators have requested. For that reason, I cast a “nay” vote on SB5514.”

“Senate Bill 2 was the subject of significant discussion in the House Committee on Health Care. It came to the work session with a -1 amendment which significantly altered the version of the bill that passed out of the Senate, making it far narrower in scope and more acceptable to several members of the committee. I voted ‘no’ in committee on the amended bill and did so again on the Floor due to the concerns I have around legislating medical care.

“As someone who understands, through my training and practice as a physician, the rigorous thought, research and collaborative decision-making by experts in the related areas that goes into our FDA and U.S. Preventive Services Task Force care recommendations, I have trust in these bodies and I believe that our legislature should remain disciplined and refrain from making statute that inserts itself between a clinician and their patient and potentially ignores the determinations of these bodies. If proton beam therapy has been proven to be the best possible care for patients through rigorous study, it will become broadly available through insurance coverage, even if extremely expensive. My understanding, after significant discussion with advocates as well as many community radiation oncologists who reached out to me, is that this bill is unnecessary and potentially harmful. Currently this therapy is not broadly available as studies have not shown it to be more effective. Certainly the medical delivery system will make proton beam therapy more available when and if it is proven to be a safe and more effective option for the treatment of prostate cancer.

“Currently proton beam therapy costs at least 75% more than standard care and therefore this bill may lead us to give unproven care for far more money. Our goal, and indeed, our duty in this body, is to use our healthcare resources wisely so that we may offer care to as many people as possible. About 1 in 6 men will develop prostate cancer in his lifetime, and it’s most common in men older than 65. Increasing access to significantly more expensive care for no proven additional benefit may lead to an irresponsible use of our precious healthcare funding resources.

“As a legislator, I understand the duty we have to protect the health and safety of Oregonians, and indeed, I believe we at times must insert ourselves, when appropriate access to care may be impeded that could be most effectively resolved with statutory action.

“The questions I had to grapple with on SB 2, based on the above, were:

1. Was this action potentially going to interfere with the clinician-patient relationship? My answer was yes.
2. Does this improve the health and/or safety of Oregonians? My answer was no.
3. Does this law unnecessarily increase costs for delivery of healthcare without sufficient benefit to warrant the cost? My answer was yes, that is very possible.

“Passing this legislation sets a precedent that I am uncomfortable with and despite the relatively benign, narrow impact, I believe on principle we should refrain from taking action in this area and that it may take us down a slippery slope towards further, potentially questionable action. Proton beam therapy is extremely expensive without superior outcomes, minimally available as a result of lack of definitive benefit and may have inferior outcomes to other, FDA approved, therapies. We should focus on making care higher quality and more affordable. I am not convinced that proton beam therapy does either.”

Bill passed.

SB 580 (A-Engrossed) – Reardon requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“I would like to explain my reason for voting no SB 580. As I will explain, this bill increases costs, may require the elimination of effective programs, and may not actually achieve the goal of smaller classes.

“I taught high school until 2012 when I ran for the office of state representative. During my last year teaching, I saw my woodworking class balloon to 40 students in a shop designed for 25 at the most. Since then, I’ve visited elementary classes with well over 30 students and I know we have all heard the stories from our teachers who are stretched thin by the adjustments over the last year and the overwhelming challenges they face each day.

“We absolutely are in a crisis. But it’s not a crisis caused by school boards making poor, uninformed decisions. No. School board members, as unpaid, elected community members -- many of whom are former educators, district alumni or motivated parents -- put students first in their decision-making. And they must consider the teachers, classified staff, facilities, administrators, parents and taxpayers when doing so.

“I know that we often think through issues in abstracts but let us consider what this will look like for a district like David Douglas. David Douglas is

- A majority-minority district, with only 37% of students designated as white;
- A linguistically diverse district with over 65 different languages being spoken at home;
- Has a free/reduced lunch average over 70%; and
- Is a Title I district, serving all Title I schools except for its high schools.

“School boards require flexibility to provide comprehensive education programs, meet students where they are physically, mentally and intellectually and be attuned to parent and community needs. And of course, they must maintain high employment standards. School boards don’t have the luxury of putting one interest group above the other.

“I am convinced that SB580 changes the dynamics of the bargaining process and puts one issue – class size -- ahead of all others. Those of you who profess to believe in local control, who trust the voters who elected their school board members, should oppose this bill.

“I mentioned that I was a high school teacher. I also served as a school board member at David Douglas for 10 years, during which time I was on the contract bargaining team. I remember very well that much of the discussion had to do with first getting agreement about the size of the pie, and then how the pie should be divided. There are limits to any budget and that tough decisions have to be made.

“Usually there are two things needed to decrease class size: Funding to pay the additional educators, and classrooms to put them in.

“Personnel costs account for 80% of the budget, leaving 20% for things like transportation, school meals, supplies, operational costs, capital improvements and special programs.

“I don’t believe there is a school district in this state that believes that large class sizes benefit their students. If districts had the funding for additional staff, or space for additional classes, they would have already used them.

“With SB 580, unions will be positioned to drive the class size discussion during bargaining. When this happens, districts like David Douglas will, in all likelihood, be forced into paying premiums for each student over a determined student-teacher ratio. The cost of the premium pay will require a reduction somewhere else in the budget. Ultimately, David Douglas could be forced to cut programs that meet the needs of their students. So, if you have to make one part of the pie larger, how might some of the other parts be sliced smaller, or cut completely?

“There might possibly be reductions to a program providing early learning opportunities through free preschool in three elementary schools district wide, that the District had hoped to expand;

“Or it could be to the bi-lingual elementary education program focused on minority enrollment;

“They could have to cut the culturally and linguistically diverse educator pipeline program that helps classified staff obtain teaching degrees and certification;

“Or perhaps, they could eliminate the need-based classroom assistant program that supports students who need additional help.

“I have just given four, very real options from a current school board member at David Douglas. These are all examples of programs that are good for kids and have been discussed in the House Education committee and on this floor. So, do you really want to force school boards to cut programs such as these? Which would you choose to cut?

“David Douglas has worked for years to focus on equity in schools and to close the achievement gap, establishing several programs to tackle these issues from multiple perspectives.

“So why do I worry about mandatory bargaining for class size? While the David Douglas district was implementing programs to address the real needs of their students, the Portland Public School District bargained for an overage payment for educators teaching to larger class sizes. So, the teacher-student ratio remains unchanged, but the teacher gets more pay.

“I’m not saying that the teacher doesn’t deserve the bonus pay; but I would say it’s an example of paying more money for the same outcome. Remember the students? Are they any better served when their teacher gets a raise?

“Reporting by The Oregonian showed that, overwhelmingly, these overage payments went to teachers serving the historically best-served students. Because districts already know to concentrate students needing more attention and specialized instruction in smaller classes, and that high-performing students with affluent families can still succeed in larger classes.

“It is the teacher of those larger classes that receive additional pay, not the teacher with a smaller class of high-needs students.

“I don’t mean to be flippant, but I want to be clear: this is not a labor issue. This is an education issue; this is a school district values issue.

“Finally, I believe that SB 580 takes attention off of our biggest challenge: Safely reopening schools. Most Oregonians have gone without any in-person schooling for about a year. The ongoing pandemic and safety procedures have caused our elected school board members, volunteers dedicated to our students’ wellbeing, to become public health experts practically overnight. This is not the time to complicate bargaining agreements.

“I just want to share one last thing with you, the Fiscal Analysis from the Legislative Fiscal Office. If you’re not persuaded by my view, please consider this:

“Analysis: The measure amends the definition of “employment relations” to include class size and caseload limits as mandatory collective bargaining subjects for school districts. The -4 amendment restricts when class size can be included in the definition of ‘employment relations’ to those schools qualifying for federal Title I funding. Qualifying for Title I is based on individual schools so districts may have some Title I schools while others are not. ODE states that currently, 744 of the total 1200 schools qualify as Title I schools in Oregon. School districts indicate that making class size and caseload limits could result in smaller class sizes which in turn would require hiring more teachers -- potentially create physical class space problems and schedule issues. One large School District indicated that lowering class sizes by one student may require the recruitment, hiring, and training of an additional 60 licensed staff across a range of content areas.

“Because the outcomes of future bargaining are unknown, the fiscal impact of this measure on School Districts is indeterminate. There is no fiscal impact on the Oregon Department of Education’s operations.

“This bill does not have an immediate fiscal impact, but it will have considerable fiscal implications in future biennia.

“Resources will always be scarce, and no solution will be perfect for every district across the State. Let’s not tie districts’ hands, but support our school districts and work collaboratively to address the layered and multidimensional issues facing our state’s education system.

“This is one of the most difficult votes I’ve had to give. I certainly have nothing to gain by opposing this bill. But as one who’s been deeply committed to all levels of education in multiple ways for decades, I simply must advocate for what I believe to be the best policy.”

SB 580 (A-Engrossed) – Sollman requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“I am aware of the challenges that exist in our classrooms. As a former eight-year Hillsboro School District School Board Member, a 20+ year active volunteer in the classroom and currently a mom of two teachers, I am very aware. This concept garnered a lot of conversation throughout this session and the amendment brought OSBA and COSA in support of the bill and is a solid compromise. I still have some reservations on what this could look like in school districts, but support the amended version that focuses on equity and Title 1 schools, as the focus will be on schools that need to deliver extra supports to students.

“My support does not come without my reservations though. SB 580 does not come with funding for more teachers, it does not address potential impacts to facility needs and it does not guarantee that, even if bargained, it reduces class size at all. As a former school board member my responsibility along with six other board members was to adopt an operating budget for the 4th largest school district in Oregon. There were very tough decisions to make when the budget cuts ran deep. Our choices were usually in days on the school calendar or personnel, both equally devastating options. Approximately 86% of the Hillsboro School Board budget is personnel. One example of what Portland Public Schools did about class size, they provided a stipend to teachers that had larger classrooms. Parents did not see smaller classrooms in those situations with that agreement and I can only guess that it did not solve their concern for more individualized learning opportunities for their children. SB 580 is not a one-size fits all solution, which actually can be a good thing. Data speaks to class size making a difference in certain situations, but maybe not all situations or types of classes, even taking into consideration of the age/grade of students.

“We must have stable and consistent funding to build a sustainable and strong school system in Oregon. We need to support and retain our amazing educators across this state. Our students in our Title 1 schools need extra support for the barriers that have been placed in front of them and if this bill can work to break down those barriers and improve opportunity for those students, I am keeping an open mind.”

HB 3109 (B-Engrossed) – Williams requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“I am writing to explain my vote against the Senate’s amendments to House Bill 3109, following my earlier sponsorship of that measure in its unamended form.

“I have been a passionate advocate for changes to the law to make childcare access easier for Oregonians, to reduce barriers for rural families to find affordable care, and for funding to help establish additional child care providers in rural communities. Indeed, I have directed a large amount of American Rescue Plan funding toward the provision of child care on the Hood River campus of the Columbia Gorge Community College.

“Earlier in the legislative session, I was excited to hear that my colleague was drafting a bill to allow child care facilities within commercial and industrial zones. I cosponsored that measure in the hopes that it would increase the availability of childcare for people in the communities I represent. During House Bill 3109’s brief time in the Senate, though, the Senate Committee on Education made a massive amendment without consulting House sponsors of the measure: HB 3109 became a bill to allow child care facilities to be placed on land designated for exclusive farm use (EFU).

“I am not entirely averse to allowing limited non-farm uses on EFU lands, but these are not insignificant changes to the state’s land use laws. Any such change must be thoroughly vetted to prevent unintended consequences. That process was not pursued here: members of the House Committee on Agriculture and Natural Resources, which first passed the bill and on which I sit, were not consulted. Hence, even with my continuing commitment to improve access to child care in rural Oregon, I was compelled to vote no when asked to concur in the Senate’s amendment to HB 3109.”

SB 197 (B-Engrossed) – Boshart Davis requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“I believe that Oregon students, whether they attend public or private schools, have the right to learn in an environment where they are safe. No student should be exposed to domestic violence or sexual harassment, especially at school. As a parent, this matter is personal for me. My children attend private, faith-based schools. I am continually impressed at the lengths to which the administrators and staff go to ensure my children achieve their academic potential in a safe learning environment. Simply put, private, faith-based education providers strengthen Oregon’s education system.

“After participating in the discussion and amendment process surrounding Senate Bill 197, I have voted ‘yes’ on the bill. I have done so after making it clear during public hearings on this bill that the autonomy of private schools, particularly faith-based schools, must be preserved. Parents of faith should be free to have their children educated in an environment that aligns with their values, and without unwarranted government influence. Any attempt by the Legislature to subject private schools to standards or regulations that have a disparate impact or impose an undue burden on private schools would be discriminatory and violate the promise of the Constitution of the United States, which provides for the ‘free exercise’ of the religious beliefs of each and every American.

“Recognizing the autonomy of private schools, Senate Bill 197 has been amended to empower private schools with discretion in creating posters for display that provide students with resources in preventing or ending domestic violence in their own lives. I also want to clarify that under SB 197B, Section 2(2)(b), private, faith-based schools have the discretion to determine what constitutes age-appropriate education about teen dating violence and domestic violence. These schools must have the latitude to craft a policy that is culturally responsive to their values and that of the families they serve.

“To summarize, I voted for Senate Bill 197 with the understanding that in no way, shape, or form, is it the intent of the bill to infringe on the rights of Oregon parents to have their children educated in an environment that aligns with their faith or to impose an undue burden on Oregon’s private schools.”

House Resolution 3

Sponsored by Representatives KOTEK, HOLVEY

“Whereas Article IV, sections 11 and 15, of the Oregon Constitution, direct the House of Representatives to determine its own rules of proceeding and to discipline its members; and

“Whereas the House of Representatives adopted rules of proceeding when it convened in organizational session on January 11, 2021; and

“Whereas House Rule 3.07 is among the rules adopted by the House of Representatives during its organizational session; and

“Whereas House Rule 3.07 was also in effect for the three special sessions conducted in 2020, including the special session held on December 21, 2020; and

“Whereas House Rule 3.07 establishes safety and entrance protocols for the State Capitol building; and

“Whereas these safety and entrance protocols were adopted by the House of Representatives to combat a novel coronavirus pandemic that, as of the date of this resolution, has taken the lives of more than 2,600 Oregonians and more than 590,000 Americans and that has sickened millions; and

“Whereas House Rule 3.07 and other legislative rules limit entry to the Capitol to authorized personnel in order to minimize the risk of transmission of the virus; and

“Whereas the Legislative Assembly was scheduled to convene in special session on December 21, 2020; and

“Whereas on December 16, 2020, a video was posted on an online website that shows Representative Mike Nearman describing a scenario where demonstrators could break into the Capitol and obtain unauthorized access to the Capitol with assistance from someone already inside the Capitol; and

“Whereas, in describing this scenario, Representative Nearman supplied a cell phone number and instructions on where to stand and what to text in order to obtain entrance to the Capitol; and

“Whereas the cell phone number Representative Nearman supplied was his own; and

“Whereas on December 20, 2020, a group named Patriot Prayer posted a sign on its Twitter account calling for a demonstration at the Capitol the next day and stating, in relevant part, ‘WE NEED TO HAVE 1,000 PEOPLE THERE AND MAKE OUR VOICES HEARD!!! NONPERMITTED FLASH MOB!!!’; and

“Whereas on December 21, 2020, Capitol security camera video footage shows Representative Nearman opening a locked exterior door of the Capitol while the House was in session and exiting the Capitol; and

“Whereas the security camera video footage shows that when Representative Nearman exited, he pushed the door open and stepped around a demonstrator, who rushed past him into the building, followed closely by a second demonstrator who held the door open for numerous other demonstrators, who also rushed in; and

“Whereas none of the demonstrators were authorized personnel under House Rule 3.07 and therefore the demonstrators’ breach of the doorway and occupancy of the Capitol was a violation of House Rule 3.07; and

“Whereas the demonstrators were heard chanting ‘enemies of the state’ and ‘arrest Kate Brown’ inside the building; and

“Whereas law enforcement officers attempted to push the demonstrators out of the Capitol, but demonstrators repeatedly dispersed chemical irritants against the officers before officers were able to regain control and repel the demonstrators; and

“Whereas demonstrators damaged Capitol property prior to and during the confrontation with law enforcement; and

“Whereas authorized personnel present in the Capitol described the events as ‘intense and stressful,’ ‘terrifying’ and ‘distressing’; and

“Whereas law enforcement officers were visibly injured and shaken due to the demonstrators’ actions; and

“Whereas an independent investigator unaffiliated with the legislative branch conducted an investigation of the conduct of Representative Nearman on December 21, 2020; and

“Whereas the investigator reviewed security camera video footage and other relevant documentation, interviewed eight impacted parties and sought to interview Representative Nearman, who declined to be interviewed; and

“Whereas the independent investigator determined that it is more likely than not that Representative Nearman intentionally aided demonstrators in breaching Capitol security and gaining unauthorized access to the Capitol, leading to injury and property destruction; and

“Whereas Representative Nearman was arraigned on two misdemeanor charges stemming from his actions on December 21, 2020; and

“Whereas the criminal prosecution against Representative Nearman is ongoing; and

“Whereas Article IV, section 15, of the Oregon Constitution, vests the House of Representatives with the authority to determine whether the conduct of a Representative is disorderly behavior and to punish a Representative for disorderly behavior; now, therefore,

“Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the State of Oregon:

“That we, the members of the House of Representatives of the Eighty-first Legislative Assembly, find that Representative Mike Nearman has engaged in disorderly behavior within the meaning of Article IV, section 15, of the Oregon Constitution; and be it further

“Resolved, That, with the concurrence of two-thirds of the members of the House of Representatives, Representative Nearman be expelled from the House of Representatives and that Representative Nearman’s seat be considered vacant.”

SB 193 (A-Engrossed) – Bynum requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“It is common knowledge that Oregon was the last state to permit non-unanimous juries and there was a significant element of racism and disproportionate impact on Black and brown defendants when the law was in effect. Thankfully the United States Supreme Court ruled to overturn this unjust practice.

“As the Chair of House Judiciary, I have participated in a recent conversation on the Supreme Court’s Ramos decision regarding non-unanimous juries and retroactivity. The workgroup that included the Senate Chair, Attorney General and her staff concluded that considerable work needed to be done to discuss the real work of Ramos which is more than just a statutory cleanup. As I understand it, he Oregon Attorney General twice weighed in on Ramos against his case. Her concerns needed to be ironed out as we consider how to move forward with her full support or at least without her opposition. We concluded that an interim workgroup would be the place where we would take up case review, developing the statutory language to present to the legislature and how we would codify Oregon’s new values on the issue in a meaningful way.

“Knowing that this conversation is continuing and needs to be done with urgency, I was surprised to learn that only a fraction of this conversation was being included in SB 193. I immediately objected and discussed this with the Senate chair. I raised the issue multiple times.

“The language in Section 11 is merely a small portion of what needs to happen to make significant changes. This bill and its language regarding non-unanimous juries is rather empty to me. I believe it used the racial equity lens to garner support for the other parts of the bill rather than actually doing anything to help people of color on this issue. Using us as a sweetener to deliver on policy goals that should stand on their own merit is morally wrong. I hope our bodies are not ever used in this way again.”

SB 193 (A-Engrossed) – Dexter requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“SB 193 combined two critical and unrelated issues:

“Noneconomic damages

“Jury decisions

“I stand in enthusiastic support of the bills’ requirement for jury unanimity in the setting of a guilty verdict. Oregon is the only state in the country who still allow non-unanimous guilty verdicts - a rule traced back to the 1930s and per Justice Gorsuch in the Ramos v Louisiana decision, it comes from the Ku Klux Klan’s ‘efforts to dilute “the influence of racial, ethnic, and religious minorities on Oregon juries.”’

“We absolutely must address this remnant of our white supremacist past, and I do not support doing it in combination with the lifting of noneconomic damage caps in the setting of medical malpractice cases. Data below show caps on noneconomic damages are associated with a decrease in healthcare spending, an increase in physician supply, and no impact on quality of care. These are outcomes I would guess most of us support.

“A physician’s duty is to protect and promote the health of every patient we are entrusted to care for. Sometimes however, due to circumstance, obstacles or negligence, that duty is insufficiently maintained and patients or their loved ones seek damages for adverse medical outcomes.

“Physicians are taught early in their training the importance of listening to a patient’s story and earning their trust. This is fundamental to fully caring for them. When an adverse outcome occurs, as it will in the imperfect profession we have chosen, many clinicians are encouraged to do exactly the opposite of their ‘healer’ instincts -- they are taught to avoid discussing the injury further, to not ‘admit fault’ and in this, they may abandon their patients at the time they are needed most.

“This is totally unacceptable. It isn’t how the majority of physicians nor patients wish to deal with a bad outcome. We need opportunities to proactively address the issues in a trauma-informed, restorative way and there are successful examples of such programs across the country. I am convinced the medical liability component of SB 193 as it currently stands will exacerbate the challenges of our current system and there are significant data that brings me to this conclusion.

“Half of US states have placed limits on noneconomic damages for medical malpractice, while 11 states have caps for all general tort and personal liability.¹ In the setting of medical liability, A 2019 comprehensive survey of 37 studies on tort reform’s impact on medical practice revealed the following:²

“Noneconomic damage caps are associated with a decrease in ‘defensive spending’ in health care. When caps are in place, we see lower rates of surgeries, hospital admissions, and imaging studies. This leads to lower per capita healthcare expenditures.

“They improve physician supply, especially in rural areas. Six of eight studies that addressed this in the survey show an increase in physician supply when noneconomic damage caps are in place. Furthermore, states without caps see a reduction in physician supply when neighboring states pass caps on noneconomic damages.³

“Caps have not been shown to impact a system’s quality of care. In analyzing 8 studies that looked at caps and quality of care, six studies showed no difference, one study showed improved care, and one showed a decrease in quality of care (adverse outcomes in labor).

“Once again, caps on noneconomic damages are associated with a decrease in health care spending, an increase in physician supply, and no impact on quality of care.

“As a state dedicated to increasing the affordability and accessibility of our healthcare system, I am unable to rationalize our move to remove noneconomic damage caps without offering an intervention that will allow us to avoid the need for all cases but the most egregious to get to the courtroom. Very few patients harmed by our healthcare system have the resources and time to pursue a court-facilitated course of action. Those most marginalized are least likely to obtain relief. We can and must do better and in 2013 Oregon established the Early Discussion and Resolution program to do just that. The program has yet to be broadly applied, however it is absolutely an alternative and has the potential to be a superior path that we as a body should invest in making substantially more robust and effective.

“As many of you know, SB 193 has piqued the interest of the Oregon Trial Lawyers Association and the Oregon Medical Association who have spent decades lobbying for and against caps. I have spoken with both at length regarding this bill and I sincerely believe we can use this opportunity to work together toward a patient-centered, trauma-informed process for addressing adverse medical outcomes. I am confident we can adopt restorative justice practices that will help more people who have been injured, incentivize physician engagement and accountability and will lead to systemic changes that will prevent future injuries from occurring. This is a vision all parties can support and even share and we will be working toward this through the interim in a workgroup which will include, among others, the OTLA, OMA, Representative Reynolds, Senator Steiner Hayward and myself.

“While I voted no, I’m optimistic that regardless of passage of SB 193, we will follow ‘the Oregon Way’ and establish a bipartisan policy to address the medical liability component that will be better for all.

³ ID and CA have caps and WA has a formula to calculate maximum damages awarded.”

SB 193 (A-Engrossed) – Reynolds requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“As both a physician and legislator, this was a difficult vote. SB 193A has two distinct concepts wrapped up into one bill - one which I support and one with which I have concerns.

“First and foremost, I wholeheartedly support the end of non-unanimous juries in Oregon. Indeed, the US Supreme Court’s 2020 ruling on the unconstitutionality of non-unanimous juries (Ramos v Louisiana) was long overdue. The ‘clean up’ of state statute in SB 193A to match the US Supreme Court ruling is appropriate to do but is not necessary for Oregon to require unanimous juries in all guilty verdicts, finally matching the other 49 states in the US. I am confident a ‘no’ vote on SB 193A is still consistent with my belief that Oregon must require unanimity in its juries for all guilty verdicts.

“SB 193A would also remove the cap on non-economic damages to an injured party. This part of SB 193A has been put forward in the aftermath of an Oregon Supreme Court Ruling - Busch v. McInnis Waste Systems, Inc. - in July 2020. That ruling did away with a cap on non-economic damages in one case. However, the ruling, like other rulings of this type, does not deem all non-economic damage caps unconstitutional.

“Non-economic damages seek to compensate people for ‘pain and suffering’ due to an injury. These awards are distinct from economic damages, which seek to cover lost wages and medical expenses, and which have no cap. Economic damages are estimates of such losses and costs, while non-economic damages are quite variable as they are unquantifiable.

“Half of the states in the US have placed limits on non-economic damages for medical malpractice. These limits, or caps, are one type of tort reform, and reign in the risks of doing business and the cost of insurance. In the realm of healthcare, these caps lower the overall cost of healthcare and increase physician supply. This then improves access to healthcare.

“Oregon has a healthcare provider shortage, most marked in seven rural counties, but impacting every county in the state. Rural communities experience a variety of unmet healthcare needs, including access to primary care. Removal of the cap on non-economic damages threatens to further imperil physician supply, and, access to care, especially in rural areas.

“The legislative mechanism to remove this cap, coupling it with the important work to clean up statute on non-unanimous juries, is a shortcut around a more comprehensive process to address reform on non-economic caps. I acknowledge that it may be appropriate to raise the current cap on non-economic damages. I encourage the legislature to more fully consider this, and other medical malpractice reform, by convening all interested parties, including those who support this provision in SB 193A.”

HB 2699 – Moore-Green moved to withdraw bill from Committee on Health Care. SB 5523 (A-Engrossed) – Bynum requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“Mental health practitioners, like counselors and therapists, play a critical role in healing Oregonians.

“Over the last year, I have witnessed unprofessional behavior from the Oregon Board of Licensed Professional Counselors and Therapists (OBLPCT) leadership that has made me question whether the board is being properly supervised and whether its actions are overlapping with legislative functions. I am concerned about managing the separation of powers between a board/commission and the legislature.

“While other licensing boards have been modernizing and professionalizing their fields, practitioners have repeatedly told me how challenging it is to get licensed whether they have been trained in the state or are from out of state. Further, simple things like being responsive to data requests are a challenge for this board compared to other boards where these requests are handled with ease.

“I voted no on this budgetary request with an eye on developing oversight in the future.”

“I voted yes on HB 3000 with the understanding that the bill does not give the task force any regulatory authority over plant genetic engineering (re: line 44 (d), page 22 of C engrossed). A task force composed largely of elected officials and governor appointed members is not a regulatory body with the expertise or authority to develop, establish, or enforce regulations impacting plant genetics. The proposed task force lacks the scientific and regulatory expertise to determine appropriate regulations for the breeding of cannabis plants.

“A regulatory framework for plant genetic engineering already exists within our federal and state structure (USDA, FDA, ODA), and any regulations imposed on cannabis should take place within this existing regulatory structure and framework.”

SB 16 – Reardon requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“This letter explains my support of SB16, which allows the Eastern Oregon Border Economic Development Region to convert 200 acres of land from exclusive farm use to residential uses.

“I toured Ontario, Oregon, about three years ago and I clearly remember seeing the piece of land in question. It runs along a barren ridge that does not appear to be farmable and is unsuitable even for grazing. The ridge continues into Idaho, but there the ridge supports a number of homes with a view of the river. On one side of the river, the land is put to a productive use; in Oregon it sits vacant and unused. It very much appears that this particular acreage was misclassified when the maps for SB100 were drawn.

“While touring Ontario, the need for housing was apparent. The city needs a place to build homes that will help keep their middle- to upper-income wage earners from moving across the river to Idaho. There are currently three affordable housing developments underway.

“When coming to my decision on SB 16, I thought about the Oregon Farm Bureau’s statement of neutrality on the bill, considering that they work hard to preserve working farm land. The Farm Bureau fiercely protects farmland, constantly pushing to find effective solutions for the housing crisis and for economic development, especially in Eastern Oregon. And they appreciated the improvements to this bill compared to the bill of two years which they did not support.

“Many have stated a concern that this bill will set a precedent, but this is a unique situation. If you are imagining the rolling farms of Washington, Clackamas or other counties and that’s what you’re trying to preserve, this 200 acres is definitely not that.

“I have been and continue to be a strong supporter of Oregon’s land use system and I truly appreciate how well the system has worked since 1973 to help us make the best use of all lands for a wide variety of purposes. When considering the land quality, the need for more housing, that Ontario is adjacent to and must compete with Idaho, and the economic implications for the community, I decided to support SB16.”

Bill passed.

SB 236 (B-Engrossed) – Boshart Davis requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“I have voted ‘No’ on Senate Bill 236. After carefully reviewing this legislation, I believe it presents a clear and present danger to faith-based education providers in Oregon. The First Amendment of the Constitution of the United States prohibits the government, federal, state, or local, from preventing the ‘free exercise’ of religious beliefs by the American people. But Senate Bill 236 does just that.

“Senate Bill 236 will not accomplish the goals of ‘equity’ and ‘equality’ that proponents of the bill cite as the reason this legislation being crafted. It will succeed in compromising the ability of early education providers, including those that are faith based, to create a safe environment for Oregon’s youngest learners.

“The cumbersome regulations in Senate Bill 236 would result in schools losing their autonomy as they are subjected to an ever growing, ever demanding, state bureaucracy. That very autonomy is the reason why so many parents choose to place their children in faith based early education programs or private schools.

“I am committed in my opposition to bigotry or exclusion based on race, wherever and whenever that occurs. Senate Bill 236 does not address that. If it did, I would enthusiastically vote ‘yes.’ Instead, Senate Bill 236 fails to protect the Constitutional rights of private, faith-based Oregon schools, and does so in a discriminatory fashion. For that reason, I am opposed to Senate Bill 236.”

“On June 24th, 2021 I voted ‘Yes’ on HB 3045, and I wish to explain for the record that I voted yes due to my fervent support for access to mental healthcare and yet I have a strong philosophical opposition to bills that disproportionately protect some classes of patients over others.

“The overall cost of drug prescriptions has been on an exponential rise, and is the fastest growing expense of any other medical good or service. We must address accessibility to affordable medications across the system and should do so with a coordinated and thoughtful approach.

Continuing to pass legislation that singles out fields of the healthcare system or classes of patients sets a precedent I am uncomfortable with. We should focus on making all areas of healthcare more accessible and more affordable and I will continue to push for policy that keeps that top of mind while I continue to discourage carve-out policies in the future.”

SB 5502 (A-Engrossed) – Boshart Davis requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“The Oregon Department of Agriculture budget contains a lot of good, but a few points I would like to make:

1. I strongly support additional investment in ODA. They are a critical natural resource agency and seem to get less investment than DEQ, OWRD and other agencies.
2. While I am encouraged by the increased investment in water quality in the reconciliation budget, I am disappointed by the state's lack of investment in chlorpyrifos research. We cannot ban tools producers desperately need without investing in research for alternatives, as every other state who has pursued a chlorpyrifos ban has done.

“Our citizen legislature is neither designed nor equipped to carry out a thorough scientific and technical review of chlorpyrifos. Without a broad understanding of products available to growers and consumers and potential alternatives and trade-offs, we risk doing as much harm as good in picking ‘preferred’ products or inadvertently encouraging other behaviors without better information. One of the reasons I fought this ban was because farmers have no good alternatives. As a restricted use pesticide, it is already heavily tested and regulated at the state and federal level. Nevertheless, this body felt differently and introduced legislation to ban it in 2020. Following the session, the ODA took subsequent steps to prohibit most legal uses of the product by the end of 2023. At the very least, we should have funded research into alternatives, so our farmers aren't left without legal or cost-effective alternatives.

“It is irresponsible and shows the priority this state places on the farming community to ban a tool and then refuse to fund research to find alternatives. This was disappointing and I will continue to look for ways to support our natural resources industries in this state.”

SB 5502 (A-Engrossed) – Sollman requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“I voted yes to support Senate Bill 5502, the budget bill for the Oregon Department of Agriculture. However, I would like to express my dismay that funding to study alternatives to Chlorpyrifos was not included in the final measure. In April 2021, a federal appeals court ruled that Chlorpyrifos must be banned, unless the EPA can determine safe uses for the chemical. Chlorpyrifos, a pesticide widely used to treat crops, has been linked to harmful health effects in people and neurological damage in children. Science overwhelmingly speaks to the harmful health impacts of Chlorpyrifos. My concern, however, comes when you ban one thing completely, then there is the possibility of it being replaced with something even more harmful. Additionally, since this product has been used by farmers for over 50 years, they will need to quickly figure out what to replace it with. The state of California had the foresight to include funding for a study to determine alternatives to the use of Chlorpyrifos, when they banned the pesticide from use. I had hoped the State of Oregon would have followed suit in Senate Bill 5502 to include similar funding that would especially help our small farmers through this transition.”

SB 139 (A-Engrossed) – Neron requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“Small businesses are the backbone of Oregon’s economy, and I believe we should be strategic with tax breaks and incentives to ensure that we’re supporting these small businesses in their growth. I voted yes on Senate Bill 139 because I believe this reform of Oregon’s pass-through tax break will better support our truly homegrown small businesses by incentivizing growth and job creation.

“According to one estimate, some 90% of small businesses in Oregon could actually get an even bigger tax break under this bill, while ensuring that we’re not lining the pockets of the wealthy with taxpayer dollars. Taxpayers have entrusted us with using their money wisely, and I believe that supporting growing small businesses—not wealthy investors—is the most responsible and prudent way to use these tax incentives.

“It’s unfortunate that there’s been so much misinformation about this bill. The fact is that anyone making less than $5 million in profits each year (the vast majority of small businesses) could actually see an even bigger tax break, if they’re employing people and investing back in their business. This bill will help many small businesses in my district, and I’m looking forward to watching them grow.”

Bill passed.

SB 567 (B-Engrossed) – Dexter requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“On June 24th, 2021 I voted ‘Yes’ on SB 567, and I wish to explain for the record why this is the case.

“SB 567 seeks to cement the non-discrimination provisions of federal law in medical practice in the state of Oregon. With this bill we are uplifting and reinforcing federal statute that protects individuals from discrimination in the delivery of healthcare. As a health care provider, we must be absolutely aware that we may not deny or limit medical treatment by reason of a patient's race, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, age or disability.

“It is inexcusable that some components of a patient's life impacts their care options whether it is home antibiotics to be given to a houseless individual who happens to live with the limitations of a wheelchair; gender-affirming hormone therapy for an adult in custody; an organ transplant for a patient who is not English speaking and uninsured; or a 95 year old patient with comorbid conditions who is in need of a hip replacement. These social, genetic and age-related factors are part of an equation that clinicians take into account every day and the concern is that they fail to recognize when unconscious, or even worse, conscious bias is impacting their clinical decisions. SB 567 is consistent with, and seeks to ensure adherence to federal statutory requirements and reminds us as care providers that we must not deny treatment on the basis of a patient's protected class without an individualized clinical assessment.

“I understand exquisitely well and want to be on the record affirming that medical decision making is complex and must take into account medical best practices, patient and family desires (which are not always in alignment), insurance coverage, availability of resources, as well as religious and cultural beliefs and practices. Medical decisions are rarely straightforward and as I've said before and will say again, it is an imperfect profession in which we "practice" our duties every day.

“My intention today is to make sure we are not setting legal precedent for retrospectively challenging decisions from one perspective that has the impact of deterring clinicians from doing the right thing and having the hard discussions we have every day with patients due to our concern for being sued. Our duty is first and foremost to our patients, regardless of what confounding factors are present, and I stand by that. This bill makes sure we do not lose sight of our obligation to not limit access to treatment solely on the basis of a person's protected class and I stand by that firmly as well.”

SB 587 (B-Engrossed) – Read third time. Carried by Wilde. On passage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 43; Nays, 15 – Bonham, Boshart Davis, Breese-Iverson, Cate, Drazan, Evans, Levy, Lewis, Moore-Green, Morgan, Post, Reschke, Smith DB, Stark, Wallan; Excused, 1 – Smith G. Bill passed.

HB 3055 (B-Engrossed) – Bynum requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“I support the improvements on I-205 and the Abernethy Bridge. This stretch of highway is long overdue for upgrades and congestion reduction.

“However, I still have major reservations about tolling and hope that a clear and transparent process will be employed during these ongoing discussions.

HB 3055 (B-Engrossed) – Campos requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“While I am in support of infrastructure advancements, there is nothing in this bill that legitimately addresses climate change concerns and, alternatively calls into question causes pause as to whether sections of the bill may hinder the progression towards green infrastructure goals. We need to consider our current climate crisis when we invest in transportation or we will never be able to adequately fight back against climate change. As someone who deeply believes that it is urgent, we act to halt climate change with all possible avenues, I could not in good conscience vote in favor of an infrastructure bill that doesn’t address the biggest threat of our lifetime.”

HB 3055 (B-Engrossed) – Dexter requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“On June 24th, 2021 I voted ‘Yes’ on HB 3055, despite concerns I have with the environmental impact of funding freeway expansion, and the regressive fee structure of tolls. I wish to explain for the record why I chose to move forward with a supportive vote.

“This bill is the result of a broad stakeholder process that has been ongoing for years and has the support of agencies and my district’s broad community including Metro, Portland, Beaverton, Tigard and Hillsboro. It is an omnibus transportation bill which contains a wide variety of issues needing to be addressed for years including driver suspension hearings, odometer requirement specifications, jet-fuel provisions, railroad tax credits, and most importantly, provisions for congestion management and revenue generation to fund freeway capacity. I voted yes due to the complicated nature of the bill addressing safety, maintenance, modernization and full-system action as well as the principles of collaborative policy building across all levels of government and with the public that incorporated compromise and innovative policy-making.

“As dozens of constituents have reminded me, our present climate emergency and years of failed freeway-expansion policies should commit us to new approaches for congestion management and urban renewal programs aimed at alternative and equitable transportation methods and mending the damage done by interstate highways to BIPOC neighborhoods in the post-war decades. I agree.

“Hence, my ‘Yes’ vote on this bill is heavily conditioned on assurance I’ve received from Representative McLain and agencies that the following policy goals are concomitant to HB 3055:

1. A walkable freeway ‘cap’ will be funded through partnerships by the state, Multnomah county and the city of Portland to cover the Rose Quarter expansion and will reconnect the Albina neighborhood.

“After the passage of the 1949 Housing Act and the 1956 Interstate Highway Act, numerous BIPOC neighborhoods across American cities were gutted or cut off from civic centers and city amenities by freeways. This is a widely studied phenomenon with 40 years of research behind it¹ Egregious examples include some of the neighborhoods around the Rose Quarter, including the Mississippi and Albina neighborhoods in Portland, perforated by the I-5. Low-income and communities of color along the freeway corridor suffer disproportionately from the adverse health impacts of diesel and other car-related fumes, decreased green space and lack of walkability in their neighborhood where they have been cut off from many services due to freeway-related barriers. To mend some of this damage, a corridor ‘cap’ is absolutely needed and will continue to be the desired outcome to be collaboratively developed and funded by stakeholders moving forward.

2. Infrastructure investment will be principally aimed at reducing cars on our roads, and not merely accommodating more cars. Congestion pricing development will be a priority and tolling will not be the final and sole mechanism for funding road maintenance.

“Between 1993 and 2017, the nation’s largest 100 urban areas added 30,511 new lane-miles of roads—a 42 percent increase. That’s higher than population growth, which was 32 percent in those metros over the same time period. Yet, traffic congestion, as measured in annual hours of delay, actually rose during those 24 years, by a staggering 144 percent².

“Studies do however show that robust, long-term regional investment in transit infrastructure aimed at managing demand on existing infrastructure does however reduce congestion. Recently, for example, the Seattle Metro Area adopted long-term regional investments in transit infrastructure that includes light rail systems and bus networks through the Seattle Transportation Benefit District (STBD) funding scheme. It has seen significant results, including a decrease in car-traffic and mass-transit ridership increases of 89 percent .

“In this unusual year of paradigm shifts in the way people work, and increased federal spending, and a looming climate crisis, bold, 21st century solutions are justified. I hope HB 3055 keeps sight of principles centered around equity, and modernization of infrastructure.

HB 3055 (B-Engrossed) – Kotek requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“HB 3055 creates a funding path to both enact regional congestion management and to fully realize the project improvements identified in House Bill 2017 (2017). This is a reasonable goal. However, I decided to vote no after careful consideration of the policy.

“I worked with local government and environmental partners to improve HB 3055 by pursuing a complementary bill that did not pass this session. The engrossed version of this bill adopts many provisions from my efforts. Those improvements include: certainty for multimodal investments on tolled corridors to ensure choice is a component of any congestion management plan; a statutory preference for variable-rate tolling to truly manage demand when tolling is enacted; a requirement to establish differential rates for low-income drivers; diversion mitigation investments to protect local routes; and more.

“I decided to vote no on this legislation for two reasons:

- First, it does not include a requirement for ODOT to ‘right-size’ projects as found in section 35(3) of the -12 amendment to HB 3065. This would have ensured that any final designs of HB 2017 projects incorporate the future of congestion management in the region, and thus are constructed with the reality of demand management applied.
- Second, this bill does not include community workforce or project labor requirements as found in section 38 of the -12 amendment to HB 3065.”

HB 3055 (B-Engrossed) – Power requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“I support the ability of ODOT to be flexible in implementing major construction projects in the Portland Metro area, building upon the funding allocated in HB 2017 (2017). While I remain concerned that House Bill 3305 does not contain language explicitly directing ODOT to incorporate congestion price modeling into any congestion relief project to ‘right size’ the freeway construction, I voted yes on this bill in part to provide the bonding vehicle that will eventually be necessary for the construction of freeway lids to reconnect the Albina neighborhood.

“Interstate 5, as it runs through the city of Portland, is just one of many national examples of transportation planning decisions that have physically uprooted communities and led to institutional generational wealth theft. We are at a confluence locally and nationally to address this legacy head on, and soon, will have an opportunity to physically reconnect the Albina neighborhood that was bulldozed 70 years ago. For example, one of ODOT’s contractors on the Rose Quarter project has submitted a viable proposal that can incorporate both physical freeway changes and the Albina lid construction, with minimal change to the baseline cost projections. The ability to bond against tolling revenue will provide the needed capital for reinvestment in the physical infrastructure of this neighborhood, driven by the current and former residents of the Albina neighborhood. It is in large part due to this opportunity that I have supported HB 3055.”
