3.03 Attendance. Except for emergencies, a member shall attend all sessions of the House unless an Excused Absence Request is filed with the Chief Clerk forty-eight (48) hours in advance. All requests for an excused absence will be presumed approved unless the member is otherwise notified by leadership. A member shall attend all meetings of the committees of the House of which he or she is a member unless excused by a chair. No member shall be considered excused, however, unless the presiding officer or a chair has announced the excuse at the opening of the House session or committee meeting, or at the earliest possible time thereafter. VOTING

3.12 Electronic Roll Call System. The electronic voting system shall be under the control of the presiding officer and shall be operated by the Chief Clerk. The names of the members shall be listed on the electronic roll call board in alphabetical order, except that the name of the Speaker shall be last.

(2) A roll call vote of "yeas" and "nays" shall be taken and recorded on the final passage of all bills and joint and concurrent resolutions. Except as otherwise provided in these rules, the vote shall be recorded by the electronic voting system.

(3) Upon demand of two members, an oral roll call shall be taken and recorded on any measure that requires more than 31 affirmative votes. The Clerk shall call the roll of the membership, alternating between alphabetical order and reverse alphabetical order. The Speaker's name shall be called last.

(4) If the presiding officer is in doubt on any motion or a division is called for on a motion, a roll call shall be taken and recorded by the electronic voting system on the motion. On all other questions to be voted upon, unless otherwise provided in these rules, the presiding officer may order the "yeas" and "nays" taken by the electronic voting system.

(5) The electronic voting system shall not be used for election of officers.

(6) Individual votes shall not be displayed until the time for voting has expired and the electronic voting system has been closed.

(7) In the event the electronic voting system is not in operating order when voting on any question, the presiding officer shall order all "yea" and "nay" votes be taken by oral roll call. The Clerk shall call the roll of the membership in alphabetical order. The Speaker's name shall be called last.

(8) The vote of any member that has not been recorded because of malfunction of the electronic voting system shall be entered into the record if that member was within the bar of the House chamber at the time of the vote and attempted to cast their vote at the appropriate time, and the fact of such malfunction is reported to the presiding officer prior to the announcement of the result of the vote.

3.20 Requirements for Voting. (1) Each member within the bar when the question is stated and the member's name is called shall vote. No member shall be allowed to abstain from voting.

(2) If a member refuses to vote when the member's name is called, the presiding officer shall immediately call for the member's vote a second time. If the member again refuses to vote, the presiding officer shall read subsection (3) of this rule. The presiding officer shall then call for the member to announce the member's vote immediately. If the member fails to vote immediately after this third request, the presiding officer shall state for the record: "The member's failure to vote constitutes an intentional violation of House Rule 3.20, subsection (1) and a high breach of decorum. The Journal shall show that the Representative is censured for the violation; the clerk shall record the Representative's vote on the measure on which the member refused to vote as a 'yea,' and the member may also be subject to other penalties as the House may order."

(3) Any member's refusal to vote, as required by House rules, shall be recorded in the Journal as an intentional violation of Rule 3.20 (1) and a high breach of decorum. The Representative shall be censured; the Clerk shall record the Representative's vote on the measure on which the member refused to vote as a "yea;" and the member may also be subject to other penalties as the House may order.

(4) No member, except by unanimous consent, shall be permitted to vote upon any question unless he or she is within the bar before the last name on an oral roll call was called or is within the bar before the electronic voting system is closed. No member shall vote or be allowed to change their vote after the presiding officer announces the result of the roll call by declaring the question has passed or failed to pass.

3.21 Announcement of Conflict of Interest. (1) When involved in an actual or potential conflict of interest, as defined by ORS 244.020, a member shall announce, on the floor or in the committee meeting, the nature of the actual or potential conflict prior to voting on the issue giving rise to the conflict.

(2) The member shall file in writing a statement of the nature of the actual or potential conflict with the Chief Clerk or the committee assistant by 5:00 p.m. the next business day following the vote on the measure. The statement shall be limited to the substance of the oral explanation given on the floor or in committee. The member's announcement of an actual or potential conflict of interest shall be recorded in the Journal or in the committee minutes.

3.26 Electronic Roll Call; Time, Changes. When a vote is taken using the electronic voting system, the members shall be allowed at least thirty seconds to vote, at the end of which time, the Clerk will display the vote. After the individual votes have been displayed, any member desiring to change his or her vote may so announce. The presiding officer shall direct the Chief Clerk to make the proper entry into the electronic voting system.

3.28 Electronic Roll Call; Misuse, Penalties. No member shall vote for another member using the electronic voting system. No member shall tamper with, alter or attempt to alter the electronic voting system, or cause the electronic voting system to register a vote without the member personally depressing a voting button during each roll call vote. Any member who violates this rule may be punished as determined by the vote of 31 members. If a person not a member votes or attempts to vote for any member or violates a provision of this rule, he or she shall be barred from the floor of the House for the remainder of the session, and he or she may be punished further as determined by the vote of 31 members.

3.30 Voting by Presiding officer. The Speaker shall vote whenever a roll call is required. The Speaker's name shall be called last on an oral roll call vote.

3.35 Explanation of Vote. (1) Any member who wishes to explain his or her vote shall file the written explanation with the Chief Clerk by 5:00 p.m. the next business day following the vote on the measure. The vote explanation filed under this subsection must comply with subsection (2) of this rule. If the explanation does not meet those requirements, the Speaker may refuse to cause the explanation to be printed in the Journal.

(2) The vote explanation shall be germane to the subject and shall not reflect on the honor or integrity of any other member.

3.45 Printed Measures Required for Voting. No measure or amendment to a measure shall be finally voted on until it has been made available electronically or printed and placed on the desks of the members.

3.50 Third Reading Requirement. (1) No bill shall pass the House until after third reading and no measure shall be read more than once in any one day.

(2) A bill may be referred or re-referred to committee on third reading.

3.55 Call of the House. (1) Six members may demand a Call of the House at any time before a roll call has begun.

(2) Upon a Call of the House, the doors shall be closed until proceedings under the Call have been terminated. No other business shall be transacted until the proceedings are so terminated.

(3) Upon a Call of the House, the Sergeant at Arms shall cause all members who are not excused to come to the floor. If the Sergeant at Arms cannot locate any unexcused member, the Sergeant at Arms shall so report to the presiding officer, who shall announce the fact to the members.

(4) All members must remain within the bar of the House until the vote is taken for which the Call was made. However, when the House is waiting for an unexcused member and the presiding officer has announced that the House is "at ease," the members may have access to the area behind the rostrum until the presiding officer calls the House to order. Members must then return to within the bar.

(5) A Call of the House shall be considered terminated when the question for which the Call was invoked has been voted upon or when a motion to terminate the Call is approved by forty members. The motion to terminate the Call shall be in order when the Sergeant at Arms has reported that unexcused members cannot be returned within a reasonable time. Termination of the Call under this subsection terminates the requirement that the Sergeant at Arms search for unexcused members. In the absence of a quorum after the report of the Sergeant at Arms is received, the House may terminate the Call by the unanimous consent of the members present.

(6) Upon a Call and until the proceedings are terminated, the presiding officer may direct the Sergeant at Arms to authorize members of the Senate, representatives of the news media and staff to leave or enter the chamber.

(7) Subsection (2) of this rule does not apply to the third-floor gallery.

However, if the measure subject to reconsideration was passed so late in the session that the Speaker has reasonable cause to believe that its retention will unnecessarily delay the orderly process of legislative business, the Speaker shall immediately lay the motion for reconsideration before the House.

10.10 Recall of Measure. (1) If a measure has been transmitted to the Senate before the motion to reconsider is made, the motion to reconsider must be preceded by a motion to recall the measure. The motion to recall a measure is subject to the same time limit as the motion to reconsider.

Inaugural Address
John A. Kitzhaber, M.D
January 12, 2015

“Well, thank you very much. There are a lot of people that I could recognize and that deserve recognition. I just want to briefly recognize my two sisters, Ann and Ellen, who have come here today. And of course my son, Logan. I also want to thank Adjutant General Dan Hokanson, from the Oregon National Guard, and Rich Evans, the Superintendent of the State Police. And all of our first responders for everything they do to keep us safe.

“Now, I expect a lot of you to have tonight’s game on your mind. Some of you might even wish you had tickets, I certainly wish I had. But it is amazing how this game has managed to unite the state. I saw a guy on Friday in full blown, front on, Beaver regalia; black sneakers, Orange pants, black shirt, orange jacket, black hat with an orange beaver on the cap and a great big “Go Ducks!” yellow sticker on his chest. And I am always amazed at these athletic events and I am sure you felt the same, with all of these people packed in together - republicans and democrats, urban, rural, all races, all walks of life - and it doesn’t matter. They are united in the common cause in making sure that their team wins. And sometimes, I wonder what it would take to unify team Oregon around the same kind of common purpose to deal with childhood hunger or education or creating jobs in rural Oregon. And that’s what I want to talk to you about briefly this morning.

“I remember standing in this chamber in 1979 – 36 years ago – right back at the seat where Shemia Fagan sits. I think it’s desk 35, getting sworn in as a freshman member of the House of Representatives, right before we swore in the late Victor Atiyeh as our 32nd governor. And I remember the first time I got to sit on this dais and that was 30 years ago as a newly elected Senate President presiding over the 1985 Legislative Session – and looking out at this magnificent chamber and at the names that are engraved on the walls – people like Narcissa Whitman and John Gray and John Jacob Astor, the men and women who built the foundations of our state.

“Well, as it turns out, I have spent most of my adult life in this building and I love it very much. And since I have just been sworn in for the very last time ever, I thought I would take a few minutes and reflect about what I have learned over the last 36 years that might be of some value, and why I did it and what I hope to achieve in the next four years – which would complete the arc of my political career.

“So, I thought (I would) start by sharing a little personal information – although, thanks to our friends up here I don’t think there is very much left out there. But, I have great faith in them. My political career really was the result of two things. The first, was the fact that 67 years ago I was born to parents who were members of what Tom Brokaw called the “Greatest Generation.” And second was that 47 years ago Robert Kennedy ran for president of the United States.

“Now, my father was born in Iowa and he was born 1915, and my mother was born in Joseph, Oregon in 1917, and they met at Washington State University in 1939 and they got married the next year, November 2, 1940.

“And, when the U.S. entered the Second World War, my father was drafted and left his wife of less than two years, and boarded a troop transport called “The Robert Sherman” in New York harbor for the dangerous trip across the North Atlantic. Just before the ship sailed a Red Cross volunteer came on board and told my father that his first child had been born, that was my sister Ann, who he wouldn't see for almost 2 years.

"My father landed in France and marched all the way across Europe to Berlin. And from the day he was drafted until, including the seventeen months he was with Patton's Army in Europe, my parents wrote to one another almost every day. And I have always thought it was a poignant tribute to their 65-year romance that they kept all of these letters. And in 2002 my father edited them and put them in a volume that he simply called, "The War Letters" and gave a copy to me and to my sisters.

"This is really a remarkable document, covering the period from August 1943 and November 1945, and it chronicles the lives of two ordinary people – regular citizens and new parents – and the amazing sacrifices that they made to win the war and to rebuild the world in its aftermath. And before he died, I used to call my father up every year on June 6th – the anniversary of D-Day – and I would thank him for saving the world ... because that is exactly what that generation did.

"But not only did they win the Second World War; they created our system of higher education, they built the transmission grid, they gave us the civil rights movement, and landmark environmental legislation. They put in place the great social programs of the last century – Social Security and Medicare and Medicaid. And in their spare time they cured polio and eradicated smallpox. And then they went to the moon.

"So I grew up in an era where people still believed in government and believed that it was a vehicle through which we could do amazing things for the whole society that we could not possibly do by ourselves: like bringing electricity to rural America; like the GI bill, like building the interstate highway system. I still believe it, and I'm here today because I still believe in our government. And that it can be a force for good in our lives.

"But I have learned that those kinds of remarkable accomplishments are only possible if they are driven by a sense of common purpose. The sense of common purpose of the Greatest Generation was very clear and unambiguous: it was to defeat Nazi Germany and the Axis powers; it was to rebuild America; and it was to do all they could to make sure their children would be better off than they were.

"Today things are a little bit more ambiguous. Our problems are more complex and they are often interrelated; there are no obvious solutions; there is little low hanging fruit and almost no quick fixes in a nation that is addicted to fast food and instant gratification. But I can tell you that the need for a sense of common purpose is just as important today as it was 70 years ago on V-E Day – May 8, 1945 – when Germany surrendered to the Allies.

"A sense of common purpose is the one essential ingredient necessary to build community – which allows people to come together and do collectively things that would be difficult or impossible for them to do by themselves. And it is that sense of common purpose that offers that adhesiveness that holds us together and allows us to act in concert as a community.

"That brings me to Robert Kennedy and the influence that he had on my life. I was a 21 year-old college student when Bobby Kennedy ran for president and it was a remarkable campaign unlike any I have seen before or after. It was a campaign that truly focused on equity and opportunity.

"It was a campaign about unrepresented farm workers in California. It was a campaign about poverty and hunger and children starving to death in the Mississippi Delta and on the Pine Ridge Reservation. And it was a campaign that asked difficult and disturbing questions: questions about a GDP that measured wealth but not well-being; questions about how we could allow this to exist, these contradictions, in the wealthiest nation in the world.

And it asked questions about who we were and how we wanted to treat one another as Americans and as fellow human beings.

"And if you remember, it was a very short campaign. It lasted 82 days, from when he announced until when he was assassinated on June 6th, which, interestingly enough, was the 24th anniversary of D-Day. I was inspired by that campaign because of his sincerity, because of his passion, because of his courage to speak from the heart and say things that needed to be said. And from the moment he died in Los Angeles I knew that this is where I wanted to be, and I wanted to commit myself to public service.

"Now, to me, the central message in Bobby Kennedy's last campaign was this: if a sense of common purpose is essential to build community, and if community is what allows us to come together to do collectively things we could not do individually... then the strength of a community is inversely proportional to the level of disparity or inequality that exists within it.

"What Robert Kennedy was doing in that campaign was calling out the disparities and inequalities in our society and asking people why we allow them to exist. And that made a lot of people really uncomfortable in 1968. That was 47 years ago ... and asking those same questions today still make a lot of people really uncomfortable.

"But those questions need to be asked – and they need to be answered – because disparity is the enemy of community; it separates us; it divides us; it reflects inequality; it reflects a lack of fairness; it says that somebody's being left behind; that somebody is being excluded.

"And if you are the person being excluded from the community, then there is no sense of common purpose. Without common purpose you can't have community. And if we don't have community, we don't have the capacity to meet the challenges that face us today as a society and as a state.

"Last week I had the honor of speaking at our State Business Summit and the theme of that summit was: "In It Together" – a commitment to ensure that all of us have the opportunity to achieve a greater share of prosperity. And I must tell you that I am proud to live in a state where the business community would make a commitment like that; and also to set goals for collective action around education, around infrastructure, around rural economic development to make sure that we deliver on that commitment.

"But even if we are successful in meeting those goals – and I support each and every one of them – we will not succeed in giving all Oregonians a greater share of prosperity unless we are willing to have the courage and honesty to question one basic fact. And that is the inherent contradiction between a growing economy and the increasingly desperate plight of hundreds of thousands of our fellow Oregonians.

"Indeed, sometimes I feel a bit disingenuous using the word economic "recovery" because I am certain that this term does not have much meaning for hundreds of thousands of people in the state today.

"We currently measure economic recovery in two ways: how many jobs we are creating and how fast the state GDP – the creation of wealth – is growing, and by those metrics we are doing really, really well in Oregon. We have gained back all the jobs that we lost during the Great Recession and – as measured by growth in the GDP – we had the fifth fastest state growing economy in the nation in 2011, and the fourth fastest in 2012.

"But here is the question: how does that actually translate into the well-being of our fellow Oregonians – in terms of their ability to support their families, and meet their basic needs, and feed their kids. And the answer is: not very well, not very well. It's not that we aren't creating well-paying jobs, we are, but we are not creating them as fast as the ones we lost during the Great Recession. And this is actually something that's been going on for a long time.

"Between 1945 (the end of the Second World War) and the mid-1970s, productivity in our country grew 96% and wages grew by 94%. Between the mid-1970s and 2011 productivity increased 80% and wages increased 10%. So the point is, our workers are more productive than ever before but they are not sharing equitably in the wealth that they are helping to create. And that trend is increasing.

"And it seems to me that should be troubling to all of us because one of the basic premises on which our nation was founded was the belief that in America, hard work is actually rewarded with a better life. But, for a growing number of Oregonians that is simply not the case. In the midst of our economic "recovery" a growing number of people are trapped in low-paying, part-time jobs on which they cannot possibly raise a family – and with absolutely no hope of moving out or moving up. Why?

"Why are one out of five Oregon children still living in poverty in this state of ours? Why are over 30 percent of our children facing food insecurity on a regular basis? Why is unemployment among Latinos 27% and among African Americans, Native Americans, Hawaiians/Pacific Islanders and those with disabilities over 30%? And most importantly why is this acceptable to us in this state of Oregon?

"I think we can all agree that this situation is not only unfair but it divides us and adds to the disparities in our community and makes it even harder for us to come together in a common cause.

"Now, the answers to these questions are complicated – I know that – and no one person, least of all me, has all the answers. But if we begin to ask the right questions I know we can make progress because an Oregon economy that moves some of us forward and leaving others behind slows down progress for all of us.

"As author Thomas Pynchon observed in his novel Gravity's Rainbow: 'If they can get you asking the wrong questions, they don't have to worry about the answers.' And if the only questions we are asking are how fast is the state GDP growing and how many jobs are we creating then we don't have to worry about their quality: about where these jobs are or what they pay or whether they are connected to career paths, or who is getting them or the environmental cost of creating them.

"But, if we are willing to come together and ask these hard questions – and hold onto the common purpose that is our intent to lift up the whole community, not just part of it – then I am confident that we can move ahead.

"Forty years ago I finished upon my internship in Denver, Colorado and I moved to Roseburg, Oregon – a freshly minted 27-year-old invincible ER doctor who was young and really naïve and really idealistic. Ten years later in 1978 (which was four years later, ten years after Bobby Kennedy was killed) I ran and was elected to the Oregon House of Representatives, ready to try to save the world, like my parents had. And I've learned a few things along the way. First, I've learned that saving the world is a lot harder than it sounds. It doesn't happen with a flash of lightning or a clap of thunder. And it doesn't flow from inspirational speeches – although inspiration is important.

"Robert Kennedy was very inspirational but I have absolutely no idea whether or not he would have been a good or effective president. But what I have learned is that to achieve what Robert Kennedy dreamed would have taken a lot of hard, unglamorous work in the trenches – making compromises, dealing with egos, balancing conflicting agendas, being patient and tenacious even in the face of setbacks, showing up, hanging in there, not giving up.

"I have learned that the role of government is not to fix things but to create a space where people can fix things for themselves.

And I have learned that you cannot advance the common good from Salem but only by engaging people where they live and showing them that they have a stake in the problem and some sense of ownership in the solution. And my friends, we are doing that every day here in Oregon through our regional solutions committees; our coordinated care organizations; our early learning hubs, our watershed councils; and, yes, through the Oregon Business Plan.

"And here is something else I have learned, and I really believe this: people in our state and across this land want community, they yearn for a sense of belonging, and some greater common purpose. So after 36 years I am certainly no longer young and I am certainly no longer naïve ... but I am still idealistic. I still believe that all of us want to rise above our own worst day and give something back to our families and to our community. And I still believe in the power of individuals – acting from courage and conviction – to change the world in which they live for the better.

"So let us commit ourselves to that; let us commit ourselves to the proposition that we're going to ensure that everyone in this state has an equal opportunity to meet their basic needs; to strive to achieve their full potential; to have hard work actually rewarded with a better life; and to leave their children better off than they were both economically and environmentally.

"It's not going to happen overnight, it's not going to happen in the next four years – probably not in the next ten, because although much progress has been made, a long road still stretches out before us – and some of us are not going to see the end of that road. But I can tell you, as the father of a 17-year-old son, I know that it is the contributions we make to that future along the way that will ultimately matter the most in the end.

"I want to close my remarks today with the words of Oregon poet Kim Stafford, who very eloquently captures the challenge, and the responsibility, and I think the opportunity before us in what he calls 'Lloyd's Story,' it's a true story actually.

"Lloyd Reynolds, the international citizen of Portland, spent his last days in pain, silent, unable to write or speak, lying in a hospital bed. On his last day at home, as his wife scurried to pack his suitcase for the hospital, Lloyd made his way outside to the garden and there she found him on his knees, awkwardly planting flower bulbs with a spoon. 'Lloyd,' she said, 'you will never see those flowers bloom.'

"He smiled at her. 'They are not for me,' he said, 'they are for you. The salmon coming home? They are for you. The calls of the wild geese? They are for you. The last old trees? They are for you and your children, to the seventh generation and beyond. They are all blooming into being for you.'

"Good words to hold onto as we start this 78th Session of the Oregon Legislature.

"Thank you very much."

Swearing-In Ceremony of the Honorable Kate Brown

38th Governor of the State of Oregon

Seventy-Eighth Assembly of Oregon

House Chamber, State Capitol

The Colors were presented by Oregon National Guard Select Color Guard.

The Honorable Thomas A. Balmer, Chief Justice, administered the Oath of Office to the Honorable Kate Brown.

The Honorable Kate Brown, Governor of the State of Oregon, delivered the following Governor's Address:

The remarks below appear as prepared.

"Governors Roberts and Kulongoski, tribal leaders, Speaker Kotek, President Courtney, honored colleagues, good morning.

"As I take the oath of office this morning, I am blessed to have the support of a large and wonderful family, many of whom are here. I want to specially thank two people who've had a great influence on my life: my mother, Sally, and my spouse, Dan Little, who is my rock.

"It's been a tough few months. The people of Oregon have had reason to question their trust in state government. Oregon has been in the national news for all the wrong reasons.

"That changes starting today. It's time for us to get back to work. It's time to move Oregon forward.

"This great state is blessed with so many amazing qualities: breath-taking natural wonders, a resilient people and an unmatched quality of life. People born here want to stay here, and people are drawn here from all over the country. We are all fiercely proud to be Oregonians.

"Before I sought public office, I worked as a family law advocate. There, I witnessed first-hand the problems of people whose lives were dramatically impacted by the law, but who seldom had an impact on shaping it – the child who needs a more stable home; the survivor of domestic violence; the family struggling to make ends meet.

"I carry with me their faces and stories every day when I come to work.

"And throughout my 24 years in public service, I have also sought to promote transparency and trust in government, working to build confidence that our public dollars are spent wisely.

"As Governor, this will not change.

"I will be a Governor who wants to hear the concerns of everyday Oregonians – children and working parents, small business owners and senior citizens.

"In the public dialogue about resources and priorities, they will be my central focus.

"It is with everyday Oregonians in mind that I take office today with enthusiasm and purpose. The legislature is in session; the budget has been submitted and more than 1,700 bills have been filed. Speaker Kotek, President Courtney, members of the legislature, on behalf of all Oregonians, thank you for your dedication and perseverance throughout this recent ordeal.

"There is a great deal of work ahead of us, and I am ready to roll up my sleeves and get to it.

"We are all keenly aware of the difficult circumstances that brought us to this moment – circumstances that none of us would have predicted only a short time ago.

"Governor Kitzhaber dedicated most of his adult life to serving the people of Oregon. His contributions to our state are well woven into the fabric of our public life.

"But now, we must restore the public's trust.

"I know that every Representative and Senator in this chamber loves Oregon as much as I do. And as I am sure you agree, in order for us to move forward, the first order of business is to regain the confidence of the people.

"There are several things we can do, and one of them starts right now.

"I pledge to you today that for as long as I am your Governor, I will not seek or accept any outside compensation, from any source. And I pledge further that while I am Governor, the members of my household and the members of my staff will not seek or accept any outside compensation, from any source, for any work related to the business of the State of Oregon. That simply won't happen.

"Beyond that, we must seize this moment to work across party lines to restore the public's trust. That means passing meaningful legislation that strengthens the capacity and independence of the Government Ethics Commission. We also must strengthen laws to ensure timely release of public documents.

"We should not leave here without getting this done.

"We must work together to address these and other real problems in real time; to strengthen Oregon's recovery from the recession; to improve access to quality education and health care, and create more living-wage jobs in every corner of the state.

"Although as individuals we may have our differences, one thing connects us – we are all Oregonians. We are innovators, seekers, doers. Even our state motto, "She flies with her own wings," underscores the extraordinary Oregon spirit that unites us and characterizes us as a people.

"It is time once again set our sights on Oregon's future, to stretch our wings toward new horizons. Today is nearly half gone; tomorrow awaits, full of promise. Now it's time to get to work.

"Thank you."

The Benediction was given by Delores Pigsley, Confederated Tribes of Siletz Chairman.

HB 2655 (A-Engrossed) – McKeown requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

"Today I took a very difficult vote.

"As a mother, and a former school board member and board chair, I have been engaged in public education conversations for decades. The state of Oregon's schools have been at the center of conversations here in Salem all throughout this legislative session. We must do better. No one debates that point.

"This morning on the Floor I voted "no" on HB 2655.

"I understand that parents have concerns as we transition into a new testing environment. Parents, teachers and administrative staff from the school districts I represent have contacted me, and I have taken their comments to heart.

"Because of my experience in education, I understand the importance of testing data for local school districts to make decisions based on current practices and performance. In order to improve, we must know at what level our students are performing relative to key benchmarks to best serve their individual needs.

"Once families begin "opting-out" of standardized test, districts no longer have an accurate reflection of current performance in their schools.

"My "no" vote today is a reflection of my concern for the length of time that the "opt-out" choice would be available. My hope is that this bill will come back from the Senate amended to include an opt-out period of two or four years, which I can support."

"Although I voted for HB 2960, I remain concerned that the bill will trigger the federal Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA) liability for employers and the state. Therefore, I urge the Retirement Savings Board created by HB 2960 to obtain an advisory opinion on the subject as early in the process of developing the program as possible. In its Report and Recommendations, issued September 15, 2015, the Oregon Retirement Savings Task Force stated that the most significant unanswered legal question remaining is whether the State's sponsorship of a retirement savings strategy complies with ERISA.

"The Task Force recommended that the state obtain guidance from legal experts in coordination with other states facing similar ERISA concerns, and that this counsel be used to develop a plan with enough definition and certainty to receive an expedited opinion from the US Department of Labor.

"Because of the significant costs that could be imposed on employers and the state by a non-compliant state-run retirement plan, I urge the Retirement Savings Board to make obtaining an early opinion from DOL a high priority."

Smith declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

"I am an owner of a limited liability company that works with both private businesses and public entities. I am declaring a conflict of interest due to the possibility of my company being affected by the passage of House Bill 5005-A in the 2015-17 biennium."

HB 5005 (A-Engrossed) – On passage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 53; Nays, 5 – Bentz, Nearman, Parrish, Post, Weidner; Excused, 2 – Buehler, Gallegos. Bill passed.

HB 5005 (A-Engrossed) – Barreto requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

"The bonding in this bill supported many good projects including many in my own District. These projects include: Oregon Business Development, Blue Mountain Community College Animal Science Education Center, along with others outside of my district such as Treasure Valley Workforce Vocational Center and the Department of Veterans Affairs.

"Some of the projects in this bill that I did not have time to fully vet and I would not have voted on. With the current process used, we are confronted with voting on huge expenditures and are forced to take the good with the bad.

"To best serve the people of Oregon, we should be afforded the time as well as the opportunity to vote on each project individually."

HB 5005 (A-Engrossed) – Gilliam requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

"While many items in the bill were laudable, there are scores of others that represent large expenditures that are not necessarily transparent. I am not a member of the Committee on Ways and Means, and the Legislature has a long standing penchant for bringing these voluminous bills to a floor vote in the last hours of the last day of Session. I regret that it was again difficult to ascertain a complete justification for many very large expenditures of taxpayers' dollars. However, given the critical nature of the bulk of these spending packages for vulnerable Oregonians in my District, as well as the programs for basic safety and infrastructure state-wide, I voted in favor."

HB 5005 (A-Engrossed) – Whisnant requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

"HB 5005 limits the maximum amount of bonds and third party financing agreements that state agencies may issue and the amount of revenue state agencies may raise from such issuance.

"The bonding in this bill supports many good projects like community colleges and public university construction, expanding the Oregon Youth Challenge Facility to house more students including ladies, and helps fund the Jefferson Courthouse.

"There are some projects which I may not have supported without further justification. However, the leadership decides which projects are placed on into this bill as a group. We are not provided the time or opportunity to vote on each project."

HB 5006 (A-Engrossed) – Read third time. Carried by Read.

Smith declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

"Colleagues, I am a member of a limited liability company that does business, community, and economic development throughout Eastern Oregon. While these dollars will not come directly to me, I do work with folks that work in these programs."

HB 5006 (A-Engrossed) – On passage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 50; Nays, 8 – Bentz, Hack, Hayden, Nearman, Parrish, Post, Weidner, Whitsett; Excused, 2 – Buehler, Gallegos. Bill passed.

HB 5006 (A-Engrossed) – Barreto requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

"Of the major spending bills voted on in the last day of the session, this was a most difficult. HB 5006 had benefits that were nearly offset with spending I did not agree with. But we are given only one choice, to vote for the complete package or nothing.

"My 'yes' vote was for some good projects such as reconstruction and rehabilitation of the Eastern Oregon airports at McDermitt and Condon as well as the Aurora airport Control Tower. Other worthy projects included the Youth Challenge Armory, McLaren facility improvements, Willamette Falls Fishway, and a Meacham Maintenance Station.

"It would be better for taxpayers if Representatives could vote on each project in this bill based solely on the merits of each particular project."

HB 5006 (A-Engrossed) – Gilliam requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

"While many items in the bill were laudable, there are scores of others that represent large expenditures that are not necessarily transparent. I am not a member of the Committee on Ways and Means, and the Legislature has a long standing penchant for bringing these voluminous bills to a floor vote in the last hours of the last day of Session. I regret that it was again difficult to ascertain a complete justification for many very large expenditures of taxpayers' dollars. However, given the critical nature of the bulk of these spending packages for vulnerable Oregonians in my District, as well as the programs for basic safety and infrastructure state-wide, I voted in favor."

HB 5029 (A-Engrossed) – Read third time. Carried by Buckley.

Smith declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

"I am an owner of a limited liability company that works with both private businesses and public entities. I am declaring a conflict of interest due to the possibility of my company being affected by the passage of House Bill 5029-A in the 2015-17 biennium."

HB 5029 (A-Engrossed) – On passage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 54; Nays, 4 – Hack, Hayden, Post, Weidner; Excused, 2 – Buehler, Gallegos. Bill passed.

HB 5030 (A-Engrossed) – Read third time. Carried by Read.

Smith declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

"I am an owner of a limited liability company that works with both private businesses and public entities. I am declaring a conflict of interest due to the possibility of my company being affected by the passage of House Bill 5030-A in the 2015-17 biennium."

Buckley declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

"I am submitting in writing a conflict of interest in the lottery bonding package, as set out in HB 5030. The package includes $2m for infrastructure funding for the Oregon Shakespeare Festival in order to help the festival comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act and rebuild the brick courtyard between two of the OSF theatres. My wife and one of our sons work for OSF. While I did not ask the Oregon Arts Advocacy Commission to include OSF in their request, I definitely support the expenditure given the economic and cultural benefits that will result."

HB 5030 (A-Engrossed) – On passage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 48; Nays, 9 – Hack, Hayden, Heard, Nearman, Parrish, Post, Stark, Weidner, Wilson; Excused, 2 – Buehler, Gallegos; Excused for Business of the House, 1 – Clem. Bill passed.

HB 5030 (A-Engrossed) – Barreto requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

"I voted YES on HB 5030 because it contained some projects which I considered very noble. One project that I thought was extremely worthy of my vote and will benefit the rural community of Elgin Oregon, was the Elgin Health Clinic which will serve the health needs of this small town. Other projects that were included that I thought were beneficial were Brownfield projects, CTE Center in Salem, and the Umatilla Water Project, which will bring approximately a billion dollars of revenue into the area.

"There were other projects that I would have voted NO on, if we were given a line item option. Each project funding should be based on the merits of the project, not because they are part of a 'package' that you have to either take it all or leave it all. This is not beneficial to the citizens of Oregon."

HB 5030 (A-Engrossed) – Whisnant requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

"I voted 'YES' on this bill because the bill contains good projects to bond like the Connect Oregon VI $45 million for regional transportation projects, $13 million for regional solutions capital projects, and $21 million for water resource development projects and water resource planning.

"There were some projects on which I did not support and would have voted 'NO.'

"However, leadership does not give us this option."

Smith declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

“Colleagues, I have a son who is an athlete that has been visited by the university (Eastern Oregon University) but will not be attending there.

“Colleagues, I am a member of a limited liability company that does business, community, and economic development throughout Eastern Oregon. While there is nothing in this bill that will directly benefit me, in the interest of full transparency, I do want to share this with you.”

SB 5507 (A-Engrossed) – On passage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 55; Nays, 3 – Nearman, Post, Weidner; Excused, 2 – Buehler, Gallegos. Bill passed.

SB 5507 (A-Engrossed) – Barreto requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“This bill contained a number of good projects that were voted on throughout the session in the form of policy bills. As policy bills, each had a fiscal report. When HB 5507 was compiled, many additional projects that I did not endorse were added into the bill. But because there were many good projects and without the opportunity to vote on each individually, I voted yes on this bill. I believe the public should have their say as to how this method of extra spending is dealt with.”

SB 5507 (A-Engrossed) – Gilliam requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“While many items in the bill were laudable, there are scores of others that represent large expenditures that are not necessarily transparent. I am not a member of the Committee on Ways and Means, and the Legislature has a long standing penchant for bringing these voluminous bills to a floor vote in the last hours of the last day of Session. I regret that it was again difficult to ascertain a complete justification for many very large expenditures of taxpayers’ dollars. However, given the critical nature of the bulk of these spending packages for vulnerable Oregonians in my District, as well as the programs for basic safety and infrastructure state-wide, I voted in favor.”

SB 5507 (A-Engrossed) – Whisnant requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“I voted ‘YES’ on this bill because this bill contains good expenditures of state funds and other funds for good projects but many on which I would have voted ‘NO.’

“Thus, I believe and support each expenditure having an ‘up or down’ vote on each expenditure.

“However, SB 5507 is the 2015 session bill, with many funded projects, which is referred to as the ‘Christmas Tree’ bill. If one reviews this and past ‘Christmas Tree’ bills; one will see that the majority party received more of the funds and projects in the ‘Christmas Tree’ than the minority party. Also, the ‘Christmas Tree’ bill is voted on with very minimum time for committee review or review by the entire body and very little citizen input.

“I urge the public to demand that each expenditure be voting on individually not as part of a ‘Christmas Tree’ bill.”

SB 447 (B-Engrossed) – Read third time. Carried by Fagan. On passage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 58; Excused, 2 – Buehler, Gallegos. Bill passed.

SB 501 (A-Engrossed) – Read third time. Carried by Buckley. On passage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 42; Nays, 16 – Barreto, Bentz, Esquivel, Hack, Hayden, Heard, Johnson, Kennemer, McLane, Nearman, Parrish, Post, Sprenger, Stark, Weidner, Whitsett; Excused, 2 – Buehler, Gallegos. Bill passed.

Pursuant to ORS 291.330, Speaker announced the following appointments to the Emergency Board: Kotek, Co-Chair; Buckley, Huffman, Komp, McLane, Nathanson, Read, Smith, Whitsett, Williamson.

Hoyle moved Emergency Board appointments be approved en-bloc. Motion carried, the vote being: Yeas, 58; Excused, 2 – Buehler, Gallegos. Appointments approved en-bloc.

By unanimous consent, on request of Speaker, rules suspended to temporarily advance to the order of business of Final Readings of Memorials and Resolutions.

HCR 33 – Read in its entirety. Carried by Hoyle. On adoption of the measure the vote was: Yeas, 58; Excused, 2 – Buehler, Gallegos. Resolution adopted.
