(5) The electronic voting system shall not be used for election of officers.

3.20 Requirements for Voting. (1) Each member within the bar when the question is stated and the member's name is called shall vote. No member shall be allowed to abstain from voting.

(2) If a member refuses to vote when the member's name is called, the presiding officer shall immediately call for the member's vote a second time. The Representative shall be censured; the Clerk shall record the Representative's vote on the measure on which the member refused to vote as a "yea;" and the member may also be subject to other penalties as the House may order.

(4) No member, except by unanimous consent, shall be permitted to vote upon any question unless he or she is within the bar before the last name on an oral roll call was called or is within the bar before the electronic voting system is closed. No member shall vote or be allowed to change their vote after the presiding officer announces the result of the roll call by declaring the question has passed or failed to pass.

3.21 Announcement of Conflict of Interest. (1) When involved in an actual or potential conflict of interest, as defined by ORS 244.020, a member shall announce, on the floor or in the committee meeting, the nature of the actual or potential conflict prior to voting on the issue giving rise to the conflict.

(2) The member shall file in writing a statement of the nature of the actual or potential conflict with the Chief Clerk or the committee assistant by 5:00 p.m. the next business day following the vote on the measure. The statement shall be limited to the substance of the oral explanation given on the floor or in committee. The member's announcement of an actual or potential conflict of interest shall be recorded in the Journal or in the committee minutes.

3.26 Electronic Roll Call; Time, Changes. When a vote is taken using the electronic voting system, the members shall be allowed at least thirty seconds to vote, at the end of which time, the Clerk will display the vote. (1) Any member who wishes to explain his or her vote shall file the written explanation with the Chief Clerk by 5:00 p.m. the next business day following the vote on the measure. (3) Upon a Call of the House, the Sergeant at Arms shall cause all members who are not excused to come to the floor. If the Sergeant at Arms cannot locate any unexcused member, the Sergeant at Arms shall so report to the presiding officer, who shall announce the fact to the members.

(4) All members must remain within the bar of the House until the vote is taken for which the Call was made. However, when the House is waiting for an unexcused member and the presiding officer has announced that the House is "at ease," the members may have access to the area behind the rostrum until the presiding officer calls the House to order. Members must then return to within the bar.

(5) A Call of the House shall be considered terminated when the question for which the Call was invoked has been voted upon or when a motion to terminate the Call is approved by forty members. The motion to terminate the Call shall be in order when the Sergeant at Arms has reported that unexcused members cannot be returned within a reasonable time. Termination of the Call under this subsection terminates the requirement that the Sergeant at Arms search for unexcused members. In the absence of a quorum after the report of the Sergeant at Arms is received, the House may terminate the Call by the unanimous consent of the members present.

(6) Upon a Call and until the proceedings are terminated, the presiding officer may direct the Sergeant at Arms to authorize members of the Senate, representatives of the news media and staff to leave or enter the chamber.

The remarks below appear as prepared.

Inaugural Address
John A. Kitzhaber, M.D
January 12, 2015

“Well, thank you very much. There are a lot of people that I could recognize and that deserve recognition. I just want to briefly recognize my two sisters, Ann and Ellen, who have come here today. And of course my son, Logan. I also want to thank Adjutant General Dan Hokanson, from the Oregon National Guard, and Rich Evans, the Superintendent of the State Police. And all of our first responders for everything they do to keep us safe.

“Now, I expect a lot of you to have tonight’s game on your mind. Some of you might even wish you had tickets, I certainly wish I had. But it is amazing how this game has managed to unite the state. I saw a guy on Friday in full blown, front on, Beaver regalia; black sneakers, Orange pants, black shirt, orange jacket, black hat with an orange beaver on the cap and a great big “Go Ducks!” yellow sticker on his chest. And I am always amazed at these athletic events and I am sure you felt the same, with all of these people packed in together - republicans and democrats, urban, rural, all races, all walks of life - and it doesn’t matter. They are united in the common cause in making sure that their team wins. And sometimes, I wonder what it would take to unify team Oregon around the same kind of common purpose to deal with childhood hunger or education or creating jobs in rural Oregon. And that’s what I want to talk to you about briefly this morning.

“I remember standing in this chamber in 1979 - 36 years ago - right back at the seat where Shemia Fagan sits. I think it’s desk 35, getting sworn in as a freshman member of the House of Representatives, right before we swore in the late Victor Atiyeh as our 32nd governor. And I remember the first time I got to sit on this dais and that was 30 years ago as a newly elected Senate President presiding over the 1985 Legislative Session - and looking out at this magnificent chamber and at the names that are engraved on the walls - people like Narcissa Whitman and John Gray and John Jacob Astor, the men and women who built the foundations of our state.

“Well, as it turns out, I have spent most of my adult life in this building and I love it very much. And since I have just been sworn in for the very last time ever, I thought I would take a few minutes and reflect about what I have learned over the last 36 years that might be of some value, and why I did it and what I hope to achieve in the next four years - which would complete the arc of my political career.

“So, I thought (I would) start by sharing a little personal information - although, thanks to our friends up here I don’t think there is very much left out there. But, I have great faith in them. My political career really was the result of two things. The first, was the fact that 67 years ago I was born to parents who were members of what Tom Brokaw called the “Greatest Generation.” And second was that 47 years ago Robert Kennedy ran for president of the United States.

“Now, my father was born in Iowa and he was born 1915, and my mother was born in Joseph, Oregon in 1917, and they met at Washington State University in 1939 and they got married the next year, November 2, 1940.

“And, when the U.S. entered the Second World War, my father was drafted and left his wife of less than two years, and boarded a troop transport called “The Robert Sherman” in New York harbor for the dangerous trip across the North Atlantic. Just before the ship sailed a Red Cross volunteer came on board and told my father that his first child had been born, that was my sister Ann, who he wouldn’t see for almost 2 years.

“My father landed in France and marched all the way across Europe to Berlin. And from the day he was drafted until, including the seventeen months he was with Patton’s Army in Europe, my parents wrote to one another almost every day. And I have always thought it was a poignant tribute to their 65-year romance that they kept all of these letters. And in 2002 my father edited them and put them in a volume that he simply called, “The War Letters” and gave a copy to me and to my sisters.

“This is really a remarkable document, covering the period from August 1943 and November 1945, and it chronicles the lives of two ordinary people - regular citizens and new parents - and the amazing sacrifices that they made to win the war and to rebuild the world in its aftermath. And before he died, I used to call my father up every year on June 6th - the anniversary of D-Day - and I would thank him for saving the world ... because that is exactly what that generation did.

“But not only did they win the Second World War; they created our system of higher education, they built the transmission grid, they gave us the civil rights movement, and landmark environmental legislation. They put in place the great social programs of the last century - Social Security and Medicare and Medicaid. And in their spare time they cured polio and eradicated smallpox. And then they went to the moon.

“So I grew up in an era where people still believed in government and believed that it was a vehicle through which we could do amazing things for the whole society that we could not possibly do by ourselves: like bringing electricity to rural America; like the GI bill, like building the interstate highway system. I still believe it, and I’m here today because I still believe in our government. And that it can be a force for good in our lives.

“But I have learned that those kinds of remarkable accomplishments are only possible if they are driven by a sense of common purpose. The sense of common purpose of the Greatest Generation was very clear and unambiguous: it was to defeat Nazi Germany and the Axis powers; it was to rebuild America; and it was to do all they could to make sure their children would be better off than they were.

“Today things are a little bit more ambiguous. Our problems are more complex and they are often interrelated; there are no obvious solutions; there is little low hanging fruit and almost no quick fixes in a nation that is addicted to fast food and instant gratification. But I can tell you that the need for a sense of common purpose is just as important today as it was 70 years ago on V-E Day - May 8, 1945 - when Germany surrendered to the Allies.

“A sense of common purpose is the one essential ingredient necessary to build community - which allows people to come together and do collectively things that would be difficult or impossible for them to do by themselves. And it is that sense of common purpose that offers that adhesiveness that holds us together and allows us to act in concert as a community.

“That brings me to Robert Kennedy and the influence that he had on my life. I was a 21 year-old college student when Bobby Kennedy ran for president and it was a remarkable campaign unlike any I have seen before or after. It was a campaign that truly focused on equity and opportunity.

“It was a campaign about unrepresented farm workers in California. It was a campaign about poverty and hunger and children starving to death in the Mississippi Delta and on the Pine Ridge Reservation. And it was a campaign that asked difficult and disturbing questions: questions about a GDP that measured wealth but not well-being; questions about how we could allow this to exist, these contradictions, in the wealthiest nation in the world. And it asked questions about who we were and how we wanted to treat one another as Americans and as fellow human beings.

“And if you remember, it was a very short campaign. It lasted 82 days, from when he announced until when he was assassinated on June 6th, which, interestingly enough, was the 24th anniversary of D-Day. I was inspired by that campaign because of his sincerity, because of his passion, because of his courage to speak from the heart and say things that needed to be said. And from the moment he died in Los Angeles I knew that this is where I wanted to be, and I wanted to commit myself to public service.

“Now, to me, the central message in Bobby Kennedy’s last campaign was this: if a sense of common purpose is essential to build community, and if community is what allows us to come together to do collectively things we could not do individually... then the strength of a community is inversely proportional to the level of disparity or inequality that exists within it.

“What Robert Kennedy was doing in that campaign was calling out the disparities and inequalities in our society and asking people why we allow them to exist. And that made a lot of people really uncomfortable in 1968. That was 47 years ago ... and asking those same questions today still make a lot of people really uncomfortable.

“But those questions need to be asked – and they need to be answered – because disparity is the enemy of community; it separates us; it divides us; it reflects inequality; it reflects a lack of fairness; it says that somebody’s being left behind; that somebody is being excluded.

“And if you are the person being excluded from the community, then there is no sense of common purpose. Without common purpose you can’t have community. And if we don’t have community, we don’t have the capacity to meet the challenges that face us today as a society and as a state.

“Last week I had the honor of speaking at our State Business Summit and the theme of that summit was: “In It Together” – a commitment to ensure that all of us have the opportunity to achieve a greater share of prosperity. And I must tell you that I am proud to live in a state where the business community would make a commitment like that; and also to set goals for collective action around education, around infrastructure, around rural economic development to make sure that we deliver on that commitment.

“But even if we are successful in meeting those goals – and I support each and every one of them – we will not succeed in giving all Oregonians a greater share of prosperity unless we are willing to have the courage and honesty to question one basic fact. And that is the inherent contradiction between a growing economy and the increasingly desperate plight of hundreds of thousands of our fellow Oregonians.

“Indeed, sometimes I feel a bit disingenuous using the word economic “recovery” because I am certain that this term does not have much meaning for hundreds of thousands of people in the state today.

“We currently measure economic recovery in two ways: how many jobs we are creating and how fast the state GDP – the creation of wealth – is growing, and by those metrics we are doing really, really well in Oregon. We have gained back all the jobs that we lost during the Great Recession and – as measured by growth in the GDP – we had the fifth fastest state growing economy in the nation in 2011, and the fourth fastest in 2012.

“But here is the question: how does that actually translate into the well-being of our fellow Oregonians – in terms of their ability to support their families, and meet their basic needs, and feed their kids. And the answer is: not very well, not very well. It’s not that we aren’t creating well-paying jobs, we are, but we are not creating them as fast as the ones we lost during the Great Recession. And this is actually something that’s been going on for a long time.

“Between 1945 (the end of the Second World War) and the mid-1970s, productivity in our country grew 96% and wages grew by 94%. Between the mid-1970s and 2011 productivity increased 80% and wages increased 10%. So the point is, our workers are more productive than ever before but they are not sharing equitably in the wealth that they are helping to create. And that trend is increasing.

“And it seems to me that should be troubling to all of us because one of the basic premises on which our nation was founded was the belief that in America, hard work is actually rewarded with a better life. But, for a growing number of Oregonians that is simply not the case. In the midst of our economic “recovery” a growing number of people are trapped in low-paying, part-time jobs on which they cannot possibly raise a family – and with absolutely no hope of moving out or moving up. Why?

“Why are one out of five Oregon children still living in poverty in this state of ours? Why are over 30 percent of our children facing food insecurity on a regular basis? Why is unemployment among Latinos 27% and among African Americans, Native Americans, Hawaiians/Pacific Islanders and those with disabilities over 30%? And most importantly why is this acceptable to us in this state of Oregon?

“I think we can all agree that this situation is not only unfair but it divides us and adds to the disparities in our community and makes it even harder for us to come together in a common cause.

“Now, the answers to these questions are complicated – I know that – and no one person, least of all me, has all the answers. But if we begin to ask the right questions I know we can make progress because an Oregon economy that moves some of us forward and leaving others behind slows down progress for all of us.

“As author Thomas Pynchon observed in his novel Gravity’s Rainbow: ‘If they can get you asking the wrong questions, they don’t have to worry about the answers.’ And if the only questions we are asking are how fast is the state GDP growing and how many jobs are we creating then we don’t have to worry about their quality: about where these jobs are or what they pay or whether they are connected to career paths, or who is getting them or the environmental cost of creating them.

“But, if we are willing to come together and ask these hard questions – and hold onto the common purpose that is our intent to lift up the whole community, not just part of it – then I am confident that we can move ahead.

“Forty years ago I finished upon my internship in Denver, Colorado and I moved to Roseburg, Oregon – a freshly minted 27-year-old invincible ER doctor who was young and really naïve and really idealistic. Ten years later in 1978 (which was four years later, ten years after Bobby Kennedy was killed) I ran and was elected to the Oregon House of Representatives, ready to try to save the world, like my parents had. And I’ve learned a few things along the way. First, I’ve learned that saving the world is a lot harder than it sounds. It doesn’t happen with a flash of lightning or a clap of thunder. And it doesn’t flow from inspirational speeches – although inspiration is important.

“Robert Kennedy was very inspirational but I have absolutely no idea whether or not he would have been a good or effective president. But what I have learned is that to achieve what Robert Kennedy dreamed would have taken a lot of hard, unglamorous work in the trenches – making compromises, dealing with egos, balancing conflicting agendas, being patient and tenacious even in the face of setbacks, showing up, hanging in there, not giving up.

“I have learned that the role of government is not to fix things but to create a space where people can fix things for themselves. And I have learned that you cannot advance the common good from Salem but only by engaging people where they live and showing them that they have a stake in the problem and some sense of ownership in the solution. And my friends, we are doing that every day here in Oregon through our regional solutions committees; our coordinated care organizations; our early learning hubs, our watershed councils; and, yes, through the Oregon Business Plan.

“And here is something else I have learned, and I really believe this: people in our state and across this land want community, they yearn for a sense of belonging, and some greater common purpose. So after 36 years I am certainly no longer young and I am certainly no longer naïve ... but I am still idealistic. I still believe that all of us want to rise above our own worst day and give something back to our families and to our community. And I still believe in the power of individuals – acting from courage and conviction – to change the world in which they live for the better.

“So let us commit ourselves to that; let us commit ourselves to the proposition that we’re going to ensure that everyone in this state has an equal opportunity to meet their basic needs; to strive to achieve their full potential; to have hard work actually rewarded with a better life; and to leave their children better off than they were both economically and environmentally.

“It’s not going to happen overnight, it’s not going to happen in the next four years – probably not in the next ten, because although much progress has been made, a long road still stretches out before us – and some of us are not going to see the end of that road. But I can tell you, as the father of a 17-year-old son, I know that it is the contributions we make to that future along the way that will ultimately matter the most in the end.

“I want to close my remarks today with the words of Oregon poet Kim Stafford, who very eloquently captures the challenge, and the responsibility, and I think the opportunity before us in what he calls ‘Lloyd’s Story,’ it’s a true story actually.

“Lloyd Reynolds, the international citizen of Portland, spent his last days in pain, silent, unable to write or speak, lying in a hospital bed. On his last day at home, as his wife scurried to pack his suitcase for the hospital, Lloyd made his way outside to the garden and there she found him on his knees, awkwardly planting flower bulbs with a spoon. ‘Lloyd,’ she said, ‘you will never see those flowers bloom.’

“He smiled at her. ‘They are not for me,’ he said, ‘they are for you. The salmon coming home? They are for you. The calls of the wild geese? They are for you. The last old trees? They are for you and your children, to the seventh generation and beyond. They are all blooming into being for you.’

“Good words to hold onto as we start this 78th Session of the Oregon Legislature.

“Thank you very much.”

Swearing-In Ceremony of the Honorable Kate Brown

38th Governor of the State of Oregon

Seventy-Eighth Assembly of Oregon

House Chamber, State Capitol

The Colors were presented by Oregon National Guard Select Color Guard.

The Honorable Thomas A. Balmer, Chief Justice, administered the Oath of Office to the Honorable Kate Brown.

The Honorable Kate Brown, Governor of the State of Oregon, delivered the following Governor's Address:

The remarks below appear as prepared.

"Governors Roberts and Kulongoski, tribal leaders, Speaker Kotek, President Courtney, honored colleagues, good morning.

"As I take the oath of office this morning, I am blessed to have the support of a large and wonderful family, many of whom are here. I want to specially thank two people who've had a great influence on my life: my mother, Sally, and my spouse, Dan Little, who is my rock.

"It's been a tough few months. The people of Oregon have had reason to question their trust in state government. Oregon has been in the national news for all the wrong reasons.

"That changes starting today. It's time for us to get back to work. It's time to move Oregon forward.

"This great state is blessed with so many amazing qualities: breath-taking natural wonders, a resilient people and an unmatched quality of life. People born here want to stay here, and people are drawn here from all over the country. We are all fiercely proud to be Oregonians.

"Before I sought public office, I worked as a family law advocate. There, I witnessed first-hand the problems of people whose lives were dramatically impacted by the law, but who seldom had an impact on shaping it – the child who needs a more stable home; the survivor of domestic violence; the family struggling to make ends meet.

"I carry with me their faces and stories every day when I come to work.

"And throughout my 24 years in public service, I have also sought to promote transparency and trust in government, working to build confidence that our public dollars are spent wisely.

"As Governor, this will not change.

"I will be a Governor who wants to hear the concerns of everyday Oregonians – children and working parents, small business owners and senior citizens.

"In the public dialogue about resources and priorities, they will be my central focus.

"It is with everyday Oregonians in mind that I take office today with enthusiasm and purpose. The legislature is in session; the budget has been submitted and more than 1,700 bills have been filed. Speaker Kotek, President Courtney, members of the legislature, on behalf of all Oregonians, thank you for your dedication and perseverance throughout this recent ordeal.

"There is a great deal of work ahead of us, and I am ready to roll up my sleeves and get to it.

"We are all keenly aware of the difficult circumstances that brought us to this moment – circumstances that none of us would have predicted only a short time ago.

"Governor Kitzhaber dedicated most of his adult life to serving the people of Oregon. His contributions to our state are well woven into the fabric of our public life.

"But now, we must restore the public's trust.

"I know that every Representative and Senator in this chamber loves Oregon as much as I do. And as I am sure you agree, in order for us to move forward, the first order of business is to regain the confidence of the people.

"There are several things we can do, and one of them starts right now.

"I pledge to you today that for as long as I am your Governor, I will not seek or accept any outside compensation, from any source. And I pledge further that while I am Governor, the members of my household and the members of my staff will not seek or accept any outside compensation, from any source, for any work related to the business of the State of Oregon. That simply won't happen.

"Beyond that, we must seize this moment to work across party lines to restore the public's trust. That means passing meaningful legislation that strengthens the capacity and independence of the Government Ethics Commission. We also must strengthen laws to ensure timely release of public documents.

"We should not leave here without getting this done.

"We must work together to address these and other real problems in real time; to strengthen Oregon's recovery from the recession; to improve access to quality education and health care, and create more living-wage jobs in every corner of the state.

"Although as individuals we may have our differences, one thing connects us – we are all Oregonians. We are innovators, seekers, doers. Even our state motto, "She flies with her own wings," underscores the extraordinary Oregon spirit that unites us and characterizes us as a people.

"It is time once again set our sights on Oregon's future, to stretch our wings toward new horizons. Today is nearly half gone; tomorrow awaits, full of promise. Now it's time to get to work.

"Thank you."

The Benediction was given by Delores Pigsley, Confederated Tribes of Siletz Chairman.

HB 2655 (A-Engrossed) – McKeown requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

"Today I took a very difficult vote.

"As a mother, and a former school board member and board chair, I have been engaged in public education conversations for decades. The state of Oregon's schools have been at the center of conversations here in Salem all throughout this legislative session. We must do better. No one debates that point.

"This morning on the Floor I voted "no" on HB 2655.

"I understand that parents have concerns as we transition into a new testing environment. Parents, teachers and administrative staff from the school districts I represent have contacted me, and I have taken their comments to heart.

"Because of my experience in education, I understand the importance of testing data for local school districts to make decisions based on current practices and performance. In order to improve, we must know at what level our students are performing relative to key benchmarks to best serve their individual needs.

"Once families begin "opting-out" of standardized test, districts no longer have an accurate reflection of current performance in their schools.

"My "no" vote today is a reflection of my concern for the length of time that the "opt-out" choice would be available. My hope is that this bill will come back from the Senate amended to include an opt-out period of two or four years, which I can support."

“Although I voted for HB 2960, I remain concerned that the bill will trigger the federal Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA) liability for employers and the state. Therefore, I urge the Retirement Savings Board created by HB 2960 to obtain an advisory opinion on the subject as early in the process of developing the program as possible. In its Report and Recommendations, issued September 15, 2015, the Oregon Retirement Savings Task Force stated that the most significant unanswered legal question remaining is whether the State's sponsorship of a retirement savings strategy complies with ERISA.

“The Task Force recommended that the state obtain guidance from legal experts in coordination with other states facing similar ERISA concerns, and that this counsel be used to develop a plan with enough definition and certainty to receive an expedited opinion from the US Department of Labor.

“Because of the significant costs that could be imposed on employers and the state by a non-compliant state-run retirement plan, I urge the Retirement Savings Board to make obtaining an early opinion from DOL a high priority.”

HB 5005 (A-Engrossed) – Read third time. Carried by Read.

Smith declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

“I am an owner of a limited liability company that works with both private businesses and public entities. I am declaring a conflict of interest due to the possibility of my company being affected by the passage of House Bill 5005-A in the 2015-17 biennium.”

HB 5005 (A-Engrossed) – On passage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 53; Nays, 5 – Bentz, Nearman, Parrish, Post, Weidner; Excused, 2 – Buehler, Gallegos. Bill passed.

HB 5005 (A-Engrossed) – Barreto requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“The bonding in this bill supported many good projects including many in my own District. These projects include: Oregon Business Development, Blue Mountain Community College Animal Science Education Center, along with others outside of my district such as Treasure Valley Workforce Vocational Center and the Department of Veterans Affairs.

“Some of the projects in this bill that I did not have time to fully vet and I would not have voted on. With the current process used, we are confronted with voting on huge expenditures and are forced to take the good with the bad.

“To best serve the people of Oregon, we should be afforded the time as well as the opportunity to vote on each project individually.”

HB 5005 (A-Engrossed) – Gilliam requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“While many items in the bill were laudable, there are scores of others that represent large expenditures that are not necessarily transparent. I am not a member of the Committee on Ways and Means, and the Legislature has a long standing penchant for bringing these voluminous bills to a floor vote in the last hours of the last day of Session. I regret that it was again difficult to ascertain a complete justification for many very large expenditures of taxpayers’ dollars. However, given the critical nature of the bulk of these spending packages for vulnerable Oregonians in my District, as well as the programs for basic safety and infrastructure state-wide, I voted in favor.”

HB 5005 (A-Engrossed) – Whisnant requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“HB 5005 limits the maximum amount of bonds and third party financing agreements that state agencies may issue and the amount of revenue state agencies may raise from such issuance.

“The bonding in this bill supports many good projects like community colleges and public university construction, expanding the Oregon Youth Challenge Facility to house more students including ladies, and helps fund the Jefferson Courthouse.

“There are some projects which I may not have supported without further justification. However, the leadership decides which projects are placed on into this bill as a group. We are not provided the time or opportunity to vote on each project.”

HB 5006 (A-Engrossed) – Read third time. Carried by Read.

Smith declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

“Colleagues, I am a member of a limited liability company that does business, community, and economic development throughout Eastern Oregon. While these dollars will not come directly to me, I do work with folks that work in these programs.”

HB 5006 (A-Engrossed) – On passage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 50; Nays, 8 – Bentz, Hack, Hayden, Nearman, Parrish, Post, Weidner, Whitsett; Excused, 2 – Buehler, Gallegos. Bill passed.

HB 5006 (A-Engrossed) – Barreto requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“Of the major spending bills voted on in the last day of the session, this was a most difficult. HB 5006 had benefits that were nearly offset with spending I did not agree with. But we are given only one choice, to vote for the complete package or nothing.

“My ‘yes’ vote was for some good projects such as reconstruction and rehabilitation of the Eastern Oregon airports at McDermit and Condon as well as the Aurora airport Control Tower. Other worthy projects included the Youth Challenge Armory, McLaren facility improvements, Willamette Falls Fishway, and a Meacham Maintenance Station.

“It would be better for taxpayers if Representatives could vote on each project in this bill based solely on the merits of each particular project.”

HB 5006 (A-Engrossed) – Gilliam requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“While many items in the bill were laudable, there are scores of others that represent large expenditures that are not necessarily transparent. I am not a member of the Committee on Ways and Means, and the Legislature has a long standing penchant for bringing these voluminous bills to a floor vote in the last hours of the last day of Session. I regret that it was again difficult to ascertain a complete justification for many very large expenditures of taxpayers’ dollars. However, given the critical nature of the bulk of these spending packages for vulnerable Oregonians in my District, as well as the programs for basic safety and infrastructure state-wide, I voted in favor.”

HB 5029 (A-Engrossed) – Read third time. Carried by Buckley.

Smith declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

“I am an owner of a limited liability company that works with both private businesses and public entities. I am declaring a conflict of interest due to the possibility of my company being affected by the passage of House Bill 5029-A in the 2015-17 biennium.”

HB 5029 (A-Engrossed) – On passage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 54; Nays, 4 – Hack, Hayden, Post, Weidner; Excused, 2 – Buehler, Gallegos. Bill passed.

HB 5030 (A-Engrossed) – Read third time. Carried by Read.

Smith declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

“I am an owner of a limited liability company that works with both private businesses and public entities. I am declaring a conflict of interest due to the possibility of my company being affected by the passage of House Bill 5030-A in the 2015-17 biennium.”

Buckley declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

“I am submitting in writing a conflict of interest in the lottery bonding package, as set out in HB 5030. The package includes $2m for infrastructure funding for the Oregon Shakespeare Festival in order to help the festival comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act and rebuild the brick courtyard between two of the OSF theatres. My wife and one of our sons work for OSF. While I did not ask the Oregon Arts Advocacy Commission to include OSF in their request, I definitely support the expenditure given the economic and cultural benefits that will result.”

HB 5030 (A-Engrossed) – On passage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 48; Nays, 9 – Hack, Hayden, Heard, Nearman, Parrish, Post, Stark, Weidner, Wilson; Excused, 2 – Buehler, Gallegos; Excused for Business of the House, 1 – Clem. Bill passed.

HB 5030 (A-Engrossed) – Barreto requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“I voted YES on HB 5030 because it contained some projects which I considered very noble. One project that I thought was extremely worthy of my vote and will benefit the rural community of Elgin Oregon, was the Elgin Health Clinic which will serve the health needs of this small town. Other projects that were included that I thought were beneficial were Brownfield projects, CTE Center in Salem, and the Umatilla Water Project, which will bring approximately a billion dollars of revenue into the area.

“There were other projects that I would have voted NO on, if we were given a line item option. Each project funding should be based on the merits of the project, not because they are part of a ‘package’ that you have to either take it all or leave it all. This is not beneficial to the citizens of Oregon.”

HB 5030 (A-Engrossed) – Whisnant requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“I voted ‘YES’ on this bill because the bill contains good projects to bond like the Connect Oregon VI $45 million for regional transportation projects, $13 million for regional solutions capital projects, and $21 million for water resource development projects and water resource planning.

“There were some projects on which I did not support and would have voted ‘NO.’

“However, leadership does not give us this option.”

SB 5507 (A-Engrossed) – Read third time. Carried by Buckley.

Smith declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

“Colleagues, I have a son who is an athlete that has been visited by the university (Eastern Oregon University) but will not be attending there.

“Colleagues, I am a member of a limited liability company that does business, community, and economic development throughout Eastern Oregon. While there is nothing in this bill that will directly benefit me, in the interest of full transparency, I do want to share this with you.”

SB 5507 (A-Engrossed) – On passage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 55; Nays, 3 – Nearman, Post, Weidner; Excused, 2 – Buehler, Gallegos. Bill passed.

SB 5507 (A-Engrossed) – Barreto requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“This bill contained a number of good projects that were voted on throughout the session in the form of policy bills. As policy bills, each had a fiscal report. When HB 5507 was compiled, many additional projects that I did not endorse were added into the bill. But because there were many good projects and without the opportunity to vote on each individually, I voted yes on this bill. I believe the public should have their say as to how this method of extra spending is dealt with.”

SB 5507 (A-Engrossed) – Gilliam requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“While many items in the bill were laudable, there are scores of others that represent large expenditures that are not necessarily transparent. I am not a member of the Committee on Ways and Means, and the Legislature has a long standing penchant for bringing these voluminous bills to a floor vote in the last hours of the last day of Session. I regret that it was again difficult to ascertain a complete justification for many very large expenditures of taxpayers’ dollars. However, given the critical nature of the bulk of these spending packages for vulnerable Oregonians in my District, as well as the programs for basic safety and infrastructure state-wide, I voted in favor.”

SB 5507 (A-Engrossed) – Whisnant requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“I voted ‘YES’ on this bill because this bill contains good expenditures of state funds and other funds for good projects but many on which I would have voted ‘NO.’

“Thus, I believe and support each expenditure having an ‘up or down’ vote on each expenditure.

“However, SB 5507 is the 2015 session bill, with many funded projects, which is referred to as the ‘Christmas Tree’ bill. If one reviews this and past ‘Christmas Tree’ bills; one will see that the majority party received more of the funds and projects in the ‘Christmas Tree’ than the minority party. Also, the ‘Christmas Tree’ bill is voted on with very minimum time for committee review or review by the entire body and very little citizen input.

“I urge the public to demand that each expenditure be voting on individually not as part of a ‘Christmas Tree’ bill.”

As a result, the fees I collect on these cases will likely be impacted."

Barton declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

"Following up on my remarks earlier today, I am writing to declare a potential conflict of interest regarding HB 4136. This legislation would increase Oregon's cap on noneconomic damages. Lininger requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

"Today I voted against HB 4136, a measure to raise the cap on noneconomic damages recoverable in the event of wrongful death. I voted no out of concern this bill will increase costs in our healthcare system at a time when we need to manage and reduce those costs. I fear expenses could rise due to increased insurance premiums and extra tests and procedures conducted in the defensive practice of medicine. I worry this could hurt access to care, including access for rural Oregonians.

"I respect advocates on both sides of this bill, and I think it presents issues on which reasonable people can disagree. Based on my understanding of the issues at this time, however, I felt the need to vote no."

Lininger declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

“I would like to declare a conflict of interest over my vote on HB 4036. My husband is a commercial and regulatory attorney for PGE. PGE is one of the investor-owned utilities that helped negotiate the RPS deal memorialized in HB 4036. My husband was not involved in those negotiations, and he is not a lobbyist. I do not expect to profit directly from the passage of this bill, and my vote in support is consistent with my ongoing support for steps to address climate change.”

HB 4036 (A-Engrossed) – McKeown submitted the following vote explanation:

"I voted 'yes' on HB 4036 because I agree with the underlying tenants of the bill. I think that the transition to renewable energy is a necessary and exciting venture and I support an increase in the renewable portfolio standard for Oregon's energy providers.

"However, I feel compelled to share the following concerns:

"A number of stakeholders were not invited to the table as the negotiations moved forward. Examples are:

- a. Industrial Customers
- b. Consumer owned utilities
- c. Independent power producers
- d. Private electric vehicle charger representatives
- e. Energy service suppliers
- f. Public Utilities Commission

"Furthermore, I question the validity of the calculation that national carbon emissions levels will be impacted by the Coal to Clean portion of the bill. Limiting the purchasing ability of a utility does not limit the production ability of an energy producer.

"I feel strongly that it is in our best interest to raise the renewable portfolio standard and I am happy to support efforts to move Oregon toward 21st century energy standards. It is to this end that I support HB 4036."

HB 4046 (A-Engrossed) – McLane moved that in compliance with Article IV, Section 19 of the Oregon Constitution, and notwithstanding any provision of the Rules of the House of Representatives of the Seventy-eighth Legislative Assembly, the requirement that on its final passage each bill shall be read section by section, be suspended for the bill and that it be read by title only. HB 4122 (A-Engrossed) – McKeown requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the journal:

"I concur that our constituents have the right to know what is in their food; whether Genetically Engineered plant materials, or Genetically Engineered animal products.

"What I am concerned about is the manner in which the labeling is legislated and regulated. Labeling should be required at the federal level, not the state level. A patchwork approach to how agricultural products are labeled can be very difficult for our agricultural producers whose products cross state and national boundaries. Interstate commerce issues make this approach to labeling incredibly challenging.

"I have fully supported, and will continue to support labeling of these products, as long as it is federally mandated and regulated, and consistent across all regions of this country. Our constituents do have a right to know, but let's get it right."

Wilson declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

"I write to declare a potential conflict of interest concerning SB 1532A as a member of legislature and potentially voting a pay increase for legislators."

Weidner declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

"I hereby submit my potential conflict of interest for SB 1532. Due to several conflicting legal opinions from Legislative Counsel increasing the minimum wage may potentially result in a pay increase for Legislators. Out of caution, I would like to inform you for the record."

Davis declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

"I would like to declare a potential conflict of interest as a legislator that may be affected by a pay increase as a result of SB 1532 A."

Hack declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

Nearman declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

"This letter serves as notice of conflict of interest on SB1532A. This conflict is due to the possible pay raise for myself, as a legislator, and my wife, who works for the Department of Fish and Wildlife."

Stark declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

"I would like to declare a potential conflict of interest as a legislator that may be affected by a pay increase as a result of SB 1532 A."

Parrish declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

"Please accept this Conflict of Interest Statement for my vote on SB 1532 as it passed off the House Floor on 2/18/16.

"While I was personally a NO vote on the bill, I think the ambiguity on the legal opinions presented during the testimony creates a potential conflict of interest for any legislator who voted on the bill as the measure could have the net effect of giving legislators a pay raise.

"As a member of a class of only 90 legislators, and arguably, the only class of workers who can vote for a state-wide pay increase for workers across Oregon, I believe it to be entirely inappropriate that legislators would vote themselves a pay raise. Any ambiguous language should have been stripped out of the measure before it came to the House Floor for a vote."

Whisnant declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

"I would like to declare a potential conflict of interest as a legislator that may be affected by a pay increase as a result of SB 1532 A."

SB 1532 (A-Engrossed) – On passage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 32; Nays, 26 – Barreto, Bentz, Buehler, Davis, Esquivel, Hack, Hayden, Heard, Huffman, Johnson, Kennemer, Krieger, Lively, McKeown, McLane, Nearman, Olson, Parrish, Post, Smith, Sprenger, Stark, Weidner, Whisnant, Whitsett, Wilson; Excused, 2 – Barton, Gilliam. Bill passed.

SB 1532 (A-Engrossed) – Evans requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“Senate Bill 1532-A was a compromise bill. It was undertaken because of the extreme likelihood of an alternative proposal that would have implemented a new Minimum Wage rate for Oregon on a uniform basis, in less time. The most popular ballot measure would have established a $13.50 rate for Oregon within the next three years.

“After consultation with small business owners, workers, and community advocates I decided to try and influence the process through engaging on a legislative measure that would wage rates more closely associated with the realities of regional economies, provide for a longer period of time for implementation, and maintain the ability of the Oregon Legislature to adjust – through statute – as necessary.

“Senate Bill 1532-A was not a perfect bill. Rather, as an imperfect instrument, it provided a flexible framework for us to build upon. It is our fervent hope the advocates for wage increases through the ballot will cease their efforts; it is our intention to work with all sides throughout the implementation phases of this strategy.

“There are several pieces of legislation ‘on the table’ for consideration in 2017 that will hopefully relieve some of the stresses small businesses face while struggling to compete in our emergent global economy. Our small business agenda will cover several different areas of concern including but not limited to: rebates, simplification, and tax credits.

“During the recent committee and floor debates on Senate Bill 1532-A there was a spurious assertion made about the connection between the measure and a raise in Legislative Salaries. Throughout the floor debate advocates offered what appeared to be conflicting legislative opinions from our Legislative Counsel about the legislative intent of the measure. I am filing this vote explanation to clarify the issue.

“To begin with, Legislative Counsel confirmed that there was no direct relationship between Oregon’s Minimum Wage and the salaries of legislators. The process of pay determination for legislators actually requires affirmative votes by members of the Oregon Legislature in 2017 – members elected in the General Election in 2016 (at least for the House). During the 2017 Legislature, the Public Officials Compensation Commission (POCC) is required to make recommendations for the Legislature on July 1, 2017.

“Once recommendations are made by the POCC, the Legislature is required to take an affirmative vote to accept or deny these recommendations. It is the opinion of Legislative Counsel that absent that affirmative vote, legislative pay would be eliminated. In an email dated: February 18, 2016 (3:00pm) Legislative Counsel concluded the following:

“ ‘Voting in favor of SB 1532-A will not lead to an inevitable legislator pay increase. In fact, the opposite will happen if no further legislative action is taken, namely either elimination of legislative salary all together or a reduction to July 1, 2017, minimum wage levels. The existing statutory framework and past practice all suggest, however, that it is highly unlikely the legislature will take other steps to affix legislator pay at a level that reflects a legislative policy choice.’

“It was the opinion of Legislative Counsel at the time of the vote on Senate Bill 1532-A that legislative salary and the measure before the House of Representatives were not directly related. Further, it is clear that any raise in legislative salaries – regardless of Senate Bill 1532-A requires affirmative votes by a House of Representatives that has not been selected by the electorate. The Oregon Constitution requires membership of the House of Representatives to be elected every two years: all sixty (60) seats of the Oregon House of Representatives are up for election this coming November 2016.

“I believe Oregonians should value work more than wealth. Senate Bill 1532- A will raise the wages and improve the quality of life for thousands of Oregonians. It was crafted in such a way that will provide employers with increased time for planning and retains the ability of the Oregon Legislature to adjust the timelines involved when and if necessary. As I said in committee: the legislative intent of this bill – of Senate Bill 1532-A – is simple. The intent of the bill is to raise the Minimum Wage in Oregon; it is not intended to anything else.”

SB 1532 (A-Engrossed) – Gallegos requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“There have been suggestions that voting to raise the minimum wage for hard-working Oregon families could amount to an automatic raise to legislators’ salaries. I am filing this vote explanation to state for the record that the legislative intent behind SB 1532-A is in no way to raise legislators’ salaries, and further, according to a legal opinion by Legislative Counsel, SB 1532-A would not raise the salaries of legislators.

“In an opinion from Legislative Counsel on whether there was a direct relationship between Oregon’s minimum wage and the salaries of legislators, and whether Senate Bill 1532 necessarily increases member salaries, Legislative Counsel responded that ‘the short answer to both of those questions is no.’

“The Public Officials Compensation Commission will make salary recommendations to the Legislative Assembly on July 1, 2017. Quoting again directly from the LC opinion: ‘It is not possible to predict with accuracy what the Public Officials Compensation Commission will decide in the future with respect to member salary increases. However, it is highly unlikely that the commission will recommend a salary freeze or cost of living adjustments (COLA) that are disproportionate to current economic conditions. Thus, the statutory minimum salary under SB 1532-A may never affect member salaries at all.

“I believe that Oregonians who work hard and play by the rules should be able to feed their families and pay their bills. Raising the minimum wage for hundreds of thousands of low-wage workers was a critical step in the right direction. But I want to be clear that I came to Salem to help hard-working Oregon families. The legislative intent here is very clear: Nothing in this bill should be read as increasing legislator salaries. My ‘yes’ vote on SB 1532-A is with the understanding, per an opinion by Legislative Counsel, that this bill raises wages for working Oregonians, not legislators.”

SB 1532 (A-Engrossed) – Gorsek requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

Raising the minimum wage for hundreds of thousands of low-wage workers was a critical step in the right direction. But I want to be clear that I came to Salem to help hard-working Oregon families. The legislative intent here is very clear: Nothing in this bill should be read as increasing legislator salaries. My ‘yes’ vote on SB 1532-A is with the understanding, per an opinion by Legislative Counsel, that this bill raises wages for working Oregonians, not legislators.”

SB 1532 (A-Engrossed) – Hoyle requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“There have been suggestions that voting to raise the minimum wage for hard-working Oregon families could amount to an automatic raise to legislators’ salaries. I am filing this vote explanation to state for the record that the legislative intent behind SB 1532-A is in no way to raise legislators’ salaries, and further, according to a legal opinion by Legislative Counsel, SB 1532-A would not raise the salaries of legislators.

“In an opinion from Legislative Counsel on whether there was a direct relationship between Oregon’s minimum wage and the salaries of legislators, and whether Senate Bill 1532 necessarily increases member salaries, Legislative Counsel responded that ‘the short answer to both of those questions is no.’

“The Public Officials Compensation Commission will make salary recommendations to the Legislative Assembly on July 1, 2017. Quoting again directly from the LC opinion: ‘It is not possible to predict with accuracy what the Public Officials Compensation Commission will decide in the future with respect to member salary increases. However, it is highly unlikely that the commission will recommend a salary freeze or cost of living adjustments (COLA) that are disproportionate to current economic conditions. Thus, the statutory minimum salary under SB 1532-A may never affect member salaries at all.’

“I believe that Oregonians who work hard and play by the rules should be able to feed their families and pay their bills. SB 1503 (B-Engrossed) – Keny-Guyer requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the journal:

“While I voted Yes on SB 1503, I want to express my concerns and expectations for the continued data gathering on this issue.

“I have been concerned about ‘nurse parity’ since it was introduced in my first session in 2012. I was sympathetic to why ONA introduced the bill: starting in 2009, commercial insurers had slashed reimbursement rates for nurse practitioners (NPs) dramatically, by as much as 55% by one major insurer! I agreed this was not fair to NPs and was counter productive to our efforts to increase the primary care workforce.

“The legislature needed to remedy the situation and mandate a floor to protect a big portion of our primary care workforce. My hope was that (to the degree we do ‘fee for service’ reimbursement) we’d set a floor of 85% as in Medicare, and allow insurers to then pay more for service in under-represented areas and for years of service.

“Thus, I voted against nurse parity in 2012. In 2013, I voted for an amendment to limit HB 2902 and then gave a courtesy vote to pass it out of committee, but voted against it on the floor. This year, I remain concerned with pay parity for the reasons below; however, I voted Yes on SB 1503 to lift the sunset. It is hard to remove parity once people have had it, and there are other ways to get at my concerns going forward.

Reasons for my concern:

Fairness and equal pay for equal work

“Primary care physicians (e.g. pediatricians, internists, family physicians) and psychiatric physicians (e.g. psychiatrists) spend many more years in the classroom and in a variety of practicum settings. While it was unfair to slash NP’s reimbursement rates, is it ‘fair’ to compensate them the same as physicians, who have higher student debt and malpractice insurance, since they bear more responsibility? These physicians also delay their ‘earning years’ more than NPs while they are in training, thereby significantly increasing opportunity costs.

“More importantly, this is ‘equal work for equal pay’ due to the dramatic difference in years of training.

“While there is some research showing higher patient satisfaction with nurses, there is research about higher rates of misdiagnosis by NPs, of pharmaceutical prescriptions by PMHNPs, and of NPs referring to specialists. Since NPs do not have the three-month rotations in the specialty areas of medicine, I suspect this is truer of NPs who have been practicing for a short time as opposed to those with many years of practice.

“While the research is woefully skimpy on these comparisons (and I hope will be explored more fully in the future), there has been a strong trend in health care delivery towards Patient Centered Primary Care Homes. The team-based care allows each profession to contribute what it has been trained to deliver. NPs can consult with primary care physicians on complicated diagnoses that may or may not require referral to a sub-specialist, saving time and money to the patient and health care system. Thus, the work of the physicians is not ‘the same’ and should be compensated at a higher level.

Workforce

“With NPs and PAs receiving the same reimbursement rate as physicians, I am concerned that fewer and fewer people will want to become a pediatrician, internist, family physician, or psychiatrist. Given the evidence showing higher quality in team-based approaches, the lack of physician providers (which we already experience in rural areas) could potentially lower quality and raise costs.

Access for Medicaid patients

“Fewer doctors take Medicaid patients than commercially insured patients since the reimbursement rate is so much lower than in the commercial market. Traditionally, NPs have served that role (admirably!), since they were paid relatively similar amounts under Oregon Health Plan as in the commercial market. I am concerned that with parity and increased pay on the commercial side, NPs will do as doctors have always done: reduce the number of Medicaid patients they see.

Payment Delivery Systems

“The HB 2902 task force was charged with developing alternative payment systems to provide fair compensation for primary care providers while preserving parity for the same unit of work. They wrestled with the concept of paying physicians more by assigning them the more complicated cases (practicing at the top of their licenses), which would be reimbursed at higher levels.

“However they recognized that even with the efforts to draw more distinctions in the codes for level of service (LOS), “the LOS does not reflect the level of training, content knowledge, quality outcomes, or cumulative experience of a provider, even within the same licensed specialty.” In other words, should an NP who has worked for 30 years be compensated the same as an NP who has just graduated, for performing the same diagnosis?

“Ultimately, we still need to move towards a risk adjusted global payment for primary care and behavioral health. Then, Primary Care Homes can hire the providers and pay a salary commensurate with training, certification, and years of service, which can be adjusted based on outcomes.

Cost

“I used to be concerned that cost to the overall health care system would increase when we reimbursed NPs and PAs at the physician level. I worry less about that now. The HB 2902 task force found that incentivizing people to become NPs and PAs should increase access to primary care, which will lessen advanced illnesses and visits to emergency rooms.

Where do we go from here?

“As I stated when voting for SB 1503 in the House Health Care committee, I had hoped we’d pass the -5 amendment, which would direct OHA to track the changes in physician, psychiatrist, NP, and PA workforce over time. Because that amendment would send the bill to Ways and Means and the chair did not want to slow the bill during the short session, I got a commitment from OHA that it would continue to monitor the workforce, quality, access, and cost issues mentioned above.

“I hope the Oregon Health Policy Board, its Health Care Workforce Committee, its Sustainable Health Care Expenditures Workgroup (SHEW), and the Center for Evidence-Based Policy (all referenced in the HB 2902 Joint Interim Task Force report of 2015) will help OHA assess these issues over time. None of us has a crystal ball and can predict whether the hopes for increasing access through nurse parity or the concerns mentioned above will be realized. Oregon, as often is the case, is pioneering something no other state has done to date; and it is imperative that we track the results.

“If indeed we lose physicians, decrease quality, and/or lessen access in our Medicaid market, I believe there is a strong commitment to deal with those issues through other measures, such as loan forgiveness and tax breaks for any provider type that faces a shortage. With the commitment to track the data and mitigate any concerns in the future, I changed my position from opposition to support for SB 1503.”

“Infrastructure costs outside of the UGB mean more costly investments for all services. We should look inside the boundaries for a more complete communities concept.

“The table 5-OAR 660-038-0190 (5) shows opportunity to build better complete community types with this list of tools. It provides a more streamlined process for developers. All of that is in place without HB 4079.

SB 5702 Ways and Means
SB 1515 Ways and Means

SB 5701, 1501, 1573, 1595, 1599, 1601 – Read second time and passed to third reading.

SB 1507 (A-Engrossed) – Sprenger moved that in compliance with Article IV, Section 19 of the Oregon Constitution, and notwithstanding any provision of the Rules of the House of Representatives of the Seventy-eighth Legislative Assembly, the requirement that on its final passage each bill shall be read section by section, be suspended for the bill and the bill be read by title only. Motion carried on viva voce vote.

SB 1507 (A-Engrossed) – Read third time. Carried by Barnhart. On passage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 53; Nays, 6 – Nearman, Post, Smith Warner, Stark, Weidner, Whitsett; Excused, 1 – Hayden. Bill passed.

SB 1507 (A-Engrossed) – Smith Warner requested that the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“I voted no on Senate Bill 1507 because I believe that the goal of tax credits—to provide short term incentives that promote policies of benefit to Oregonians—has instead morphed into a system of corporate tax giveaways that often result in little public benefit, especially in terms of job creation. And the price tag paid by Oregonians is real: many millions of dollars each year are sacrificed to the tax break cause, at the expense of funding for our kids’ schools, the safety of our streets, and quality care for Oregon’s seniors.

“Without question, there are certain tax credits that do pay off with significant local job creation, such as Oregon’s film tax credit. And I agree that biomass digesters provide significant public benefit by reducing greenhouse gas emissions. However, a great number of tax breaks, credits and exemptions fail to meet their promises, yet are allowed to continue. Instead of utilizing tax credits as a short-term support on the road to long-term self-sustainability, some industries take advantage of these incentives as a means to simply increase their own profits.

“Tax credits were developed for good reason. Aiding a low- or middle-income family with credits toward child care or personal energy costs, or supporting a technology with immeasurable public benefit and minimal profitability, are great applications for a tax credit. There is also an argument for augmenting a struggling industry as a bridge to getting an entity or market off the ground. But tax credits should not be employed for the chief purpose of rewarding successful private companies in healthy markets.”

SB 1512 – Sprenger moved that in compliance with Article IV, Section 19 of the Oregon Constitution, and notwithstanding any provision of the Rules of the House of Representatives of the Seventy-eighth Legislative Assembly, the requirement that on its final passage each bill shall be read section by section, be suspended for the bill and that it be read by title only. Smith declared a potential conflict of interest and submitted the following statement:

"I am a member of a limited liability company that contracts with communities and counties to do economic and business development work in Eastern Oregon. As part of these contracts I am asked to manage several enterprise zones. Although SB 1565-B establishes a program that is different than enterprise zones, I could see how these communities or counties might ask me to assist them should they choose to participate in the program this bill establishes."

SB 1565 (B-Engrossed) – On passage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 56; Nays, 2 – Barton, Smith Warner; Excused, 2 – Davis, Olson. Bill passed.

SB 1565 (B-Engrossed) – Smith Warner requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the journal:

"I voted against Senate Bill 1565 because I believe it is too broad, goes too far, and does not require enough protection for local services. I do not believe that property tax exemptions should be used to reward successful private companies in healthy markets at the expense of our kids' schools, the safety of our streets, or quality care of Oregon's seniors.

"The industrial production facilities that would benefit from Senate Bill 1565 are located in small towns and rural areas across Oregon. This bill would allow city and county governments to let certain industries off the hook for paying their fair share in taxes, which leaves Oregon families in these rural areas to take on more and more of the burden. Worse yet, there is no guarantee that these tax exemptions will result in the creation of family-wage jobs.

"This bill is described as support for commercial brewers, vintners, and distillers, who are part of a popular and growing economic sector in Oregon. While I strongly support Oregon's value-added agricultural industries, I do not believe that property tax exemptions should be used to reward successful private companies in healthy markets such as this.

"Oregonians can no longer afford a piecemeal approach where tax breaks are handed out one at a time to those who ask the loudest. Instead, we need comprehensive reform that ensures fairness, accountability, and adequate funding for the services that support the strength and health of Oregon families and our economy."
