3.20 Requirements for Voting. (1) Each member within the bar when the question is stated and the member's name is called shall vote. No member shall be allowed to abstain from voting.

(2) If a member refuses to vote when the member's name is called, the ~~Speaker~~ presiding officer shall immediately call for the member's vote a second time. If the member again refuses to vote, the ~~Speaker~~ Speaker

~~Presiding officer shall read subsection (3) of this rule. The Speaker~~
~~Presiding officer shall then call for the member to announce the~~ ~~member's vote immediately. If the member fails to vote immediately after~~
~~this third request, the Speaker~~
~~Presiding officer shall state for the record:~~
 "The member's failure to vote constitutes an intentional violation of House Rule 3.20, subsection (1), and a high breach of decorum. The journal shall show that the Representative is censured for the violation; the clerk shall record the Representative's vote on the measure on which the member refused to vote as a 'yea;' and the member may also be subject to other penalties as the House may order."

(3) Any member's refusal to vote, as required by House Rules, shall be recorded in the journal as an intentional violation of House Rule 3.20, subsection (1), and a high breach of decorum. (4) No member, except by unanimous consent, shall be permitted to vote upon any question unless he or she is within the bar before the last name on an oral roll call was called or is within the bar before the electronic voting system is closed. No member shall vote or be allowed to change their vote after the presiding officer announces the result of the roll call by declaring the question has passed or failed to pass.

3.21 Announcement of Conflict of Interest. (1) When involved in an actual or potential conflict of interest, as defined by ORS 244.020, a member shall announce, on the floor or in the committee meeting, the nature of the potential conflict prior to voting on the issue giving rise to the potential conflict.

(2) The member's announcement of an actual or potential conflict of interest shall be recorded in the Journal or in the committee minutes. If the member desires to have any more than the announcement recorded, the member shall file in writing a statement of the nature of the potential conflict with the Chief Clerk or the committee assistant by 5:00 p. m. the next business day following the vote on the measure. The statement shall be limited to the substance of the oral explanation given on the floor or in committee.

3.26 Electronic Roll Call; Time, Changes. When a vote is taken using the electronic voting system, the members shall be allowed at least thirty seconds to vote, at the end of which time, the clerk will display the vote. After the individual votes have been displayed, any member desiring to change his or her vote may so announce. The presiding officer shall direct the Chief Clerk to make the proper entry into the electronic voting system.

3.28 Electronic Roll Call; Misuse, Penalties. No member shall vote for another member using the electronic voting system. No member shall tamper with, alter or attempt to alter the electronic voting system, or cause the electronic voting system to register a vote without the member personally depressing a voting button during each roll call vote. Any member who violates this rule may be punished as determined by the vote of 31 members. If a person not a member votes or attempts to vote for any member or violates a provision of this rule, he or she shall be barred from the floor of the House for the remainder of the session, and he or she may be punished further as determined by the vote of 31 members.

3.30 Voting by Presiding officer. The ~~Co-Speaker~~ shall vote whenever a roll call is required. ~~The Co-Speaker's~~ Speakers' names shall be called last on an oral roll call vote in alternating order.

3.35 Explanation of Vote. (1) Any member who wishes to explain their vote shall file the written explanation with the Chief Clerk by 5:00 p.m. the next business day following the vote on the measure. The vote explanation filed under this subsection must comply with subsection (2) of this Rule. If the explanation does not meet those requirements, the ~~Co-Speakers~~ may refuse to cause the explanation to be printed in the Journal.

(2) The vote explanation shall be germane to the subject and shall not reflect on the honor or integrity of any other member. ~~If the explanation does not meet the requirements of this subsection, the Speaker may call the member violating this subsection to order.~~

3.45 Printed Measures Required for Voting. No measure or amendment to a measure shall be finally voted on until it has been made available electronically or printed and placed on the desks of the members.

3.50 Third Reading Requirement. (1) No bill shall pass the House until after third reading and no measure shall be read more than once in any one day.

(2) A bill may be referred or rereferred to committee on third reading.

3.55 Call of the House. (1) Six members may demand a call of the House at any time before a roll call has begun.

(2) Upon a call of the House, the doors shall be closed until proceedings under the call have been terminated. No other business shall be transacted until the proceedings are so terminated.

(3) Upon a call of the House, the Sergeant at Arms shall cause all members who are not excused to come to the floor. If the Sergeant at Arms cannot locate any unexcused member, the Sergeant at Arms shall so report to the ~~Speaker~~ presiding officer who shall announce the fact to the members.

(4) All members must remain within the bar of the House until the vote is taken for which the call was made. However, when the House is waiting for an unexcused member and the presiding officer has announced the House is "at ease," the members may have access to the area behind the rostrum ~~included in the Speaker's office~~ until the presiding officer calls the House to order. Members must then return to within the bar.

(5) A call of the House shall be considered terminated when the question for which the call was invoked has been voted upon or when a motion to terminate the call is approved by forty members. The motion to terminate the call shall be in order when the Sergeant at Arms has reported that unexcused members cannot be returned within a reasonable time. Termination of the call under this subsection terminates the requirement that the Sergeant at Arms search for unexcused members. In the absence of a quorum after the report of the Sergeant at Arms is received, the House may terminate the call by the unanimous consent of the members present.

(6) Upon a call and until the proceedings are terminated, the presiding officer may direct the Sergeant at Arms to authorize members of the Senate, representatives of the news media and staff to leave or enter the chambers.

(7) Subsection (2) of this rule does not apply to the third floor gallery.

The Honorable John A. Kitzhaber, Governor of the State of Oregon, delivered the following Inaugural Address:

"So I guess none of you could get tickets to the game either.

"Before I begin I would like to pause to offer my heartfelt thanks, my own and on behalf of Oregon to Governor Ted Kulongoski. I don't believe that another person in the history of this state who found more ways to express his love for and commitment to Oregon and its people: Marine, Legislator, Insurance Commissioner, Attorney General, Supreme Court Justice and Governor.

"But these official positions only scratch the surface of his good works and those good works have made a great difference. Throughout his lifetime of service he has never for a moment forgotten his roots; lost his empathy for those who struggle or failed to preserve.

"Today may mark the end of his term as Governor, but if anyone thinks this is the end of his working for a better Oregon, well, they don't know Ted Kulongoski.

"He has governed well during very difficult times, marked by war as well as the recession.

"I am proud to have served with him.

"We are gathered here today at a sobering and humbling moment in Oregon's history: sobering because of the task before us; humbling because our fellow citizens have chosen us to find a way forward, and to forge a better future for our state and for our people.

"We face high unemployment; a divided state; and a projected budget deficit of $3.5 billion - about 20% of our General Fund. But it is not always going to be this way. And while those numbers will surely occupy all of us for the next six months, we cannot let them consume us. Because if we do this right - and if we do it together - we can navigate through this recession and this budget deficit to the brighter waters that lie beyond.

"We should not underestimate the magnitude of these challenges; but at the same time we should never - never - question our ability to successfully meet them. I am here to tell you that we can and that we will. Our future will be shaped by the choices we make over the next six months; and by the degree of civility with which we deal with one another as we address the difficult structural changes needed to put Oregon on a more solid and sustainable path.

"Over past week as I thought of what I would like to say this morning, I searched for an analogy or a metaphor which could capture both the responsibility and the opportunity which lies before us. And I found one in one of my fondest childhood memories: the camping trips that our family used to take during summer vacation.

"Led by my father we would sally forth, armed only with an ancient Coleman stove (which I still use) and a huge canvass umbrella tent supported by an elaborate metal infrastructure which could attract lightning from miles away. We camped on the shores of Bear Lake Utah, in the Snowy Range of Wyoming and in Yellowstone National Park.

"As I grew older my father and I left the umbrella tent behind and took our stove to the banks of the great rivers of western Oregon - rivers with names like Santiam, Umpqua and Rogue. It here along these rivers that I first met the salmon in its native habitat and developed my lifelong fascination with it and its life cycle. It was here at a place called Boulder Flats that I first witnessed these scarred and broken creatures, these brave warriors, planting the seeds of tomorrow; fulfilling their responsibility to the future.

"Because the life of the salmon is dedicated to the future - to nurturing, sustaining and giving to that which will follow. The salmon I grew to know as a boy were born in the gravel beds of the cold fast moving streams that tumble down the west slope of the Cascade Mountains. They migrate down these streams to the ocean where they mature and spend their adult lives until some inner voice tells them it is time to come home.

"On its final journey this remarkable creature travels thousands of miles, fighting its way upstream - leaping impossible falls and negotiating obstacles - in a single minded effort to return and spawn in the very gravel where it was born. And even those who never make it home - who die in the effort - give their bodies to the river and to the future; providing the nutrients essential to the survival of the next generation.

"I share this story because there is a similar voice calling to us - a voice that reminds us of the responsibility that each generation has to the next. Through the crucible of the recession and the deficit, we have the chance this session to set Oregon on a course to a very bright future.

"But today in Oregon - on our current courses - we are not fulfilling either our responsibilities to one another or to our children and grandchildren - because behind the immediate problem of our $3.5 billion budget deficit lies a deeply disturbing trend.

"The demand for public services is increasing because of an aging population and because of the current recession - more people on food stamps, more people on the Oregon health plan - while our public resources are shrinking - not just because of our high unemployment rate but also because the per capita income of those who are working has been eroding over the past decade. And the public resources we do have are increasingly being spent on corrections, health care and the human consequences of neglect, abuse while our investment in educating our children and building a better economy is decreasing. And this trend is accelerating.

"To understand the problem this creates we need to understand the two ways in which Oregon spends money. The first way we spend money is by investing in people - in children and families, in education and in workforce development - investments which make people's lives better; which give them a pathway to a family wage job; which give them a secure future; and which lift up our whole state. Educated citizens are more likely to succeed in the workplace and less likely to need social support services or to become involved in the criminal justice system.

“The other way we spend money is by taking care of problems after they have developed - in foster care, in public assistance, in the criminal justice system. Locking people up in our jail and prisons; and much of what we spend in our health care system and social support systems are expenditures - important in the sense that they deal with immediate problems - but problems that could be prevented if we increased the size and effectiveness of our investment in people.

“Today we are spending more on problems than we are investing in people and it is taking us in the wrong direction. We have our priorities backwards and the central challenge facing Oregon today is to reverse this trend.

“Doing so will require three steps.

“First we need to know where we are going - we need a destination. And here it is. By 2020, the end of this decade - by the time the children entering kindergarten this year graduate from high school - we should live in a state where our children are ready to learn before they get to school; where they have the resources and attention to learn and our teachers have the time and support to teach; where drop out rates are steadily falling and graduation rates are steadily rising; where all Oregon high school graduates are prepared to pursue a post-secondary education without remediation; and where 80 percent of them achieve at least two years of post-secondary education or training. We should live in a state that creates family wage jobs and career pathways that lead to those jobs; and where the average per capita income exceeds the national average in every region.

“I want to live in a state that looks like that - I think you do, too. And if together we commit ourselves to building that future; we can, over time, reverse our current trend of disinvestment in education; we can increase the per capita income of Oregonians; we can reduce incarceration rates and the cost of corrections; and we can reduce the cost of human service programs.

“The second step is to change the focus of our political debate from cutting budgets and raising taxes to a focus on growing the economy and redesigning how we deliver public services. Let's start with the economy.

“One week after the November election I launched six transition teams to lean into the immediate challenge of job creation. At the Oregon Business Summit last month I promised that before January 14 I would convene the Oregon Business Plan Steering Committee; labor and legislative leadership to develop actions plans to move this important work forward. That meeting will take place tomorrow when these six transition teams make their recommendations.

“I strongly support one of the central goals of the Oregon Business to create an average of 25,000 jobs a year through 2020 and to increase Oregon's per capita personal income to a level above the national average. And we must work hard to increase jobs and incomes throughout the state and for all Oregonians. It is important to recognize that adding 18 jobs in Coos Bay will have the same impact on that community as adding 500 jobs in Portland. Rural incomes need to grow as fast as metro incomes - and we must also commit ourselves to providing jobs and increasing incomes even faster in our communities of color where chronic unemployment is far higher than the statewide average.

“I will use the full power of the Governor's office to make this aggressive goal a reality and I want - and expect - to be held accountable by the citizens of Oregon for making significant progress during my term.

“Building the economy is essential to all we wish to achieve for our state. But we must also create a state government that supports the important public services on which our private sector economy depends; a budget that begins to shift our pattern of investments toward children, education and workforce development; and which is financially sustainable over the long term. We can, and must, manage through this budget crisis in a way that creates a solid foundation on which to build Oregon's future.

“Let's remember that this is not the first time Oregon's pattern of economic "boom and bust" has put us in this position. Historically, state government's response has been to cut from the current structure in lean times, and add back those cuts in good times - leaving the structure of how services are provided basically intact. It is a cycle that has repeated itself over and over again, leaving us where we are today.

“Think of Oregon as a house that was built decades ago. And think of Oregonians as a family who've lived in that house for generations. Now, the way the house was designed probably made sense at the time it was built. But over time the family and its needs and the way it lives have changed but the structure of the house hasn't.

“There are too many rooms and they aren't the right size. There's no insulation and the windows are drafty. And the cost of keeping this house up is more than the family can afford. The roof needs to be replaced and the siding is falling off. And at some point, simply patching things up isn't good enough. The point comes when you have to build a new house that's affordable and that's designed for what the family needs and the way the family lives.

“For better or for worse, the Great Recession has leveled the House of Oregon to its foundations and has given us the opportunity to rebuild it for the 21st century.

“This is the legislative session when we stop kicking the can down the road and start reshaping Oregon's state government. Instead of creating a budget that does less of the same in the hopes that we will later be able to do more of the same, I will be proposing a budget and structural reforms that will do things differently - and I will be announcing some of those this Friday.

“The final step in rebuilding the House of Oregon is to recognize that the kind of transformational change required can't happen overnight or over the course of a single biennium. It will require a sustained and consistent effort over the next eight to ten years, built on such a solid foundation that it can continue to move forward and be sustained regardless of changes in the executive branch or partisan changes in the makeup of the legislature. We have the opportunity and the responsibility to put that foundation in place during this session.

“Long-term changes require long-term planning and commitment. That means moving from a two-year budget to a ten-year budget frame; from a current service level budget to true outcome-based budgeting will provide us a roadmap and which can help inform us as to whether the individual choices we must make along the way moves us towards or steer us away from our long term objective.

“None of this is going to be easy. But if we do it right - and if we do it together - this session will be an historic one: one that future generations will look back on and see as the start of a bright and sustainable future for our state. I know that every one of the things I have outlined today can be achieved. But we can only do it if we work together.

“We have been placed in this room by the people of Oregon. Each of us traveled a different path to get here. We have our own life experiences, our own sense of the world, and yes, our own ideologies. And the political season that we navigated to bring us to this moment inflicted some bumps and bruises.

“But I am absolutely confident that we have at least one thing in common: we launched ourselves on this journey upstream because we love Oregon, and have made a personal commitment to doing what it takes to give it a better future.

“As we embark on this session each of us has a choice to make. We can remember that the common commitment, or we can allow the divisions of ideology to be magnified making progress difficult.

“We have seen that happen here; we have seen it in Washington DC; and as we saw it two days ago in Arizona, these divisions can turn tragically toxic.

“Let each of us choose to turn away from that path because the challenges we face dwarf those divisions. Let us debate; let us disagree; but let us never question each other's motives, patriotism or love for Oregon.

"The works we must complete - and the consequences if we fail to do so - are not Democratic, or Republican - they are Oregonian. It is clear what we have to do. It is clear that we do not have much time to do it. And it is clear that we can only succeed by keeping our common goals first, and working together as Oregonians.

"That is why I am here, and I know that is why you are here too. This is the moment to revive our great tradition of reaching across the divides of partisanship and geography to do the right thing for Oregon. Oregon expects that of us, and you can expect that of me.

"So today let us pledge to use the next six months to fulfill our responsibilities to those who will come after us: to meet this challenge and seize this opportunity - not as captives of the past or victims of the status quo - but as the proud architects of a new and brighter future.

"Today marks the beginning of our collective effort to do just that: to put our state back together and to build the solid foundation for that future. And I know that we will be successful.

"Somewhere in America a state needs to be able to demonstrate that we can weather this kind of challenge without losing our sense of community, without losing our commitment to one another, and emerge stronger and more united than where we began.

"Let's make that our state. Let's make that state Oregon.

"Blessing" was sung by the Youth Choir of Central Oregon, directed by Beth Basham.

Hicks requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

"My "No" vote is based on my concern that we are moving from a one-time fiscal obligation of up to $1.5 M to a recurring biennial obligation of that size. My concern is based on my reading of the bill itself and conversations with other legislators, including a committee member. I was not assured that the committee inquired as to what, if anything would happen if we did not approve this expenditure. I reviewed 23USC140(b) and did not see an enumerated requirement that this expenditure be made biennially. Clearly, the existing statute was satisfactory to the federal authorities because Oregon received the subject funds. Another legislator, who voted the bill out of committee, acknowledged a change may/would be appropriate in the Senate. This bill should not have been moved out of chamber without these basic inquiries being made."

Barnhart requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

"I would like to vote "yes" on a bill that would support development of high speed rail, electrical power distribution and the like. Unfortunately, HB 2700B also allows streamlined procedures to promote pipelines for LNG which Oregon definitely does not need. We need to provide the minimum intrusion of our farm land and other private lands necessary for Oregon's economic development and well being and nothing more. This bill is overly broad and needs repair before the legislature should pass it, hence my "no" vote."

Garrett requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

"I voted in support of HB 2700, which would allow a third party (i.e., someone other than the landowner) to apply for a fill/removal permit with the Division of State Lands.

"Under current law, before anyone other than the owner can apply for such a permit, one must either get the landowner's permission or have the government condemn the property through eminent domain. This creates a logistical quandary for large-scale infrastructure projects that involve multiple parcels of land and have complex permitting requirements, such as highways, rail lines, pipelines, and transmission lines. Under current law, a single holdout landowner can stall a project by preventing even the application for a permit. This creates a perverse incentive for developers to condemn property first—before they know the final route their project will take, or whether it will even be approved. That does not serve anyone's interests.

"HB 2700 was characterized by some opponents as a "pro-LNG" bill. Although I continue to have concerns about the environmental implications of proposed LNG facilities, HB 2700 should not be considered a proxy for that discussion. HB 2700 makes no change whatsoever to the substantive criteria for issuing a permit. HB 2700 will do nothing to authorize or accelerate an LNG pipeline (or any other project) that does not comply with the substantive requirements already existing in law. HB 2700 simply removes an arbitrary procedural barrier.

"HB 2700 is an important bill for my district. It is strongly supported by the City of Lake Oswego, which needs this legislation to complete a major new infrastructure project. The cities of Lake Oswego and Tigard have formed a partnership to construct a $230 million water system upgrade and expansion to provide drinking water to the roughly 90,000 residents and water service areas of both cities. Over 50,000 feet of new large diameter pipelines will run under the Willamette River and Oswego Lake. The project is vitally important to both cities in order to ensure an adequate supply of clean and safe drinking water for public health and economic development. Sharing capital and operating costs will help keep water rates affordable to the residents of both communities. Under current law, the cities could be required to obtain land in order to apply for the permit and, if the permit is denied, repeatedly obtain more land as the final route is determined. The passage of HB 2700 will ensure that projects like this one will be completed in an efficient and timely manner while retaining existing environmental regulations.”

Gelser requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“I inadvertently recorded my vote for HB 2700 as a “yes” in the electronic voting system. I intended to vote no, but discovered the error too late to change the vote. The ultimate outcome of the bill was not impacted by my vote. I remain opposed to HB 2700, and am filing this vote explanation to clarify my position on the issue.”

Clem requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“My vote on SB 301 was about providing tax relief and certainty to Oregonians who are struggling, particularly middle class families trying to find the money to send their kids to college. Given my past history as the Chair of the Oregon Student Assistance Commission, very few things are more important to me than making sure low income Oregonians can attend college. Regardless of one’s opinions on the other provisions of the bill, this tax deduction alone and the 50,000 Oregon families who need it made the vote, while tough, the right call for HB 21. I will commit to redouble efforts to find more dollars for school to minimize the damage our impending revenue shortages will do to the schoolchildren of this state.”

Garrett requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“I voted against HB 2787 in Committee and on the floor, but my vote should not be read to indicate any disagreement with the general purpose of the bill. Newspapers and the public should not be able to freely access the information contained in a concealed handgun license application. In 2009 I voted for a bill, HB 2727, that would have protected this information.

“HB 2787, however, goes further than HB 2727 and covers more than what I believe the proponents intended. HB 2727 was an exemption to the public records law, but HB 2787 is a blanket prohibition on almost all sharing of CHL application information. As a result, government agencies cannot share CHL application information between themselves unless the information is necessary for law enforcement purposes. This limit on intra-government sharing serves no purpose of its own and is not necessary to keep CHL application information private. I fear that it will have unintended consequences on public safety.”

J. Smith requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

"Please record the following explanatory statement regarding my vote on HB 2792.

"The Second Amendment merits in due. That is why I co-sponsored pro-gun legislation in the previous session. Indeed, I supported a bill similar to this one, which would have offered true reciprocity, and recognized gun permits provided they satisfied Oregon's standards.

"This bill however, would allow a resident of another state, who might not be permitted to carry in Oregon were he or she an Oregonian, to carry, simply by virtue of being a non-resident.

"In short, it would extend benefits to non-residents, without providing any benefit to Oregon residents. It does not limit recognition to residents of states which extend a similar right to Oregonians.

"The bill at best would give no benefit to our State. At worst, it could create dangers to Oregonians. Amendments were offered, which would have focused on Oregonians and Oregon standards, that would have enabled me to support the bill. They were turned down. Therefore, I voted no on this bill."

SB 638 - On passage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 49; Nays, 9 - Freeman, Hicks, Huffman, Johnson, Lindsay, Richardson, Sprenger, Thatcher, Thompson; Excused, 2 – Nolan, Weidner. Bill passed.

Thatcher requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“This is a very difficult issue because I know there are many Oregonians who are looking for work and need help making ends meet. However, I have a couple of concerns.

“First, the cost to employers needs to be considered. The Governor’s budget indicates an increase of over a half-billion dollars in employment taxes in the next biennium. The rising cost of providing these benefits has automatically raised the unemployment tax rate imposed on employers to the absolute maximum allowable by law and the head of the Employment Department expects the rate to stay at this level for the next 4-5 years. This will continue to place a burden on those who do the hiring because they will have to keep paying the maximum rate for a longer period of time to replenish the unemployment fund.

“Second, we need to take a look at whether a hand-up is becoming a hand-out. Perhaps some of these people have been off the job market for so long they are no longer employable and need retraining. Maybe we should look at more intensive, retraining programs at community colleges or other places. What about allowing employers to keep the tax money and use it to retrain or even hire new workers which would lower the overall unemployment rate.

“The big question is; after six weeks...then what? We need to find ways to get at the root of the problem, wherever it exists, not just say we “did something”; when, in reality we did very little.

“There is an old Chinese proverb that says “give a man a fish, you feed him for a day. Teach a man to fish, you feed him for a lifetime. In this case you give a person unemployment benefits, you feed him another six weeks, teach a person to be employable, you feed him for a lifetime.”

Bailey requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“I would like to record an explanation for my no vote for HB 3207.

“This bill requires public employers to interview all service veterans who meet the minimum qualifications for a civil service position, which does not include individuals who have served their country through other types of non-combat service. I would have supported a bill that equally honors all forms of national service.”

Read requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“With respect to House Bill 3207, I would like to explain the reasoning for my nay vote. I want to ensure that veterans have every opportunity to advance in civilian life; however, the bill’s definition of a veteran is ambiguous and places many individuals who have served our nation in other ways in a gray area. For example, my father served his draft requirement in a school in Germany during the Vietnam War. I believe that there are many ways to serve one’s country and that the service of those who do serve should not be discounted. On this basis, I dissent.”

Kennemer requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

"I voted for SB 5552 because I believe it is in the best interest of our state in at least two ways. 1) It is an improvement over the Governor's proposal and 2) it prioritizes education properly as our first budget decision and is an effort to stretch inadequate funds across all our state's pressing needs."

Hoyle requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

"I would like to formally submit the following vote explanation for SB 5552:

"I voted in support of SB 5552, because I think it is a realistic funding floor for K-12 education for the upcoming biennium. Passing this budget gives us a dedicated, guaranteed level of funding that our school districts can count on.

"I was elected to make hard choices and do what is in the best interest of the people in my district. This was one of many difficult choices we will have to make this session. The state of Oregon has a $3.5 billion budget deficit and we are forced to make dramatic cuts to services across the board.

"Like many of my constituents, I currently have children in public schools. I understand the serious impact that cuts to education have on parents and students across our state. Oregon's economic future depends on a strong education system and continued disinvestment in our schools is unacceptable. For too long we have only fought over funding for education, and failed to take a hard look at how we can improve the system that receives it. I believe we can do better, and I will continue to fight for funding and reform."

Sheehan requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

"I voted no on the bottle bill expansion because after four decades of success, the mechanism of deposit and redemption has overtaken the policy objective of encouraging recycling. Thanks to the original bottle bill, two generations of Oregonians have had recycling permanently tied to our culture and lifestyle. As access to curbside recycling increases, redemption of deposits will continue to decrease regardless of redemption centers or increases in deposit amounts. Convenience drives recycling, so rather than expanding the bottle bill to feed the redemption mechanism, we should invest in making it easier for Oregonians to recycle a much wider variety of materials at their curb."

HB 3704 Enrolled (2010 Special Session) – Message from the Governor announcing he vetoed on April 8, 2010.

April 8, 2010

The Honorable Kate Brown
Secretary of the State
136 Capitol
900 Court Street NE
Salem, OR 97301

Dear Secretary Brown:

I am returning Enrolled House Bill 3704 unsigned and disappointed.

House Bill 3704 allows two or more private beverage distributors to form a cooperative in Oregon to facilitate the collecting and processing of recyclable beverage containers under Oregon's landmark bottle bill. Significantly, the measure requires that the cooperative must service a majority of the dealers (the retail sellers of recyclable containers) in the state.

I have long supported efforts to expand and enhance Oregon's bottle bill and increase the overall rate of recycling in Oregon. My concern is that the practical impact of this bill may actually hinder consumer recycling.

I acknowledge that Enrolled House Bill 3704 is a better business model in terms of economics and convenience for distributors and dealers. However, I am concerned that the business model envisioned in HB 3704 will make it less convenient for the consumer to recycle. The consumer will be limited in their ability to obtain a refund or credit at the neighborhood retailer. Instead, the consumer will put his or her recyclables in a bag, drive to a redemption center, wait in line to drop off the bag, receive a credit for the recyclables, and then save that credit to use at a later time or travel back to the neighborhood retailer shop.

In addition to consumer inconvenience, this recycling model would likely require the consumer to have a car, and requires more traveling to and from the redemption center, more time in traffic on our streets, more CO2 emissions, and more time away from home.

The argument that this bill may provide an incentive for distributors and dealers to support an expansion of the bottle bill is a hopeful one. My question is: why isn't such expansion in the bill before me?

There are more pieces to be added to his proposal before it will be good public policy that benefits all stakeholders, especially the consumer.

Also, a serious legal concern has been raised about whether HB 3704, in combination with likely actions of competitor businesses, would violate federal antitrust law by restraining competition to the private participants in this industry. If federal antitrust litigation begins, it would be lengthy and expensive, and create a roadblock to beverage container recycling efforts for which Oregon has gained world-wide commendation.

Finally, I write to comment and urge caution of an issue that has arisen with each of the bills I have vetoed today. All three bills proposed changing a long-standing Oregon public policy. I have a serious concern as to whether the Special Session in February provided opportunity for citizens and interested stakeholders to be adequately involved in the development of these proposed policy changes.

The public give-and-take is critical to crafting and amending legislation by allowing all interested parties to be involved in the development of public policy. I believe we must always be open and transparent when we are proposing changes to long-established Oregon policy, especially in a short legislative session.

The Regular Session in 2011 will give all parties, including the public, a more meaningful opportunity to be part of the legislative session.

Sincerely,
Theodore R. Kulongoski
Governor

Hicks requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

"My "No" vote on this bill is due to my concern about who retains the authority to shift general fund dollars between executive branch departments. The Department of Justice gets to set the rate for legal fees that other departments are required to pay for legal services. The legal funds used by other agencies generally are assigned by the legislature as general funds in their budgets. The DOJ has the capability to change more in legal fees than its operating expenses require. Thus the DOJ can allocate more other funds, which began life at the client agency as General funds, than it needs. Under this bill the DOJ can then reallocate what started off as general funds at the client agencies back into the big, legislative general fund, without legislative approval. The potential for this ability to be abused for political purposes, (eg. "I gave $$$ back to the legislature") now exists where before it did not, and there is no requirement for the DOJ to return to the legislature to provide an accounting. Only the legislature should have the ability to assign or reassign general funds between departments."

“On Tuesday, May 17, the House voted to pass SB 5524, allocating $2,338,676 for the Long Term Ombudsman’s 2011-2013 biennium budget. Hoyle requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

"I voted in support of Senate Bill 204, because I believe in the basic principles encompassed in this legislation. However, I have some serious concerns around the timing of the implementation. Within this bill, changes with respect to methodology around reimbursement of provider rates will be implemented nine months earlier than originally proposed. This is an extremely short timeline and I do not believe that this gives hospitals sufficient time to adjust their budgets to the upcoming changes. I would have preferred the option to vote on an Oct. 1, 2012 implementation date.

"I firmly believe that in order to have true transformation within Oregon's health care system which will lower costs and provide better access, all stakeholders must work together on mutually acceptable outcomes when possible."

"I wish to explain my vote on SB 989 on the House Floor.

"I applaud the hard work that went into the first successful legislative redistricting plan in over 30 years, however, it is overshadowed by the flaws in SB 989. I fear that in the closing days of negotiating the plan, partisanship seeped in as evidenced by the last minute party play in at least two legislative districts and the blatant division of communities of interest in at least one other district. The legislature can do better, and thus my "no" vote represents the demand from voters that we do better."

Hicks requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

"Since this bill passed the House, when I voted "yes", I have had an opportunity to further consider the issue. The recent drift in legislative policy regarding veterans is well intentioned but tending now toward the excessive. Veterans in general serve their nation not for access to special treatment, but for the sense of satisfaction that comes inherently through public services. As the only veteran of the Iraq War currently serving in the House, I feel a genuine appreciation for the value and significance of our veterans. However, creating a statutory employment discrimination claim veers slightly too far toward making veterans a special class, akin to the disabled for example, and away from a simple, "Thank you," which is amply sufficient for most of those considered."

Bailey requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

"I would like to record an explanation for my vote on SB 347B.

"I voted in favor of SB 347 because the elements of the bill related to the safety of victims of domestic violence are simply too important. While I have concerns about the process and some of the provisions, I've received information that a public records request has already been made and this bill is urgently needed to protect victims of domestic violence."

Barnhart requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

"I voted in favor of SB 347 despite the fact that the bill contains provisions regarding applicants for and holders of licenses to carry concealed handguns from disclosure as public records because the elements of the bill related to the safety of victims of domestic are simply too important."

Dembrow requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

"I voted against SB 347 on the floor today even though I strongly support the original version of the legislation, which provided much-needed protections for victims of domestic violence. The language regarding concealed handgun permit holders that was amended into this bill came from legislation that I previously voted against on the House floor, and was unrelated to the substance of the original SB 347."

Doherty requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

"I voted against SB 347 because I believe it is wrong to stuff a bill that was about the safety of those living in the shadow of domestic violence, with an irrelevant provision regarding public records disclosure requests for applicants of and holders of concealed handgun licenses."

Hoyle requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

"I voted in support of SB 347 because I believe strongly in protecting the identities of victims domestic violence and their families. I was not happy that an unrelated issue relating to concealed weapons permits was put into this bill for political reasons. I am a strong supporter of the Second Amendment of our Constitution but felt these issues should have been vetted separately and not put into a bill about domestic violence. The original piece of the bill relating to the safety of victims of domestic violence is simply too important to vote against."

Komp requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

"I voted against SB 347 because I find it objectionable that a bill principally about the safety of victims of domestic violence has been amended to contain provisions regarding applicants for and holders of licenses to carry concealed handguns from disclosure as public records."

HB 2212 – Message from the Governor announcing he vetoed on June 13, 2011.

June 13, 2011

The Honorable Bruce Hanna
Co-Speaker of the House
900 Court Street NE, H-269
Salem, OR 97301

The Honorable Arnie Roblan
Co-Speaker of the House
900 Court Street NE, H-295
Salem, OR 97301

Dear Co-Speaker Hanna and Co-Speaker Roblan:

"I am returning Enrolled House Bill 2212 unsigned and disapproved.

"HB 2212 prohibits floral order facilitators from receiving or charging consideration for individual orders, with certain exceptions. In summary, the bill limits the price that a floral order facilitator can receive for consideration to a specified percentage of the overall amount paid by the consumer, depending on whether the facilitator receives the order from a direct provider or from another floral order facilitator.

"The bill has a commendable goal which I fully support: protecting Oregon flower shop owners from uncertain or exorbitant pricing from floral order facilitators. Unfortunately, HB 2212 has several constitutional implications – none of which were raised by opponents to this legislation during the public hearing process.

"First, this measure impacts commerce that occurs entirely outside the borders of Oregon, and thereby runs afoul of the Dormant Commerce Clause in Article 1, Section 8 of the United States Constitution. Second, the bill's limitations on the consideration to be paid affects private contracts between floral order facilitators and their members, which likely violates the Contracts Clause of the Oregon and United States Constitutions.

"Because a court would likely find Enrolled House Bill 2212 to be unconstitutional, I am returning it unsigned and disapproved.

"I want to make it clear, however, that the issue this bill was introduced to address still remains. Therefore, I am committed to convening a work group in the interim to consider alternative approaches to important issues raised by the bill, and I look forward to including interested legislators in that process."

Sincerely,
John A. Kitzhaber, M.D.
Governor

Kotek requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

"I voted for SB 766 because it has the potential to spur economic growth by streamlining the permitting process for industrial projects in Oregon. This bill has the necessary sideboards for projects eligible for approval and will continue the permit requirements of our current land use system.

"I expect that the public process of projects seeking approval via the Economic Recovery Review Council will be robust. Oregonians must have the opportunity to provide input on land use decisions, and I will watch the implementation of this Council carefully to ensure that procedural rights are protected."

J. Smith requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

"SB 766 addresses critical competing interests, and my decision to vote yes was a difficult one.

Anything that reduces the power of neighborhood associations and local groups in land use decisions concerns me greatly, as does anything that reduces Oregon's ability to be an international beacon of sustainability. At the same time, Oregon - along with the whole of the United States - needs to reinvigorate our manufacturing base. We need economic development initiatives that invest in Oregon companies and entrepreneurs, and we need an economic development strategy that goes beyond tax breaks and deregulation.

"Stakeholders worked together diligently to balance the competing interests and make SB 766 a near-consensus proposal. Labor groups, business groups, and land use groups like 1000 Friends of Oregon came together to support the bill. That, combined with the Governor's prioritization of the issue in his economic plan, ultimately persuaded me to vote yes.

"I hope it works!"

Lindsay requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“I would like to submit for the record an explanation of my “no” vote on June 22, 2011 for Senate Bill 480.

“Selfreliance is the ability, commitment, and effort to provide the spiritual and temporal necessities of life for self and family.

As Oregonians become self-reliant, they are also better able to serve and care for others. We can’t help others if our cupboards and wallets are empty.

“Oregonians are responsible for their own spiritual and temporal well-being. Blessed with the gift of agency, they have the privilege and duty to set their own course, solve their own problems, and strive to become self-reliant. Oregonians do this with the labor of their own hands.

“When Oregonians are doing all they can to provide for themselves but cannot meet their basic needs, they should first turn to their families for help. If this is not sufficient, they should turn to local communities and places of faith. When this is not sufficient or feasible, Oregon State stands ready to help. This bill puts these priorities backward.”

J. Smith requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

"I voted yes. I had voted yes on the initial bill. Despite some recent reservations, I chose to keep my vote consistent by voting yes on concurrence, and I stand by it.

"Conservationists have said that the projects benefits for the local ecology based on the restoration work that is planned. The State's major land use organization, 1000 Friends, was not opposed to the bill. I hope that this bill turns out to be a win-win proposition for the economy and the environment.

"There is still cause for concern. There should be a high bar to expanding land use requirements in the context of a specific project. Until we pass a comprehensive bill on destination resorts, we are stuck with addressing projects one by one.

"Given the apparent positive impacts on both the environment and the economy, I determined that this project cleared that bar. At the same time, this bill makes it only more urgent that we pass comprehensive resort legislation in the future.

Cannon requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“Please accept the following as an explanation for my no votes on HB 5529 and HB 5530 on June 23, 2011.

“Today I voted no on HB 5529, which lays out the Oregon Health Authority budget, and on HB 5530, which lays out the fees that go along with that budget.

“As a member of the Health Care Committee since 2007, I have worked on health care reform and believe in the mission and possibilities provided by the new Oregon Health Authority. My no vote on these bills has little to do with the work of the agency, nor is it meant to be critical of the efforts to appropriately fund public health programs in a tough budgetary time. Instead, my vote is against a dramatic increase in fees for participants in the Oregon Medical Marijuana Program.

“The budget proposed several months ago assumed $5.7 million in unidentified fee increases to replace the drained General Fund dollars in the Public Health budget. With very limited options, the Ways & Means Human Services subcommittee recommended increasing the Oregon Medical Marijuana Program fees to make up that gap. The benefit of this plan is it will put $8.7 million into important public health services like the Drinking Water Program, enforcing drinking water quality standards for public water systems, Emergency Medical Services (EMS), including the mobile training unit and EMS for Children, CCare, immunization, WIC, and School-Based Health Centers, among others.

“While I understand that the subcommittee felt compelled to make this decision, the increases for OMMP participants are not incremental, but rather exponential. Oregon voters have spoken: marijuana has a legitimate medical purpose. If we are going to treat it as medication, then we have just decided to increase the cost of accessing medication ten-fold for some medical marijuana patients.

“In the past week, I have received dozens of emails and phone calls from constituents on this issue. For my district, I have to vote no on this fee bill because it unfairly funds crucial programs with the dollars of sick people.”

Dembrow requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

“I voted for SB 5529 on June 23, 2011 because I understand the budget needs of the Oregon Health Authority and support its work. However, I regret the steep increase in fees for the Oregon Medical Marijuana Program. The fee will double from $100 to $200; only those on SSI will be allowed access to discounted assistance and therefore only some people will be able to afford the increase; it also has the potentiality to increase the grower’s fee. Inasmuch as there are Oregonians who rely on medical marijuana for medical needs, decreasing or deterring patient access by making the program unaffordable is objectionable.”

SB 5530 – Read third time. Carried by Kotek. On passage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 38; Nays, 22 – Bailey, Barnhart, Boone, Brewer, Cannon, Clem, Conger, Doherty, Esquivel, Holvey, Hoyle, Johnson, Kennemer, Krieger, Lindsay, Matthews, Parrish, Schaufler, Sheehan, J. Smith, Thatcher, Wand. Bill passed.

“My “No” vote on HB 5030, the DHS budget, reflects neither a criticism of the agency nor a lack of appreciation of the hard work of the subcommittee in their attempt to find the dollars to meet the considerable needs of Oregon’s most vulnerable residents. Rather, it reflects my belief that we must do a better job of funding the JOBS program, either through an enhanced DHS budget or through the use of Workforce Development funds, or both.

“Our biggest problem with unemployment is with those Oregonians who are chronically unemployed or underemployed. If we are to break the cycle of generational poverty in this state, we must restore funding to this program, which has an excellent track record of getting people the skills that they need and the initial employment that they need to move from dependence to self-sufficiency for themselves and their families.”

Doherty requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“I voted against HB 5030, because I feel this is not nearly enough money for the Department of Human Services to carry out its important work.”

Kotek requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

“I voted no on Senate Bill 817 because I am uncomfortable restricting our ability to wisely use resources in the future by making obligations in the form of unproven tax credits today. The bill aims to defer costs of the credit by spreading it out along future tax years. Yet, with the unpredictability of our revenue system, I am not confident that this is a wise obligation to make.

“Reflecting on the choices we made in the budget this year, the importance of maximum budgetary flexibility is clear. From my perspective as a co-chair of the Ways and Means Subcommittee on Human Services, the level of cuts we were forced to make this year are deeply troubling. I believe that it is not fair or wise to tie up resources that could result in deeper cuts to essential programs in the future. We do not have strong evidence that this credit will result in increased economic activity in our state, and I am unwilling to wager future revenue on that chance.

“There is no denying that Oregon needs jobs. This economic downturn has hit our state harder than most, and we are still struggling to rebound. Small businesses in Oregon have a hard time accessing the capital they need to start or expand their businesses. We must look for creative, innovative ways to free up capital that will allow for job growth to occur, but we must be prudent about the way that we spend our state resources in spurring this growth. Supplementing the federal New Markets Tax Credit program with state resources has not been sufficiently proven as an effective way to create jobs through small business investment.”

HB 2244 (B-Engrossed) - Pursuant to notice given yesterday, Hunt moved House reconsider the vote by which House failed to concur in Senate amendments and repass bill. Motion carried, the vote being: Yeas, 60. Vote reconsidered.

In compliance with Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure, Section 468, subsection 2, the question immediately recurs on concurrence and repassage.

HB 2244 (B-Engrossed) - Holvey moved House concur in Senate amendments and repass bill as amended by the Senate. On repassage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 60. Bill repassed.

HB 2726 (B-Engrossed) - Thompson moved House concur in Senate amendments and repass bill as amended by the Senate. On repassage of the bill the vote was: Yeas, 31; Nays, 29 - Barker, Barnhart, Berger, Beyer, Boone, Buckley, Cannon, Clem, Cowan, Dembrow, Doherty, Frederick, Garrard, Garrett, Gelser, Greenlick, Harker, Holvey, Hoyle, Hunt, Komp, Kotek, Matthews, Nathanson, Nolan, Read, J. Smith, Tomei, Co-Speaker Roblan. Bill repassed.

Bailey requested the following explanation of his vote be entered in the Journal:

"The Senate Amendments to HB 2726 create a small exception for a few smoke shops, which are narrowly defined, and cigar bars. While, more importantly, the bill places limitations on the uncontrolled growth of hookah lounges, which have proliferated across my district in particular and pose a threat to the health of children."

Tomei requested the following explanation of her vote be entered in the Journal:

"I voted "no" on concurrence to the Senate amendments in House Bill 2726-B because I believe that the amended version does more harm than good to Oregon's smoke-free workplace law. House Bill 2726-A, which I voted for, took good steps forward in eliminating hookah lounges where many teens first begin their smoking habits. However, in the B-Engrossed version of the bill, an amendment was added that removed the prohibition on smoke shops not housed in stand-alone buildings. This change would allow for the proliferation of smoke shops in malls, mixed use commercial/residential buildings and other settings with shared walls. The exposure to secondhand smoke that this change creates is a threat to the health of workers, families, and other individuals not actively choosing to expose themselves to smoke shop air. In addition, House Bill 2726-B changed the date of the Indoor Clean Air Act and the operative date of the prohibition on hookah lounges. These date changes would effectively "grandfather in" smoke shops that operate now and allow the proliferation of hookah lounges over the next 18 months. The Oregon Health Authority estimates that this may result in the certification of many as 100 new applicants, an increase in this threat to public health that I find unacceptable.

"Oregon's smoke-free workplace law is an essential protection for workers and the public against the dangers of secondhand smoke. House Bill 2726-B weakens the current law and sets a dangerous precedent."
