Communications and Relations

OPRD's approach to communications and relations with Tribes shall be made at four levels:

Government-to-Government

General consultation

Routine consultation

Project-by-project compliance

Government-to-Government

The OPRD Director and the Assistant Director for Heritage shall meet periodically with Tribes to evaluate the effectiveness of this policy, to communicate issues of mutual interest, to identify possible collaborations, and to establish high level priorities and initiatives.

General Consultation

The OPRD Tribal Coordinator shall consult in person, at least every two years to coincide with the biennium budget cycle, with each Oregon Tribe regarding identified programs and work of mutual interest, in general.

Western Lily Restoration Project- Harris Beach State Park

Routine Consultation

OPRD staff will make a good faith effort to consult with Tribes on those projects that affect Tribes. While the OPRD Tribal Coordinator is the primary point of contact for OPRD, it is the department's goal to have park field managers develop knowledge of and positive working relationships with Tribes directly.

Project-by-Project Compliance

OPRD staff shall make a good faith effort to consult with Tribes.

Consultation is triggered most frequently by projects that are submitted for review and approval in OPRD's OPRIS (aka HUB) database system.
