Majority Leader Julie Fahey Statement on Revenue Forecast

SALEM, Ore. - Today, Majority Leader Julie Fahey (D-West Eugene & Veneta) issued the following statement after the release of the latest quarterly state economic and revenue forecast:

“Overall, today’s Revenue and Economic Forecast is news that we should all feel good about. Oregon’s economy remains healthy, with both business and personal income forecasted higher than expected. These forecasts show the value of the Oregon Legislature’s focus on supporting small businesses and working families, the true pillars of our state’s economy.

“At the same time, we can all still see and feel the financial pain and instability that some in our communities are experiencing. Over the coming weeks and months, House Democrats will stay focused on using the opportunity of this legislative session to address the most pressing issues facing Oregonians, including housing, homelessness, community safety, and getting our kids’ education back on track. As always, our budget decisions will reflect these critical bipartisan priorities.”
