House Republicans Respond To Legislative Budget Framework

Salem, OR – Representative Greg Smith (R-Heppner), who serves as the House Republican Caucus Budget Chair, issued the following statement in response to the legislative budget framework released today by the Joint Ways and Means Committee:

“The House Republican Caucus is pleased to see the budget framework laid out for the Legislature and for the people of Oregon, and we will examine it in detail in the coming months. We know that passing a state budget that pays our bills and delivers essential services to Oregonians will require bipartisan cooperation. However, we will not support tax increase proposals that hurt working families, small businesses and rural communities. We look forward to being a part of these budget discussions.”
