House Republicans Welcome Matt Bunch to the Caucus

SALEM, Ore. — House Republicans welcome Matt Bunch to the House Republican Caucus following his successful bid for House District 51. Born and raised in eastern Oregon, and an alumnus of Oregon State University, Bunch built an impressive career in insurance and financial management, while also giving back to his community as a development officer for the Oregon FFA Foundation and a bus driver for the Oregon City School District. Bunch and his wife of 40 years, Maryjane, have three children and four grandchildren. His deep ties to Clackamas County and diverse work experience and community involvement make him a valuable addition to the Caucus.

“I congratulate Matt Bunch on his victory in representing House District 51, and I look forward to working with him in the upcoming session,” said House Republican Leader Lucetta Elmer (R-McMinnville). “Bunch’s love of Oregon, his focus on family and community, and his passion for fiscal responsibility, local governance, and improving public safety and education resonates with many of our shared values in the House Republican Caucus, and we’re excited for him to join us.”
