Statement on Special Session; Legislative and Regulatory Recommendations

Salem, ORE. – Today, the Oregon House Republican Caucus issued a statement on Special Session, including recommendations on addressing the health and economic needs of Oregon:

House Republicans are committed to working with our colleagues in the legislature, the governor's office and our federal delegation to meet the needs of Oregon families, businesses and local communities by supporting bi-partisan efforts to improve access to resources which protect public health. As recommendations are developed by the Joint Committee on Coronavirus Response, House Republicans have compiled additional concepts for consideration and continue to support the work of the Joint Committee in anticipation of a special session of the legislature in the near term.

A Special Session should be focused on the health of our citizens, providing emergency-based regulatory relief, financial assistance, and consumer and worker protections to shore up the foundations of a prosperous, stable economy so our businesses, employees and families are able to achieve a full recovery after COVID-19 has been contained.
