Statement by House Speaker Tina Kotek on Quarterly Economic and Revenue Forecast

“Today’s economic and revenue forecast is the product of a strong economy that has grown steadily over the past few years. While the economy is booming, it continues to be clear that our state’s schools, health care, and critical services deserve more.

“Especially in an economic boom, we need to invest in our future. Investments are only effective when they are predictable. In particular, our schools and teachers deserve stable and sufficient resources so that Oregonians can be proud of our institutions and our students will be ready to contribute to our economy and be successful. The Joint Committee on Student Success is laying the groundwork for us to meet our commitment to students.”
