Stable Economy Presents Opportunity to Address Top Shared Priorities in Legislative Session

SALEM, Ore. – Today, the Office of Economic Analysis released and presented to Oregon legislators its March revenue forecast and economic outlook, which showed Oregon's economy as stable.

House Speaker Dan Rayfield and Senate President Rob Wagner are releasing the following statements:

“Republicans and Democrats are united in our commitment to increase housing supply and homelessness supports, helping families and individuals struggling with addiction, and investing in Oregon’s future,” said Speaker Dan Rayfield (D-Corvallis). “This stable forecast coupled with a decade of good budgeting gives us the certainty and resources we need to invest in the priorities Oregonians care about most.”

“Oregon’s economy is stable — our labor market is up and productivity is better than the national rate. The Legislature can and will allocate needed resources toward our biggest shared priorities: improving housing affordability, tackling homelessness, and fixing the drug and addiction crisis,” said Senate President Rob Wagner (D-Lake Oswego). “There are never enough resources for all of the state's needs, but we are committed to using tax dollars wisely to address issues Oregonians are facing every day."
