Sen. Riley seeks members for Small Business Advisory Council Lawmaker focuses on building small businesses in Oregon

SALEM – Sen. Chuck Riley, D-Hillsboro, is seeking new members for his Senate District 15 Small Business Advisory Council.

The Small Business Advisory Council – which comprises small business owners from throughout Oregon Senate District 15 – meets monthly to discuss issues affecting small businesses in the district and around the state. The council also advises Sen. Riley on what he can do to assist small businesses. A former small business owner, himself, Sen. Riley understands that it takes a lot of hard work for small businesses to succeed.

“Small businesses are the backbone of our state’s economy,” Riley said. “Our statewide number of jobs has been growing like gangbusters over the past several years. We need to continue finding ways to support small businesses so they can continue growing and hiring more Oregonians. When it comes to economic development, the best jobs are home-grown.”

For more information or to express interest in serving on the council, those interested can contact Sen. Riley’s office at 503-986-1715 or email sen.chuckriley@oregonlegislature.gov.
